SCHOOL CHANGES IN SHORT HISTORY

Changes have developed at Bryan Adams since Dallas first heard a voice from the mighty Cougars twelve years ago. Eight hundred eighteen students and thirty-nine teachers began traditions by writing the alma mater, choosing the mascot, and naming the annual and newspaper. Bryan Adams has changed, and with this change came a variety of clubs and activities as well as more modern educational facilities. Today 3575 students make their proud cries heard from the largest high school in Texas. Students may participate in clubs from Honor Society to U.F.O. Club. Today's enrollment makes possible such varied courses as German, Power Mechanics, and Advanced Placement Courses to prepare the students for an ever-changing world. The annual staff would like to dedicate the 1969 el Conquistador to the idea of change and to those who contribute to this progress.

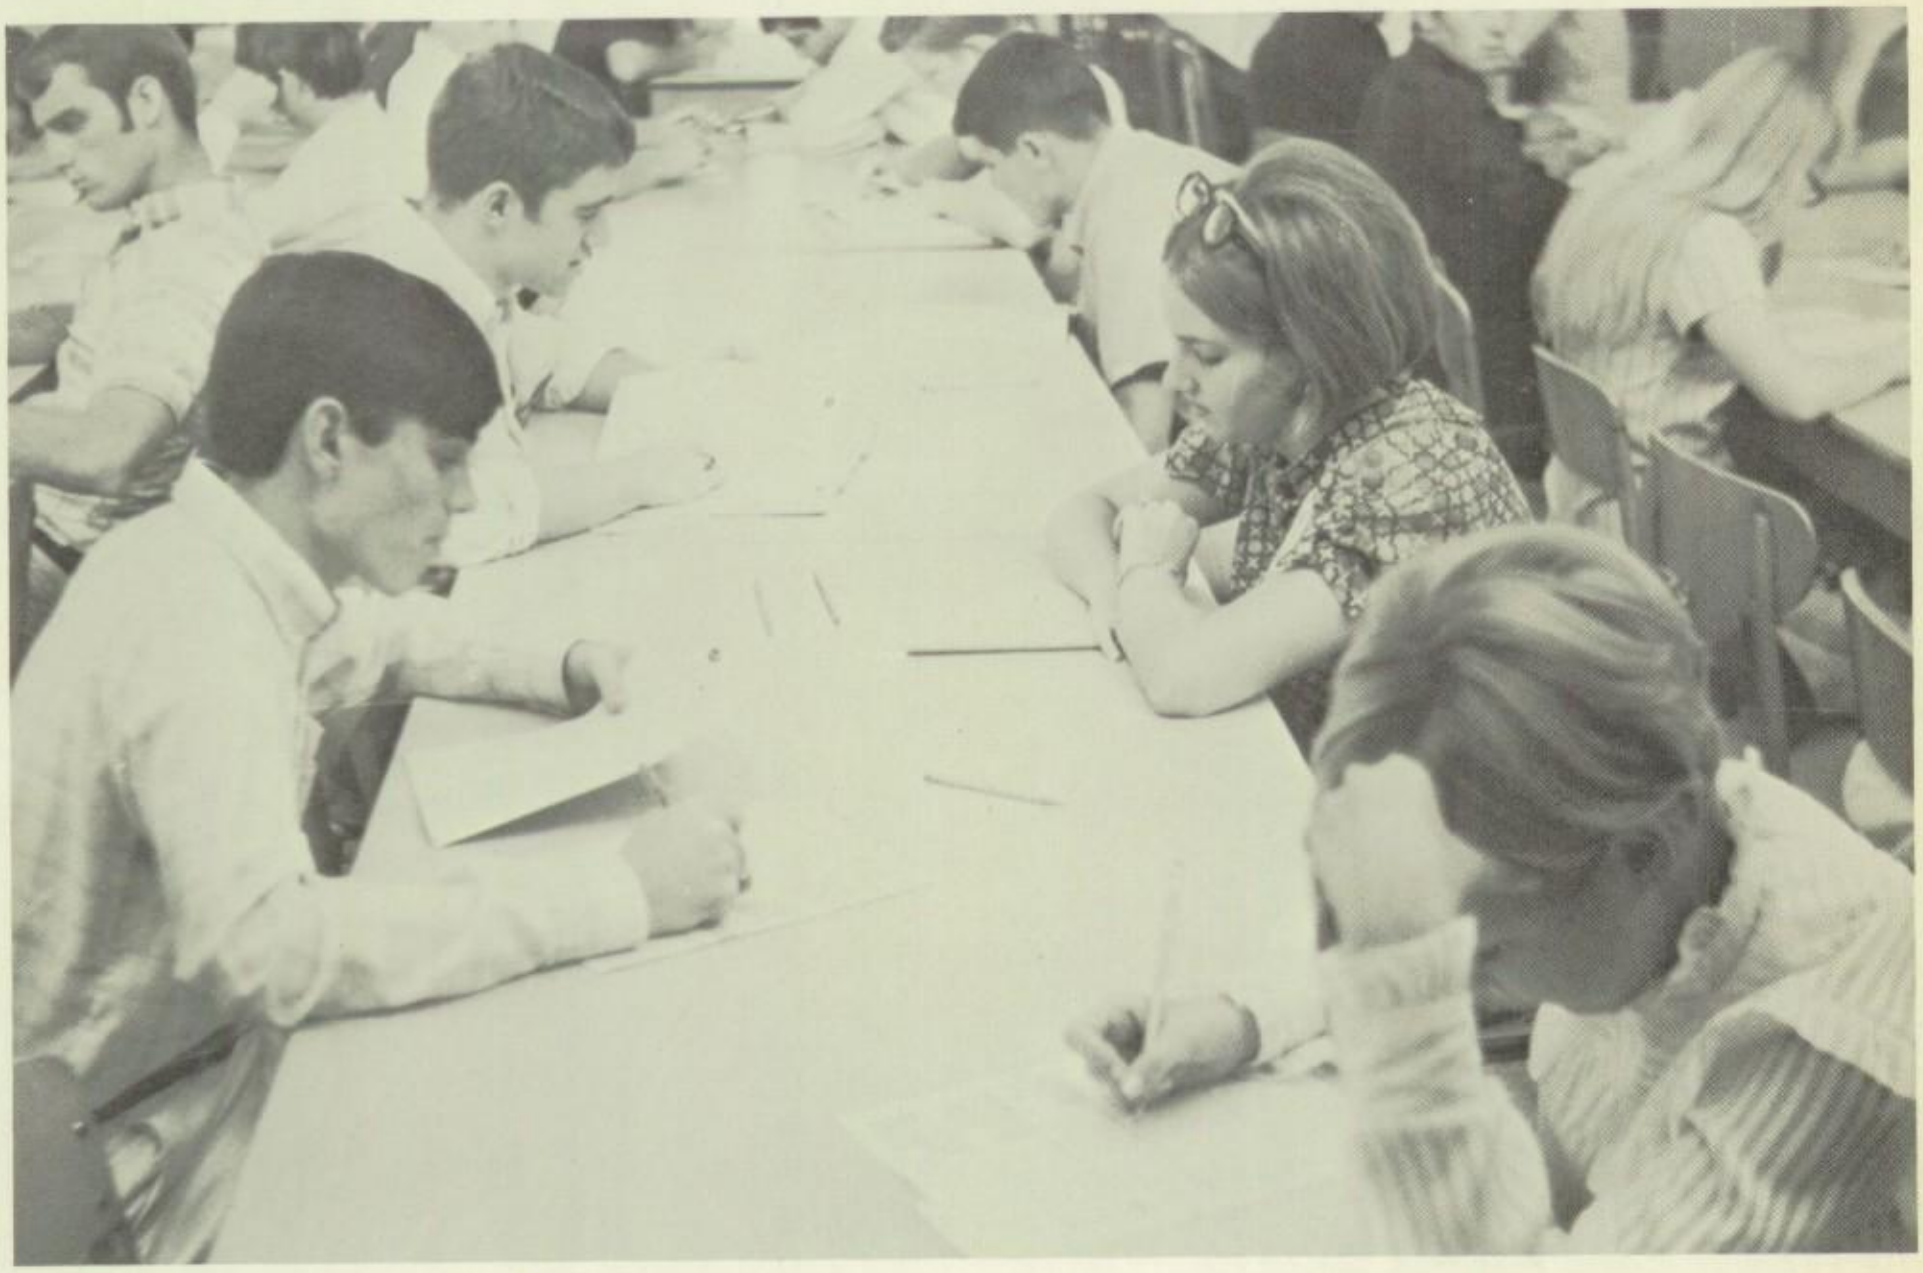
SOPHOMORES ENVY AND RESPECT SENIOR STATUS

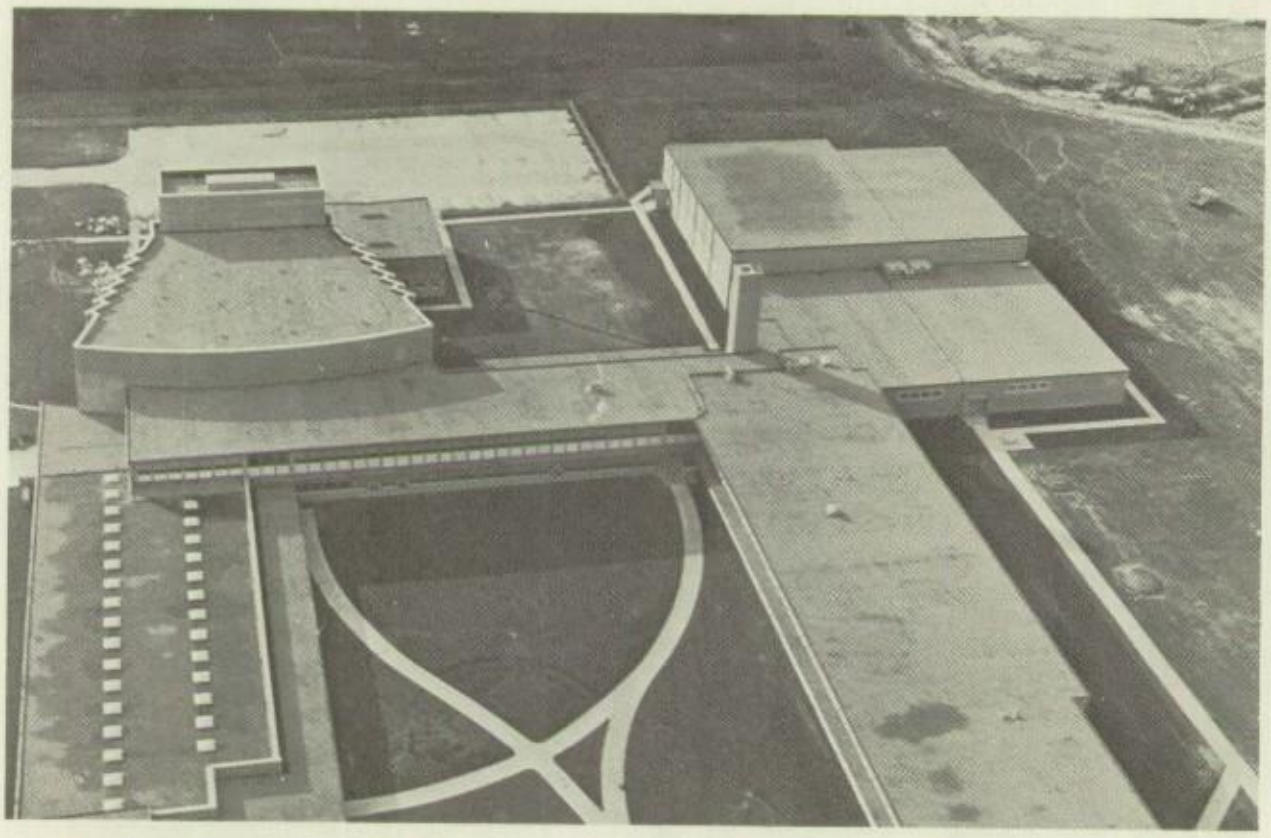
Shouts of "Cougar Books—only thirty-five cents" fill the entrance hall of Bryan Adams as the sophomores hesitantly report to the auditorium for orientation. This assembly begins the gradual, often unnoticed changes the sophomores will make in the next three years. The rivalry of Gaston and Hill Junior High disappears as all become full-fledged Cougars. The administrators, counselors, and student leaders forewarn the naive sophomores that there are no elevator tickets, no restroom passes, no eighth periods, and no third floors. Sophomores soon learn that Seniors enjoy certain responsibilities and privileges. Seniors labor over ITED tests, and those who excelled on the National Merit Tests are recognized in assembly. The Senior Class Officers foresee the future of the Class of 1969 as they plan arrangements for activities and graduation. Sophomores dream of that distant day when they too will be Seniors.

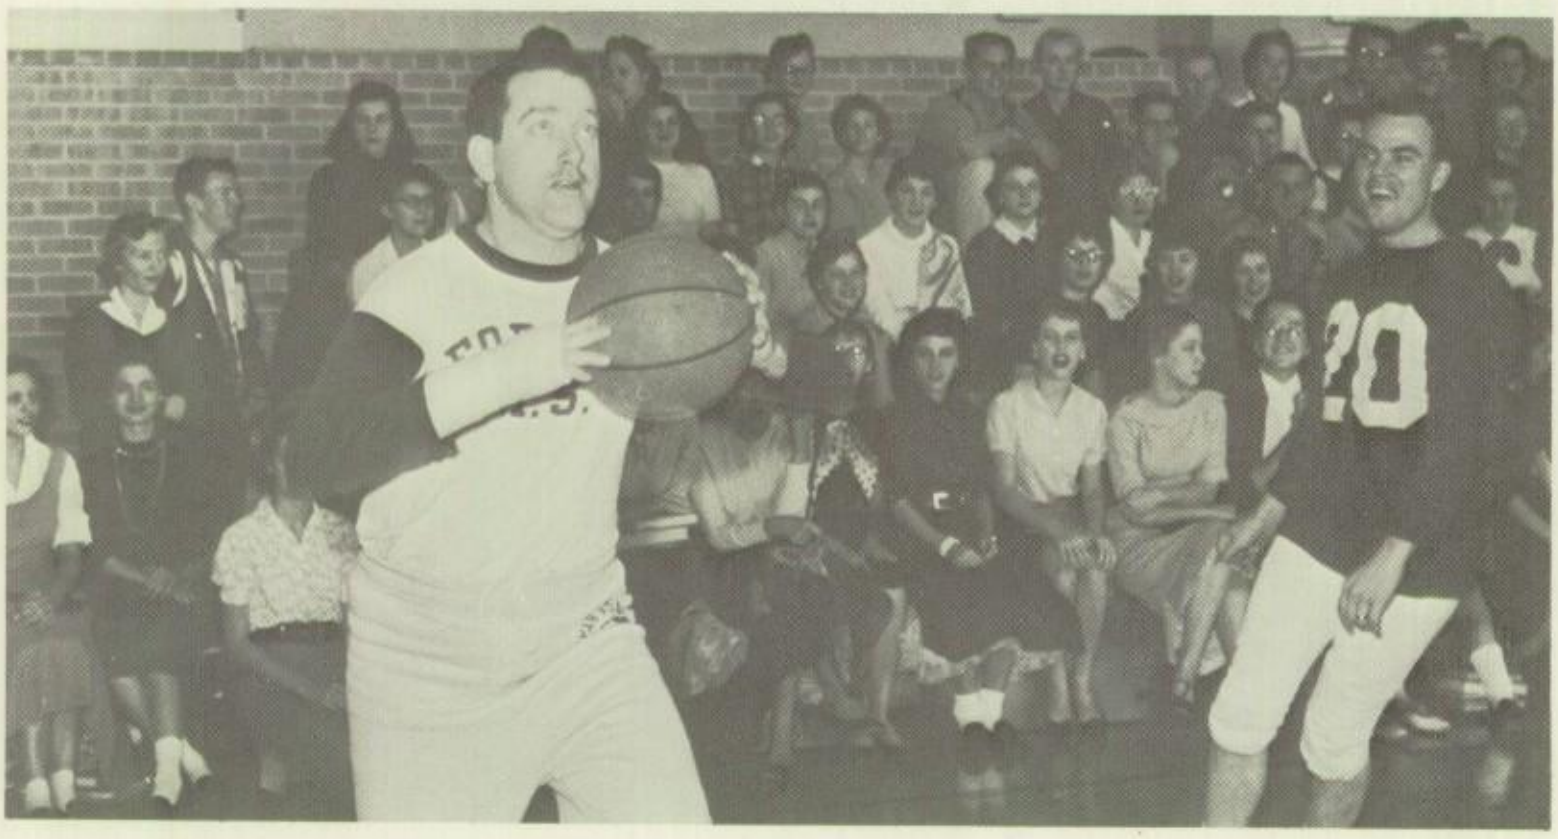


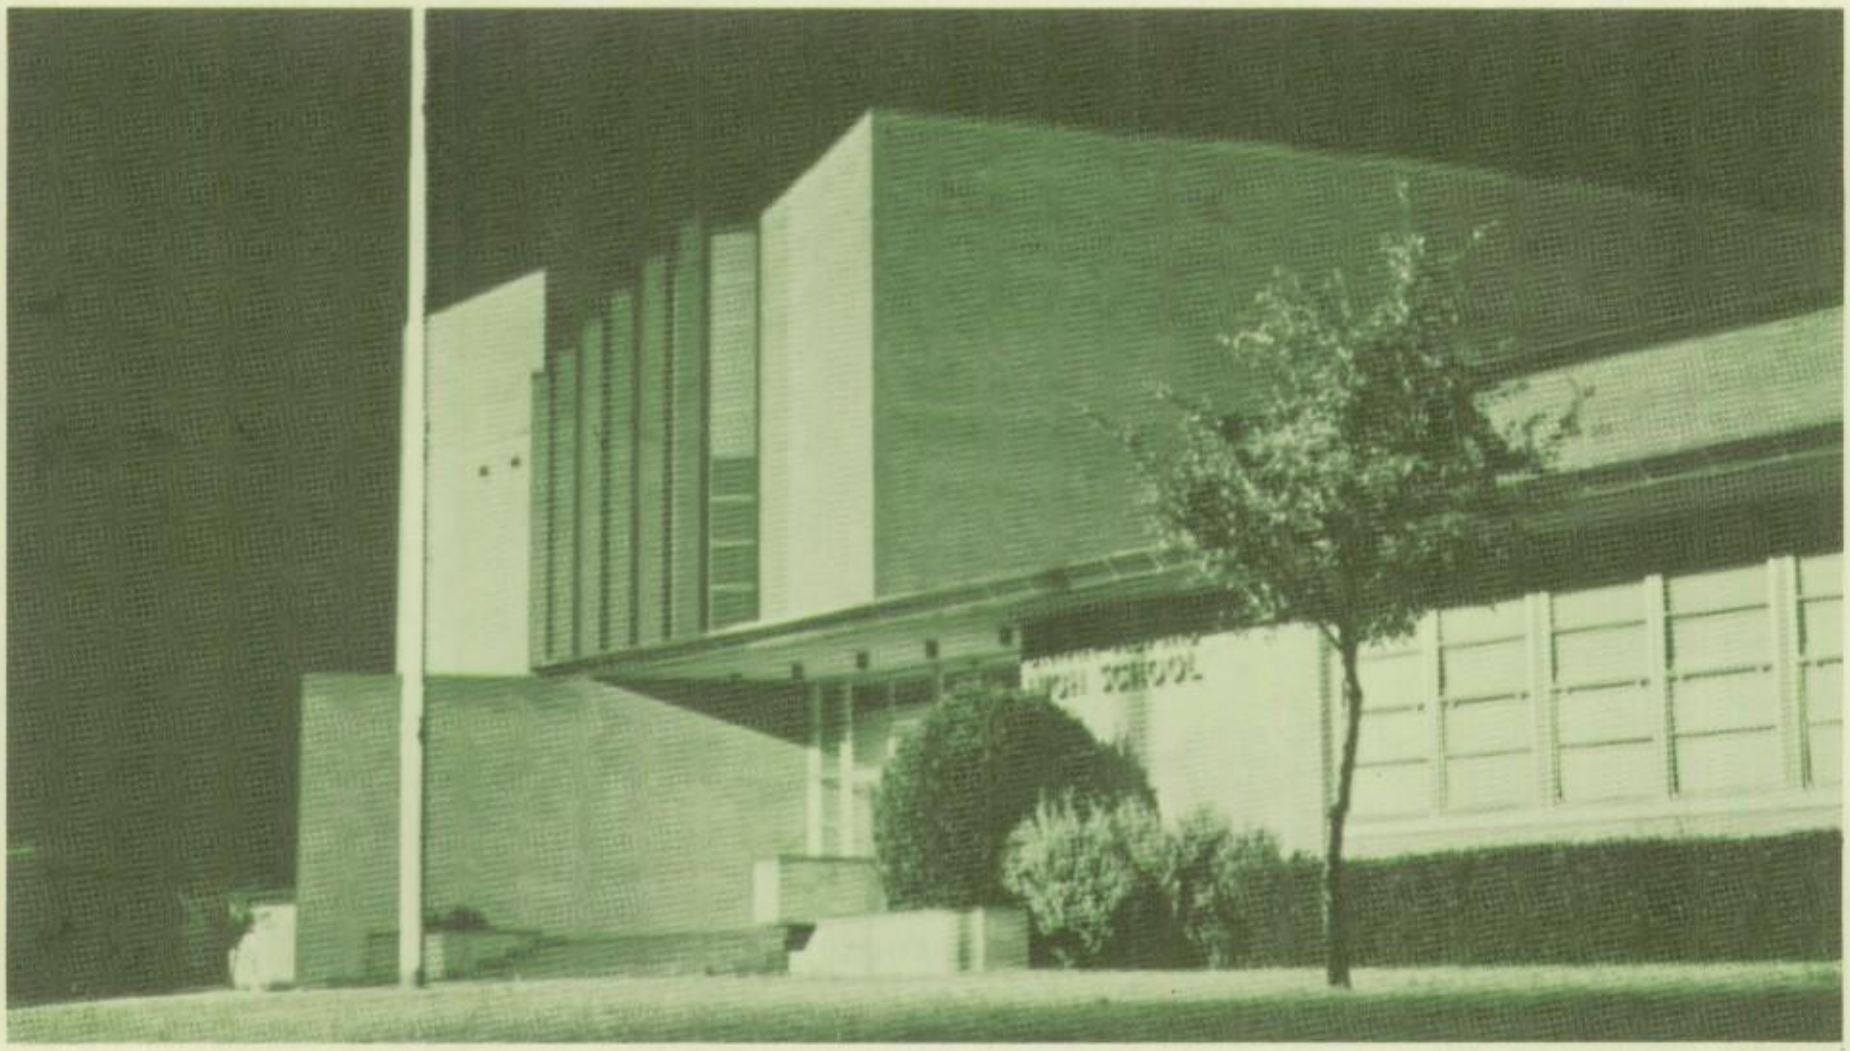
SCHOOL CHANGES IN TWELVE YEARS

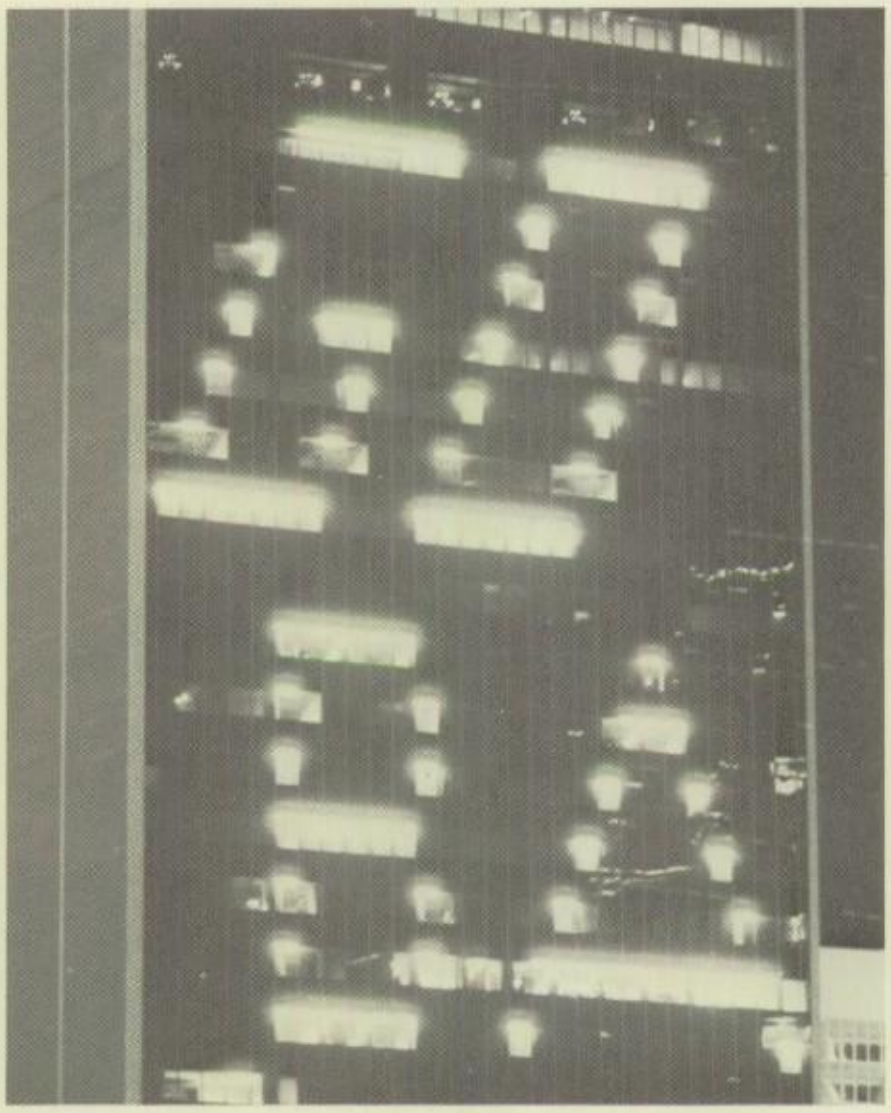
Visiting graduates are amazed at the progress our school has made in its short history. Where there was a sea of mud now lies landscaped grounds, athletic facilities, parking lots, tennis courts, and brilliant lighting. A new wing stretches to the east. In the mathematics rooms are computers; in Science classes, overhead projectors; in English classes, the pixmobile. The IBM machine ticks out schedules and report cards. Language labs and science paraphernalia are typical of the many innovations in Bryan Adams. New personnel advance fresh ideas, from classroom teacher to superintendent. Another sign of the times is the cooperative effort by the administrators and Student Council. Times are changing. Gone are the bobby socks and flattop haircuts, and here today are the shorter skirts and longer hair. "Today is not yesterday—We ourselves change."

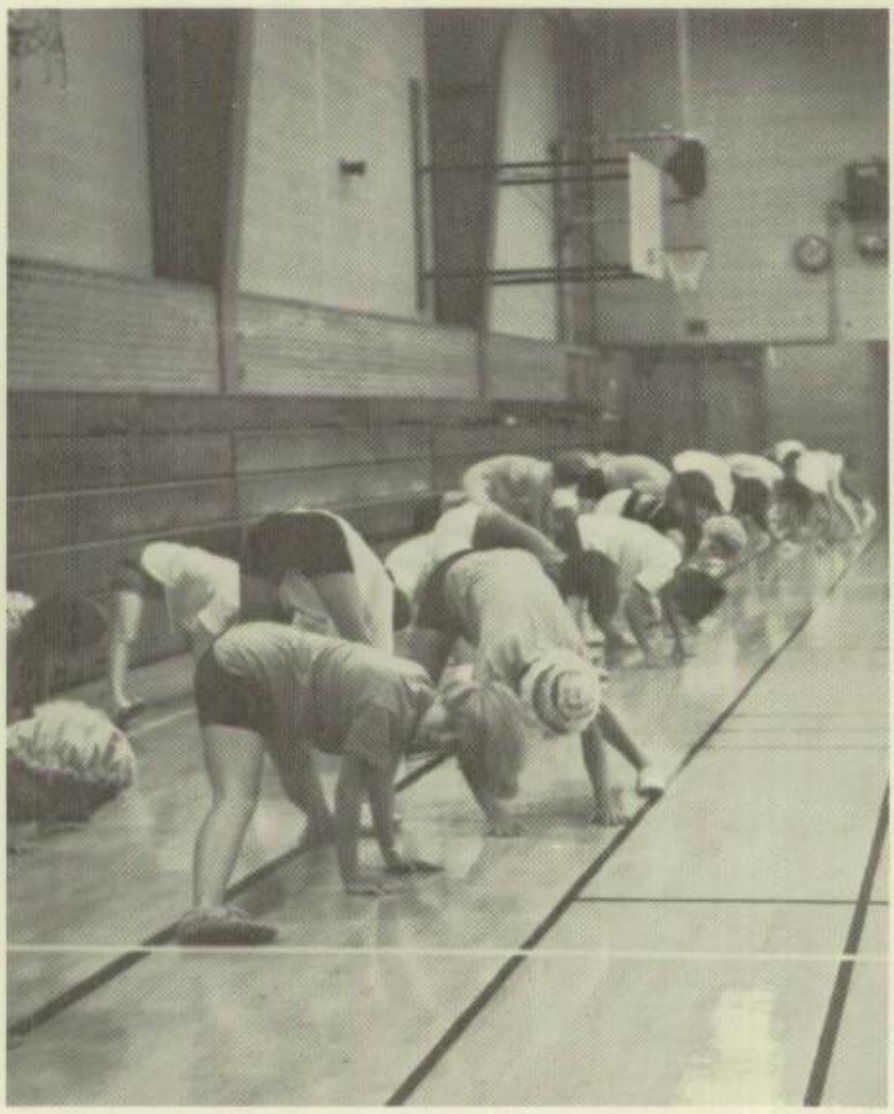
—Carlyle

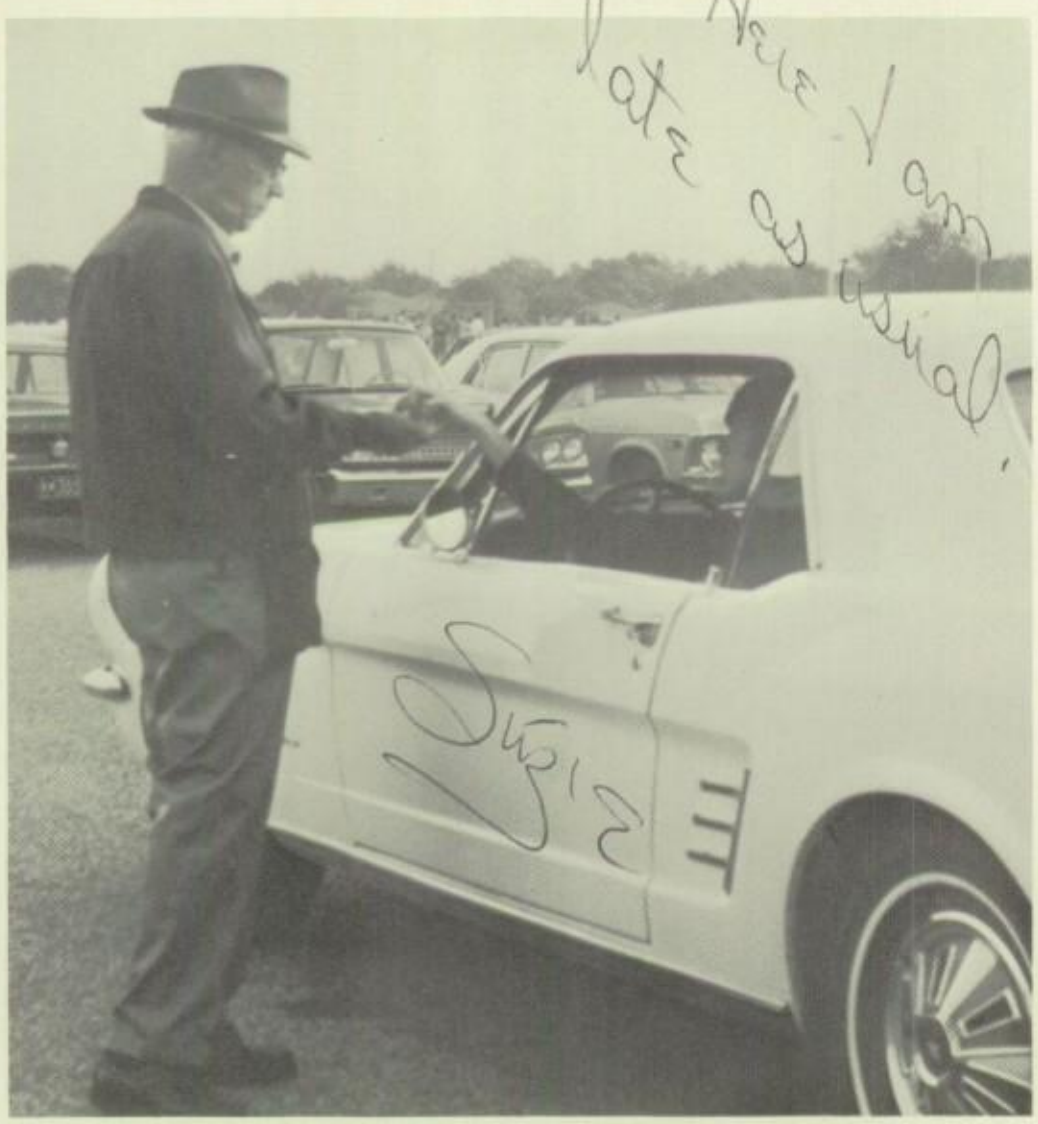












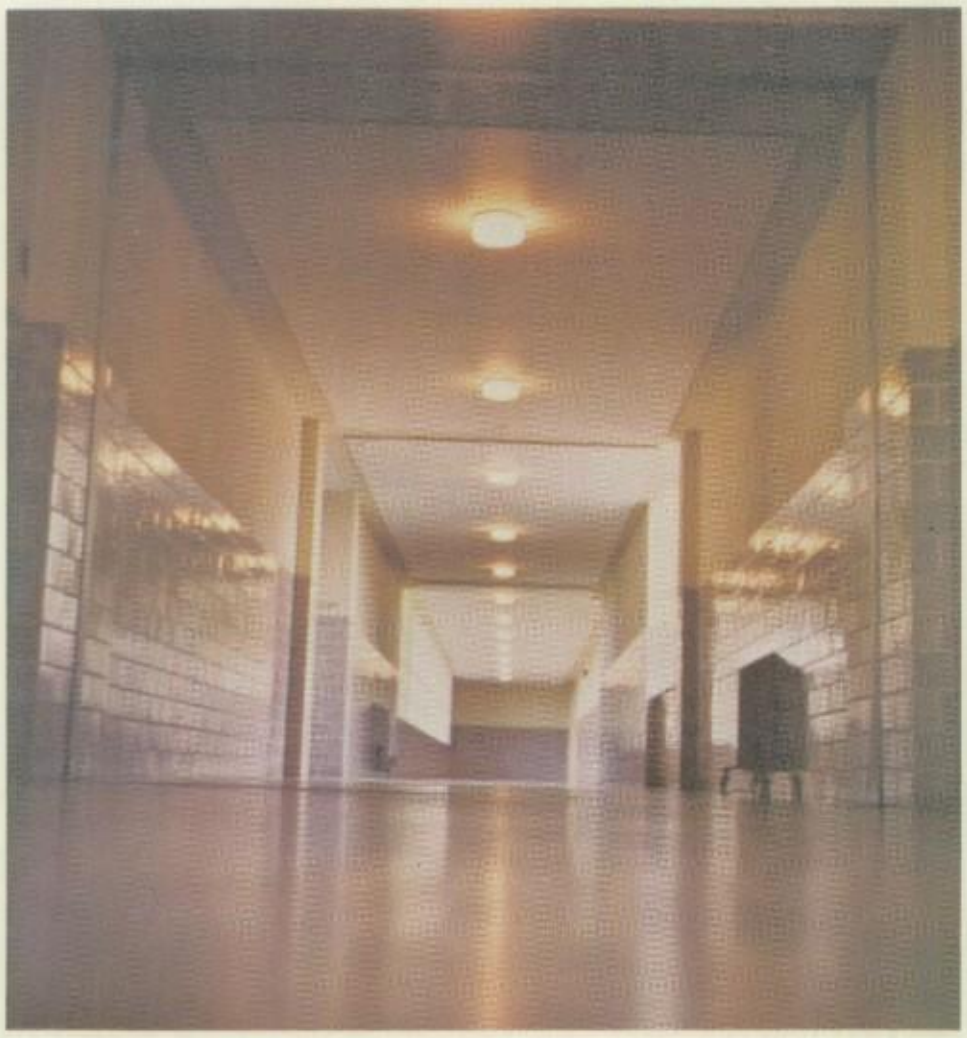
COUGARS STAY BUSY FROM DAWN TO DUSK

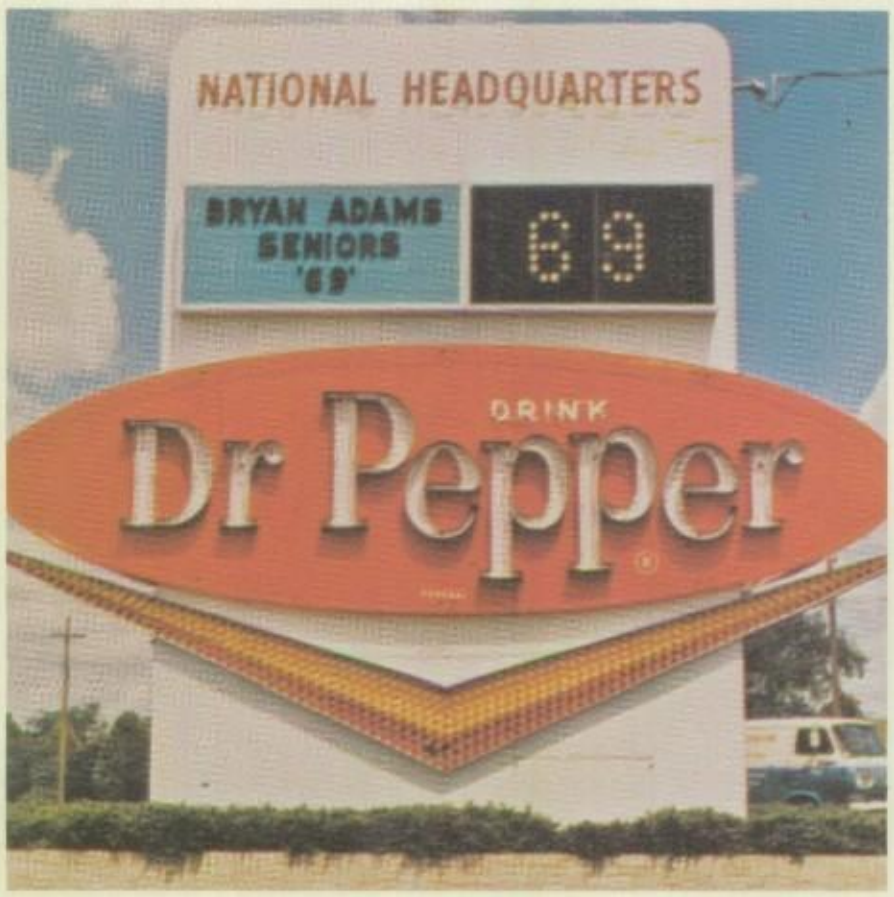
A lunchroom cook entering, a teacher signing in for hall duty, custodians unlocking every single door of Bryan Adams, and band and drill team members dragging their feet to practice at seven o'clock every morning: these early arrivals are beginning a new school day. The gates of the parking lots are crowded with late arrivals as the eight o'clock bell rings. Throughout the day are heard the familiar sounds of the school: a piping question ... far away music ... the tapping of a typewriter ... the confident voice of a lecturer ... the whirr of a sewing machine ... the ring of a phone ... a laugh, a groan ... the jangle of the four o'clock bell ... the mingling of voices mixed with the slams of locker doors ... then, quiet. The number of cars in the parking lot dwindles to just a few before the night's activities begin. Football games, club meetings, and dances often keep the building ablaze with lights until late hours. Custodians clean blackboards and sweep paper to prepare for the start of another day.

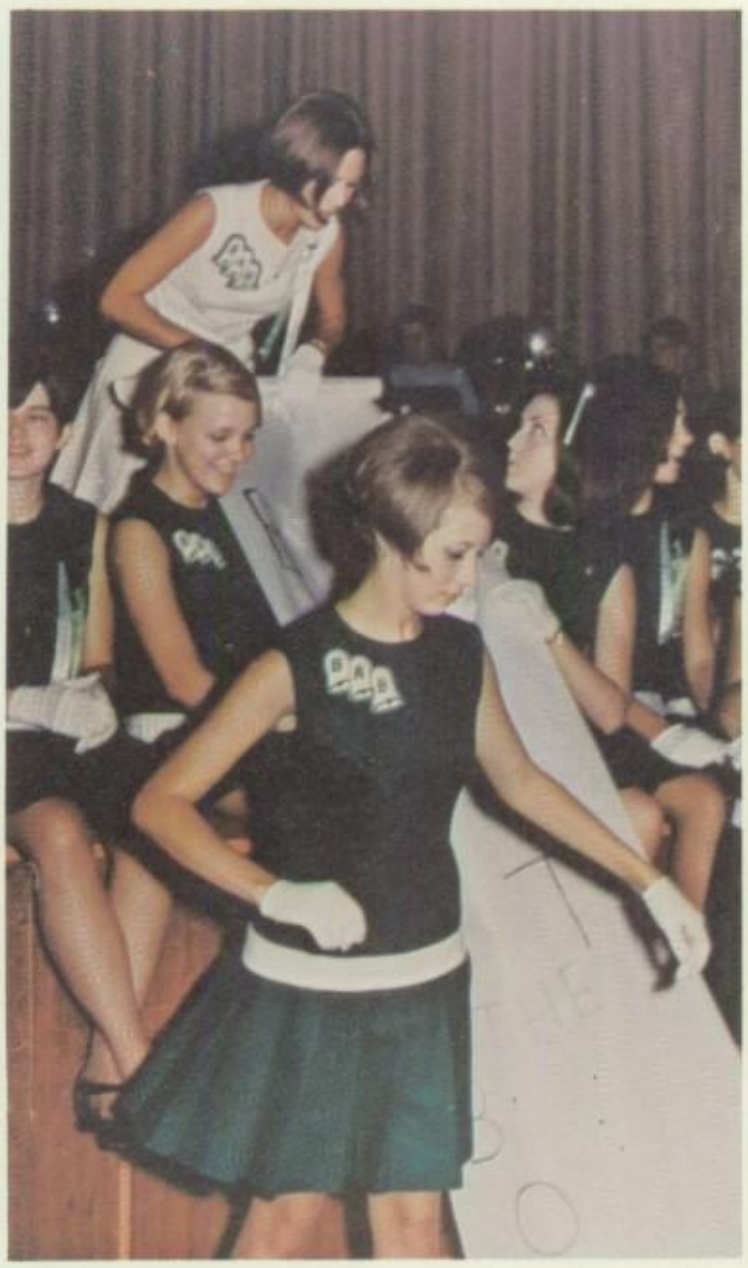
RECORD ENROLLMENT CROWDS EMPTY HALLS

Shiny deserted halls await the opening day of school. Sophomores break the silence as they hesitantly enter the auditorium on "sophomore day." Juniors and seniors confidently crowd in and begin to plot the courses they will follow from class to class all year. They jam into the auditorium to cheer for the mighty Cougar team. The football boys are ready, the band is well-rehearsed, and the Belles offer their special good wishes.

Loyalty reigns as sixteen busloads of fans accompany their team to San Angelo, and another year is launched for the enthusiastic student body.







COUGARS STAY BUSY AT WORK AND AT PLAY

A girl concentrates as her eyes follow the lines of Macbeth, while in the next room a boy relentlessly deciphers a logarithm. In the library a senior English class crowds the card file for references for research papers A boy reads the Mettler scale in the chemistry lab, and down the hall another bends over his drafting drawing. These are Cougars at work. But when the assignment is finished, they are ready to crowd into the pep assemblies and to laugh and cheer with the cheerleaders. Later clubs, theater, sports, musicals, and dancing are only a few of the many types of entertainment to enjoy. Cougars know how to work but they love to play.

ANNUAL DEDICATED TO IMAGINATIVE SPONSOR

Creative direction combined with dedicated interest have brought change and progress in the Drama and Speech Department. Long and late night hours spent in rehearsal, patient words spoken to guide, and imaginative ideas produced for student productions illustrate a gentle lady's devotion to the task of Variety Theater, Senior Play, and Children's Theater.

This creativity is witnessed in the classroom as well where sophomore Honor English classes learn the finer points of American literature. Her quiet femininity and gentle disposition exhibit an ideal for all with whom she works.

In recognition for her varied contributions, the staff wishes to dedicate the 1969 el Conquistador to Mrs. Francys Walls.

Each year new teachers arrive to join the "veterans" in instructing another record number of students at Bryan Adams.

ADMINISTRATION

DR. ESTES WELCOMED AS SUPERINTENDENT

Changes in the administration came with the retirement of Dr. W. T. White, thus introducing Dr. Nolan Estes as the new superintendent. He desires to install systems that will tap the attitudes of pupils to achieve mastery in learning.

To Dallas, this approach emphasizes the student learning at his own rate, teachers having time to teach, unconventional techniques or new ways of presenting subject matter, exploring ways of making class organization less rigid, and a year-round school program to prevent drop-outs, expanding the range of courses offered, providing year-round employment for teachers, and permitting more efficient use of buildings and facilities. He intends to fashion for every student a program of study in which he can attain a fundamental ability.

DR. HARRIS ADAPTS MODERN METHODS

School spirit revolves around students, but the enthusiasm displayed by our principal, Dr. Robert B. Harris, even outshines the students. Dr. Harris can be seen at every game sympathizing and giving words of advice to the tense and excited boys in the football team. He supports physical fitness as he spends many hours jogging around the school track.

Dr. Harris gets to know each and every teacher at Bryan Adams by having conferences over coffee and by sitting in on classes. Daily he sets an example for the students by keeping the halls free of trash and litter. Mrs. Francis Swift and Mrs. Evelyn Holt assist Dr. Harris with the records and handle the money in the office.

PRINCIPALS BRING NEW PROCEDURES

Mr. Joel Pittman, as assistant principal at Bryan Adams, is kept busy co-ordinating student activities with school policy, making announcements, arranging assemblies and acquiring speakers, as well as scheduling the many student club meetings.

Disciplining students, managing detentions, issuing textbooks, and arranging work permits comprise a few of the various duties of Mr. Joe Wadill.

Miss Carmichael, who has been at Bryan Adams since its opening day, counsels with students who remain absent over long periods of time, sends records of absenteeism to the state office, as well as enrollment reports. These three work together to improve school procedures, student behavior, and attendance.

TOP: Telephones in the attendance office get used frequently by the attendance clerks.

COUNSELORS ADVISE STUDENTS PROGRESS

"You can't drop another subject because you only have four solid subjects now." "Yes, you must take Junior English to graduate." These statements issue from the six counselor offices. Senior counselors, Mrs. Carolyn Harvley and Mrs. Elizabeth Enlow, administer Iowa Tests, check graduation credits, and write recommendations to colleges. Juniors are advised on college entrance exams, schedule changes, and outside problems by Mrs. Elizabeth Winder and Miss Nona Randolph.

Orientation and basic adjustment to a school of 3500 becomes the primary aim of Sophomore counselors, Mrs. Ruth Lewis and Mrs. Pebby Chamblee. Changing programs of study; interpreting various tests scores; assisting in solving problems; and conferring with parents, teachers, and students become the concern of the entire counseling staff.

AUXILIARY PROVIDES FUNDAMENTAL DUTIES

Nurses and assistants administer first aid and keep health records of each student attending Bryan Adams. The lunchroom helps maintain this standard by preparing hot, nutritious lunches for students and teachers.

Responsibilities of the IBM room include making up program cards, attendance records, and six weeks and exam reports. The library assists both students and teachers by providing resource materials and current news media as well as interesting novels and reading texts. Students find the library a convenient place for quiet study, also.

The clinic, IBM room, lunchroom, and the library comprise the auxiliary department which aids Bryan Adams by helping it to run more efficiently.

Bloody films of Macbeth caught the attention of students studying the Shakespearean tragedy. These films enable the students to better understand Shakespeare's methods of literature. Other literary works familiar to English students include Silas Marner and The Scarlet Letter. Every year students struggle with themes, term papers, and essays.

Loud enthusiastic voices of Speech students can be heard ringing in the halls throughout the day. These students continually strive to perfect their poise and stage repoire. Journalism students contribute to the publication of the Cougar Chronicle by putting to use the learned techniques of writing newspaper articles. English benefits students by furthering their abilities of communication, oral and written.

ELECTIONS PROVIDE A SUBJECT IN HISTORY

Humphrey, Nixon, or Wallace, that is the question. Presidential elections provided the lively subject discussed in History classes this election year. In Civics classes, students pretended they were of voting age and took polls in each class. Some students even debated heatedly as to which candidate was the best. Other current issues included comparing the Viet-Nam War with past World Wars. This gives students the opportunity to understand present situations and to see how we can learn from past mistakes. The American Observer and Newsweek Magazine lend a helping hand in keeping students up to date on the current issues as well as films, speakers, and field trips. The study of the United States Constitution informs students about government legislation of today and furthers their understanding of government politics and voting procedures.

Two language labs constantly in use, educational films of each country, and tape recorders with tapes of every dialect imaginable aid in teaching the foreign languages at Bryan Adams. A student may increase his appreciation and understanding of foreign people and their cultures by taking French, Spanish, Latin, or German. Through the study of these languages, students strengthen their basic skills in English and widen their vocabularies. Many classes try to bridge the gap between people of different lands by presenting foreign people of Dallas with surprise presents and visits at Christmas time.

MODERN SCIENCE STIMULATES NEW RESEARCH

The smell of formaldehyde, the reaction of zinc added to sulfuric acid, and the wave lengths of light going through water represent some of the phases of biology, chemistry and physics. Biological activities range from completely puzzling genetic charts to the slimy dissection of frogs and earth worms. Chemistry students learn the fascinating properties of elements through both the success and failure of experiments. Ripple tanks and the laws of motion and energy fill the minds of physics students.

Each year, Bryan Adams students take top honors in science fairs, both local and nationwide. The determination needed to achieve these honors is characteristic of biology, chemistry, and physics students at B.A. These science courses help generate in the student the desire toward further research.

ADVANCED STUDENTS VALUE MATHEMATICS

Students learn meaningful mathematics which will be the basis for many careers. The courses taught include Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Calculus, and Analysis. Teaching aids such as over-head projectors, graph boards, demonstration slide rules, filmstrips, and digital computers supplement the department. It sponsors such annual events as the Math Fair, National Math Contest, Math Conference, and Math Clubs well as the Mu Alpha Theta tutoring service. The modern era of scientific and technical advancement increases the importance of the math curriculum.

PUPILS PREPARE FOR FUTURE IN BUSINESS

Students can benefit from the courses offered by the business department in many ways. Skills obtained by the typing and shorthand courses come in constant use in the years to come. These courses are open to any junior or senior, and a second year may be taken to further their abilities. Business law, business mathematics, and bookkeeping are also offered to the students.

Students enrolled in the distributive education program are given the skills needed to enter the business world and to learn a profession. These skills are taught through Industrial Cooperative Training, Vocational Office Education, and Agricultural Cooperative Training.

Store management, advertising, and sales pitches are learned by the students with the aid of the distributive education program. I.C.T. pupils learn the use of industrial equipment. The practice of office procedures and the operation of business machines are taught to V.O.E. students. The A.C.T. course trains the pupils for farm and nursery management. A professional background is the goal to be fulfilled by the students in the courses.

GIRLS STUDY THE ROLE OF MANAGING A HOME

Sweet and pungent aromas tantalize students passing the homemaking rooms. Exotic dishes as well as family favorites fill recipe boxes of apprentice cooks.

Fashion created for graduation and special occasions find their beginning in dressmaking classes. Instruction in clothes construction as well at latest trends helps the expanding wardrobes of "I don't have anything to wear."

Dreams of the perfect wedding and the ideal home collect in notebooks in Home and Family Living Class. Bathing and dressing a real baby also interests future homemakers.

Practice in party giving affords faculty and staff the opportunity to see each other and to eat the concoctions contrived at holiday times. Future homemakers learn etiquette and practice graciousness.

SHOPS DEVELOP AN INTEREST IN INDUSTRY

Constructing a coffee table, designing houses, moulding plastic into useful objects, and spray painting metal objects which students have previously made, comprise but a few of the skills taught in the shop classes. Boys who take the courses in the drafting, plastic, metal, wood, and electric shops not only learn to appreciate good design and workmanship but also to make useful and attractive finished products for themselves. Modern equipment used in the shops consists of blue-print machines, plastic mould machines, planters, spray guns, booths for painting, and metal bending and folding machines.

All students enrolled in the industrial arts and architectural classes may participate in a crafts fair and a Young Designers Contest held annually.

ARTISTIC TALENTS PRODUCE CRAFTS

Using equipment such as soldering torches, slides, records, and a kiln room, art students bring into existence the many stage sets and art exhibits used throughout the year at Bryan Adams. Art appreciation and history, assemblage, sculpture, painting, and crafts are only a few of the skills taught in this course. By enabling art students to see, appreciate and understand art in the world among them, their appreciation of it is magnified. Students compete in contests, and the winners are rewarded for their outstanding work with scholarships to various colleges that have excellent art departments.

PROGRAMS IN MUSIC ENTHRALLED STUDENTS

Opening pep assemblies with the "Star Spangled Banner," beginning football games with the Bryan Adams Alma Mater, presenting assemblies appropriate to the season, and providing a background for musicals makeup a few of the major duties of the music department. Both performing and non-performing students may take courses varying from Chorus, Band, and Orchestra to Music theory and Literature. The Band performs to such well known tunes as "Georgy Girl" and "Mame"

Tense students try out for Concert Choir and Band and then nervously await the results. In the Spring, the students annually work together and produce a well-known musical.

EXERCISE ALTERNATES BETWEEN QUIET HOURS

Participation in an assortment of physical activities relaxes the students minds after struggling with their solid subjects. After electing four team captains from each class, teams from opposite classes compete. "Rebound", "shoot", and "go" become familiar cries shouted by enthusiastic teammates. Volleyball, basketball, softball, football, and soccer all demand active participation by every student.

Study halls and physical education classes on an alternating basis give students time for recreation and study. Study hall gives students time to complete that long postponed term paper, catch up on required reading, or even begin last night's homework. An interesting visit to the library, or a lively talk with their counselors can be made during this free hour.

ORGANIZATIONS

SLAVERY DOMINATES

What do the sophisticated leaders of Bryan Adams do during the summer months? Do they spend the entire summer planning and organizing the activities of their clubs for the winter? No, just like the rest of us peons they spend their summer slaving away at the grindstone. The girls cleaned house, and the boys worked out for sports or worked for the city.

Some of our leaders, however, did spend most of the summer working on their organizations. For example, the Belles, Cheerleaders, and the football team spent the better portion of their 1968 summer staying in shape. The Key Club president, Duke Garwood, spent his summer cleaning up White Rock Park. Jimmy Walter spent his summer surveying. Kelly McCuller used his time to be a swimming pool bum around the Y.M.C.A. All these activities did not interfere, however, with the 1968-69 extra curriculum.

COMMITTEES AIM FOR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT

What does the Student Council do? The Student Council takes charge of dances, the Student Directory, the Cougar Book for sophomores, and any fund raising projects which are necessary.

The 1968-69 school year brought two new additions to the Student Council, the executive board, and the Student Council Banquet. The executive board is composed of the Student Council officers plus a director from each class. The three directors (Jon Dooley-Senior, Linda Janousek-Junior, and Steve Stuart-Sophomore) aided the board in discussing current or future projects. For example, the innovation of the Student Council banquet can be attributed to sponsor, Mr. Jerry Clay and the executive board.

The main activities of the Student Council were carried out by three committees. These committees and their chairmen accomplished their tasks by hard work. The Student Directory Committee, Chairman Gary Brown, put out the Student Directory right on time this year. The Cougar Book Committee, chairman Kelly McCullar, also got their book out just in time to greet the sophomores to Bryan Adams. The Dance Committee, chairman Linda White, worked hard to plan, decorate, and make a success of the Homecoming, Coronation, and Grub Dances.

Through the cooperation of these committees the Student Council succeeds in its annual responsibilities. Perhaps through their acceptance of these responsibilities and cooperation with the other clubs, the Student Council has won an attitude of respect for the 1968-69 school year.

KEY CLUB INVENTS A COUGAR CAR SMASH

"Bang! Smash! Crash! Whoops, I missed!" If you happened to be coming to school via the blacktop, these sounds would have hit you head on. What were the sounds? A 1953 Chrysler being smashed with a sledge hammer; the event—the Key Club Car Smash. This was a new activity introduced by the Bryan Adams Key Club to promote spirit and relieve any of the repressed anxieties of the student body.

Another service of the Key Club, was their annual car wash, which usually results in several broken cars. At this car wash, the Key Club cleaned everything from Model T Fords to 1969 Corvettes.

The really serious activity of one of two service clubs at Bryan Adams was the Key Club's work at Angels, Incorporated. Headed by president Duke Garwood, the Key Club held carnivals and cleaned up the school house at Angels, Inc. Through these service and fun-filled activities the Bryan Adams Key Club tried to promote school spirit and teenage boys. Both of these goals were achieved by the 1968-69 Key Club.

CHEERLEADERS INSIGHT A SEASON OF IDIOCY

With a team over h'yah and a team over there-ah, the Bryan Adams Cheerleaders led the spirit for a football district championship. To do this they had everything from a lonely Hillcrest Panther to Winnie the Pooh in their pep assemblies. Each assembly was dedicated to the football team and to promoting spirit. The cheerleaders said that the student support and spirit was better than it had ever been. "This is partly due to the 'originality' in their skits," said Mr. Joel Pittman.

The new chants introduced by the 1968-69 cheerleaders were: Go BA, Whomp'em up side of the head, and Super soul spirit. The best illustrated of these chants was super soul spirit, as all three boys and five girls "grooved-out" continually.

Originality was not the only virtue of this year's cheerleaders, however. They also brought home four second place ribbons and the Spirit Stick from S.M.U. Cheerleading School. All these activities, when coordinated, produced a reputation of "they're a bunch of idiots" for the 1968-69 Bryan Adams Cheerleaders.

BELLES GET KICK OUT OF SEASON

The Belles made it through another season with few pulled muscles, few sprained ankles, and many compliments. These are just a few of the "tuff" requirements of the Bryan Adams Belles. The drill team begins working out two weeks before school starts. During this practice the Belles learn routines for the coming football season and exercise every muscle known to modern doctors.

All this straining is not in vain, however, because in the spring the girls plan the drill team banquet. At this banquet awards are given to each Belle, good or bad, for any memorable occasion when she was in the spotlight. These "trials and tribulations" are what make the Belles the "pride of White Rock".

SOUL-BEAT PREVAILS

The booming, brassy, soul sound of the 1968-69 Cougar Band will long be remembered by this year's student body. The band with its new director, Mr. Stone, made a new sound for itself this season. The new sound was evident in such tunes as "Classical Gas," the theme from "Mission: Impossible," and the National Football League theme song. The enthusiasm of the band members for their organization has been greatly promoted by their energetic drum major, junior John Boggs.

Besides the music makers' vigorous attitude the band is also one of the best in our area. One of the most outstanding sections of the band this year has been the drummers. The drummers added a soul-beat to chants, cheers, and songs. These sounds along with the tremendous enthusiasm of the band members link together to make the 1968-69 Cougar Band one of the most remembered in the history of Bryan Adams.

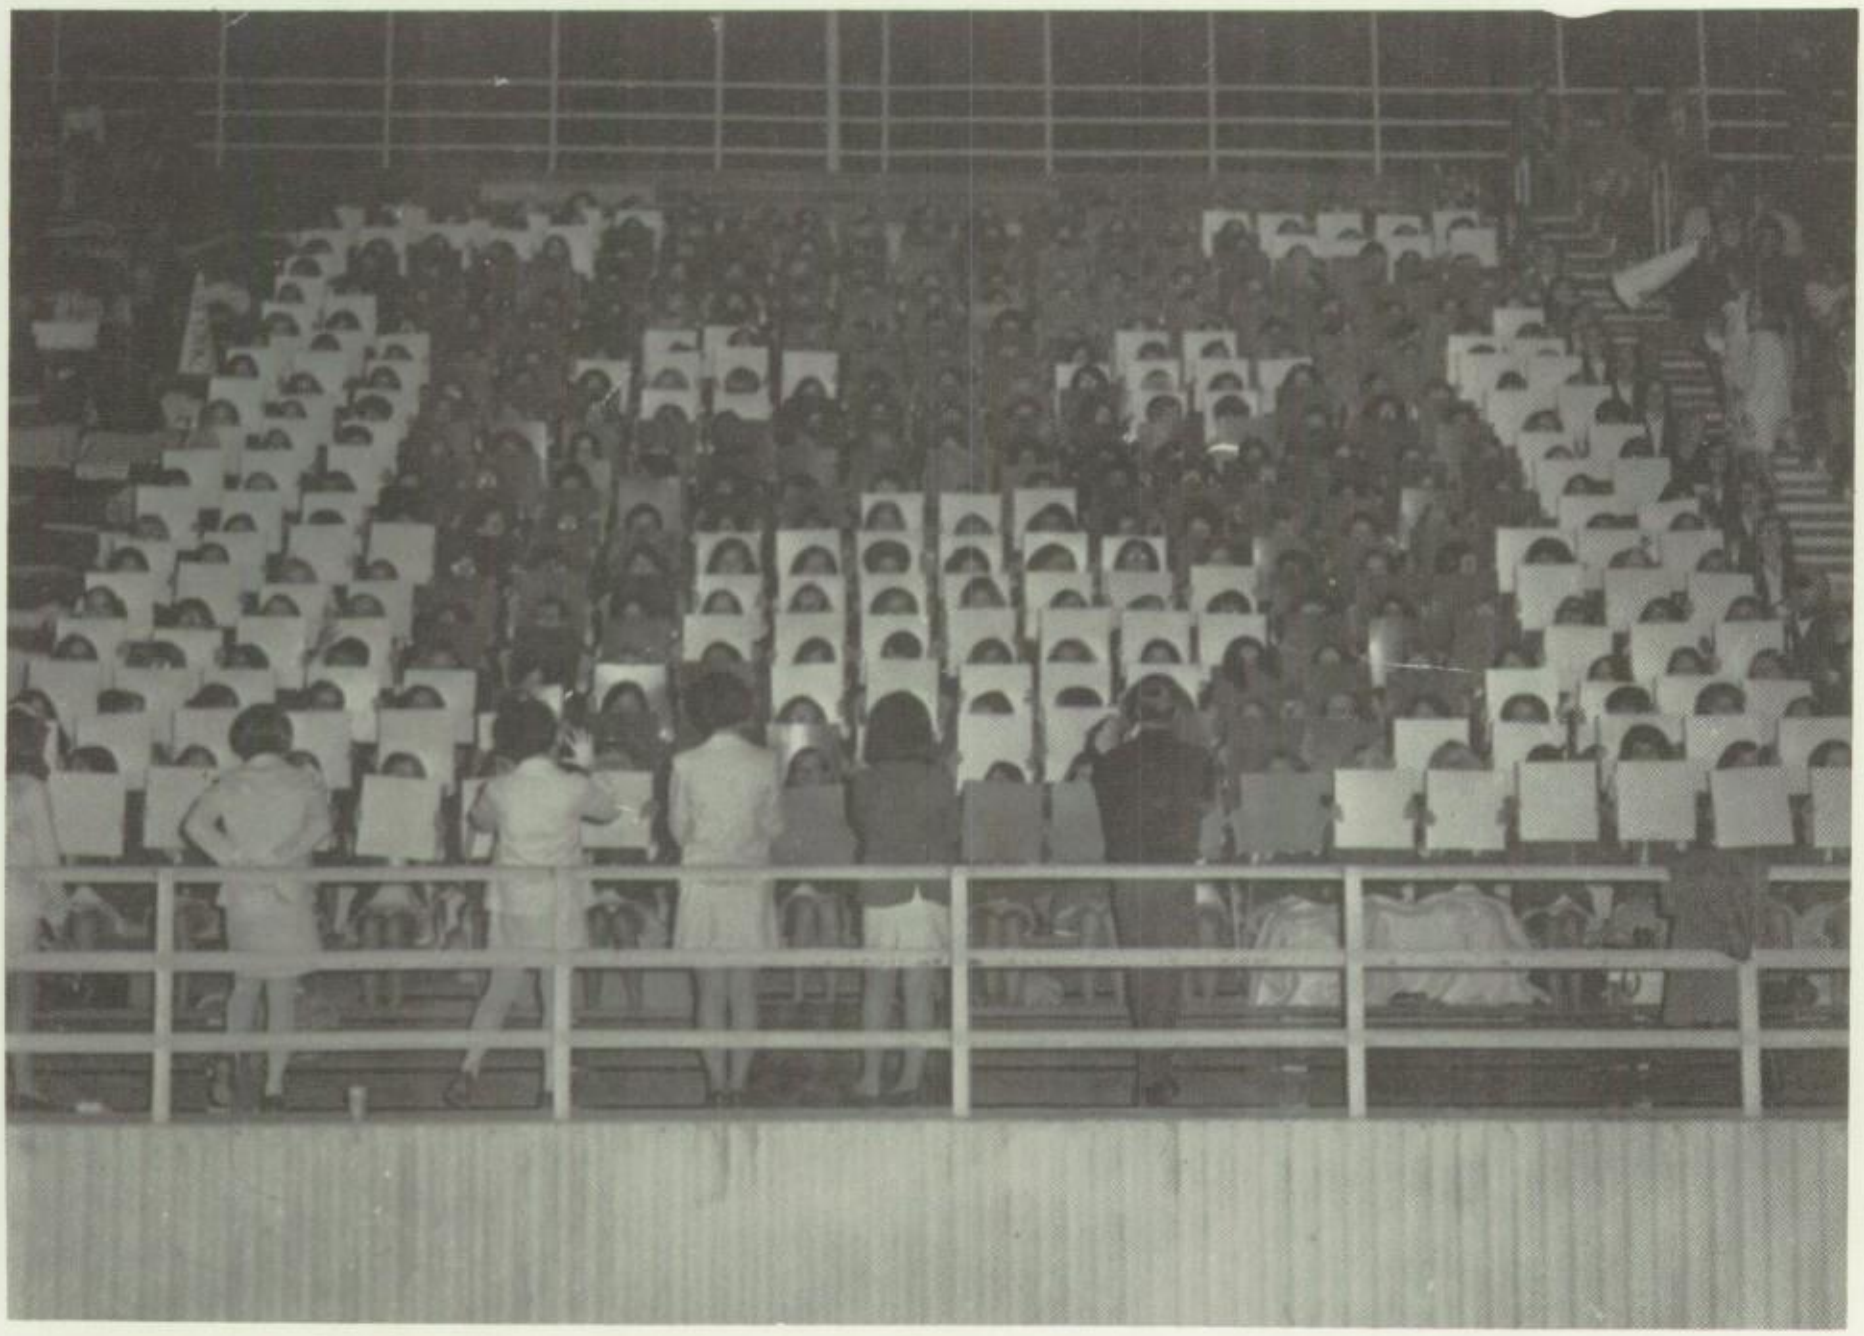
RECORD MEMBERSHIP OF 1969 SPIRITS — 543

"One, two, three, four. Who you gonna yell for?" This familiar sound echoed through the stadium as each Spirit took part in the 1968 football season. Renea Fletcher led the Spirits this year through card stunts, morning meetings, the tying of streamers on cars, and hand routines. This year the Spirits had the highest membership with 543 girls. All of these girls hope to try out for Belles or Cheerleader.

The clean record that must be kept is not easy for any of the girls. A minimum of three absences, six tardies, and three demerits are required. If any of these rules are violated, then the member is expelled from the organization. The student body could not live up to their winning reputation without the spirit and enthusiasm promoted by the Bryan Adams Spirits.



SCHOOL CHOIR CAROLS FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

The Concert Choir sang Christmas carols in the courtyard just before the school was dismissed for the holidays. This event, however, was not the only program for the Concert Choir. During the first period assembly, the choir gave a beautiful account of the Christmas season.

Directed by Mr. Erwin, the Concert Choir gave programs for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. These programs were not only given for the student body, but also for the members of the P.T.A.

The Bryan Adams Concert Choir also participated in many contests. These contests included group and individual singing. In the traditional Bryan Adams fashion the Concert Choir and its members ranked highest in their category.

Tryouts were held in early spring for the Spring musical, Charlie's Aunt. Chorus students then presented the musical in April.

ORCHESTRA TUNES UP TO WIN HIGH HONORS

As the 68-69 school year progressed, honors continued to come to the Bryan Adams Orchestra. Nine members of the Orchestra received the highest honor a high school musician may receive. They were placed on the 68-69 Texas High School Orchestra. Students were judged on the recommendation of their high school director, performance at Region Orchestra at Southern Methodist University, and a tape which was made for the State Orchestra Committee. In February, the students journeyed to San Antonio to begin preparations for the All State Concert.

The Orchestra got off to an early start October 24 with the Pops Concert in the school cafeteria. Following the performance Miss Susan Sterrett, Orchestra Director, announced the year's Orchestra activities which included new formal attire worn in February. The girls wore lime green dresses and the boys lime green tuxedo jackets. In April, they played in the University Interscholastic League Festival, presented a musical, and played in the Dallas Orchestra Festival. To end the year, they presented a Spring Concert in May.

ART IN ACTION VISITS MUSEUMS, NEIMAN'S

The Neiman-Marcus Fortnight presented, to the Art in Action Club, a fascinating array of unusual works of art. Club members, headed by David Stephens, visited the Fortnight early this year and gathered quite a bit of knowledge concerning Italian art. Besides this outing, the club visited several art museums.

Field trips, although interesting, comprise only one of many activities offered by Art in Action. Speakers, such as commercial artists, attend the meetings. They inform the members on the latest forms of advertising. Around Christmas, Mr. Lee McShan visits the club and demonstrates the fine art of flower arranging. With field trips, guest speakers, and flower arrangement lessons, the Art in Action Club offers action and fun to all students interested in art.

COTHURNUS CREATES TALENTED PRODUCTION

"But you just can't use all that talent in Variety Theatre!" This remark was frequent when Mrs. Francys Walls and Mrs. Grayce Clay discussed what plays should be tried for the Cothurnus Club's annual Variety Theatre. With the help of club president Marla Elliot, the Cothurnus Club decided on three plays. Infancy, Arsenic and Old Lace, and Masque of the Red Death were the three plays presented to the public.

The Cothurnus Club also provides student directors for the Senior Play, actors for children's Theatre, and small parts in the N.F.L. talent show. Through their work on school plays and contests many students receive scholarships to different colleges and go on to be successful in the world of the theatre.

Scholarships are not the only rewards a Cothurnus member receives. They also are the only outwardly active club in school. For this reason, the Cothurnus members have become one of the most respected groups at Bryan Adams.

N.F.L. SWEEP TALENT

Imagine a political convention, foreign spies, Tiny Tim, combos, and Jimmy Walters on a tricycle. Put them all together and you have the National Forensic League Talent Show entitled "International Affair."

The basic plot centers around the kidnaping of Static Party candidate George Walrus, portrayed by Steve Cone. Spies Jay Longan and Terry Vandivort added to the excitement with their witty satires.

Mogan and David, alias Bob Cohen and Linda Horner, portrayed the story to the audience.

The Peppermint Frenetic and a drum and bugle corps presented the musical background. As a result of hard work, by the cast members and faculty, sponsors Mrs. Janice Weiland and Mrs. Grayce Clay, the show proved a huge success.

THESPIANS PROVIDE GUIDANCE FOR COTHURNUS

Ten points. To the members of the Cothurnus Club, these two words can mean the difference between being a drama student and being an honor drama student. Ten points must be accumulated before a Cothurnus Club member can be accepted into the honor drama club, Thespians. These points may be earned by participating in acting, stage production, directing a play, make-up, or any of the other many facets of acting. After entering Thespians club members may collect honor points in the same manner.

Under the leadership of president Patty Matts and sponsor Mrs. Francys Walls, Thespians join with Cothurnus each year in presenting the much enjoyed Variety Theater and Children's Theater.

At the end of the year, the National Thespians recognize the two students who have contributed most to the organization.

MU ALPHA THETA CLUB LOOKS TO COMPUTERS

The whizzing, clicking, whirring world of computers fascinates the members of Mu Alpha Theta, the honor math club. Members of this club come in contact with computers daily in our own school. Besides tinkering with these expensive toys, club members also listen to lectures on new procedures in math and extended math courses.

Mu Alpha Theta also joins with the Math Club in presenting a Math Convention at Bryan Adams each year. This year's convention was held in February and had as its featured speaker Dr. Harold Huneke of the University of Oklahoma. Schools from within one hundred miles of Dallas attended and enjoyed speeches given by Dr. Huneke and nine other guest speakers, all either college professors or industrial businessmen. The main topics discussed concerned math and its relation to industry.

This year's activities were conducted with the help of president Claudia Burnett and sponsor Mrs. Lois Crawford.

B.A. HONOR SOCIETY CHANGES CONSTITUTION

Citizenship, leadership, good character, and high scholastic standing comprise a few of the qualifications necessary for membership in the National Honor Society. Students eligible for this honor club are screened carefully by the school faculty. In the early spring, the new members are "tapped" and presented to the student body in an Awards Assembly given by NHS.

College Night, attended by representatives from colleges from all over Texas, supplies Honor Society with a large project each year. Another annual project is that of rolling diplomas for the graduating class.

Finishing the year, National Honor Society, headed by president Kelly McCullar and sponsor Mr. Robert Clamon, changed their constitution to bring it up to date.

BIBLE STUDIES HEARD BY MEMBERS OF YFC

Leading a well-rounded Christian life presented to Bronson Stilwell, president of the Youth for Christ, an interesting topic for his speeches on Christianity. In these talks, given during January and February, Bronson emphasized such points as the relationship between Christians and Christ and the true meaning of prayer.

Besides these speeches by Bronson and devotionals given by guest speakers, the club also has discussions of the various books of the Bible.

Once a month, a city-wide meeting of all YFC clubs is held at Memorial Auditorium. At this meeting, called a "Splendor," the YFC members enjoy music and devotions given by fellow members.

A Christmas party comprised another activity of this year's YFC. At this party the club members also had the opportunity to go Christmas caroling.

LEAGUE TAKES TROPHY FOR ALL EIGHT YEARS

With the clicking of typewriters, the solving of math and science problems, and the sound of poetry floating on the air, the Bryan Adams' Interscholastic League once again prepared to take home the trophies as they entered the Ninth Annual Interscholastic League competition. This competition, held in April, consists of contests in typing, shorthand, ready-writing, and number sense. The fields of science and speech also comprise a major part of the competition.

To date, the League from Bryan Adams has won the first place trophy eight years in a row. In fact, they have retired one trophy and are working on another.

The competition in One-Act Plays also plays a major role toward the winning of the trophy. This year Mrs. Gracye Clay selected a cutting from Major Barbara for the competition.

AFS SWEEPS COUNTRY

Don't wait; communicate!" This slogan might very well be the motto of the Bryan Adams American Field Service since one of their major activities is to promote worldwide understanding through letters, newspapers, and people. The AFS helps to accomplish this goal by providing many services for foreign exchange students during their stay in the United States. This year Bryan Adams opened its doors to Maria Christine Cumini-Londero from Argentina. Chris, as everybody calls her, is enjoying her visit to America immensely.

Another activity of the American Field Service also teaches its members about other countries. Jennifer Shopland, AFS President, arranges for the club to hear speakers, view slides of other countries, and participate in panel discussions in order to accomplish the organization's goals.

Fund raising projects promote and pay for the visiting foreign exchange student's expenses. In the past three years, Bryan Adams has had two exchange students. This year, however, Bryan Adams only had one exchange student. The AFS worked to promote understanding and communication between countries all over the world and merits the cooperation and support of the student body.

LIT. SOCIETY EXPANDS

Rod McKuen, Ferlinghetti, and Nietzsche enthralled the Bryan Adams Literary Society. The Literary Society is a relatively new club at Bryan Adams. It was started last year by a 1968 graduate, Carol McDonald, and the club's sponsor Mrs. Harryette Stover.

Linda Walker, club President, arranges for the club to discuss various types of current literature. The club also listens to speakers who are experts or are working on their thesis in certain areas. The most ardently discussed poet is Ferlinquetti. The "Lit." Society has dicussed primarily Guetti's Coney Island of the Mind. Through discussion the Literary Society hopes to promote an attitude of understanding and relieve the apathy of the Bryan Adams Student Body.

MATH CLUB COMPUTES

Operating a math help session and making plans for the annual Math Seminar make up the many activities of the Bryan Adams Math Club.

Headed by president Claudia Burnett, the Math Club began early making plans for the annual Math Seminar, held at Bryan Adams in February.

Operating a math help session before school is one of the main purposes of the Math Club. Math Club students also participate in the Math division of the Science Fair. Many long hours of work pay when the ribbons go to the winning entries.

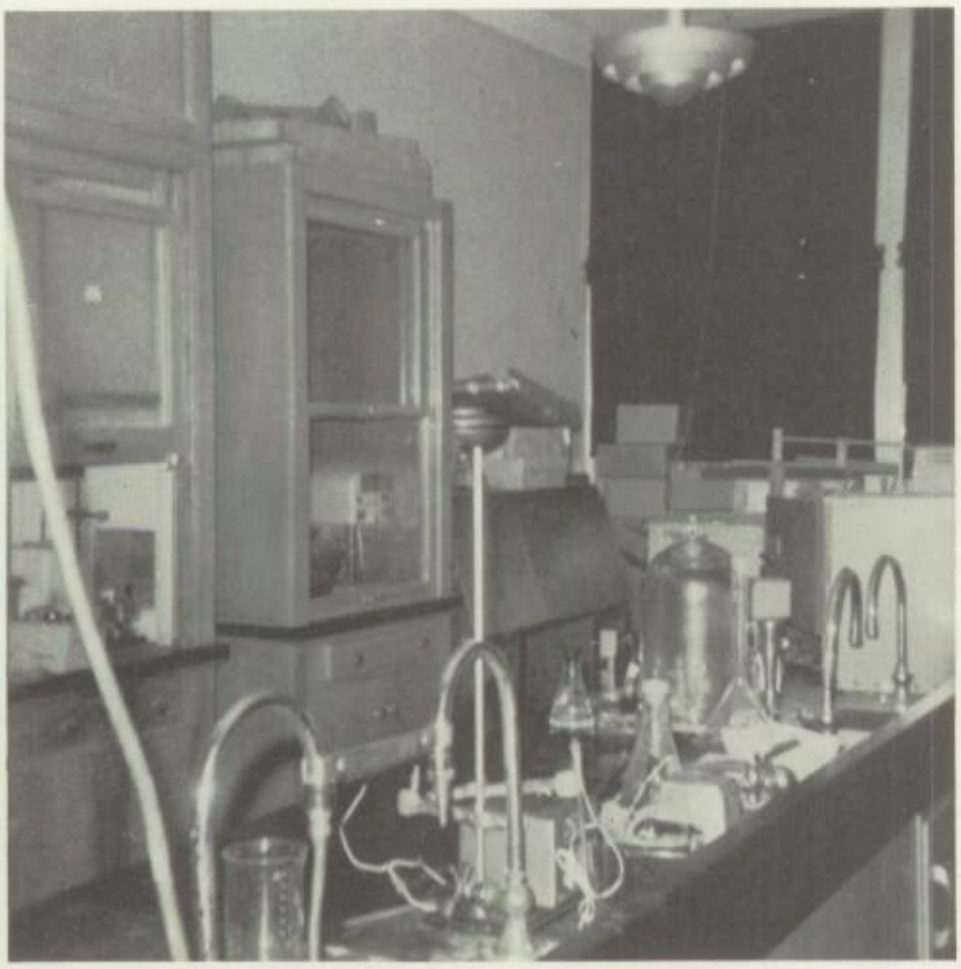
SCIENCE RATIO RISES



H_2O, H_2SO_4, and $E=MC^2$ booms through the hall where room 117 is located, three days a week as Mr. Gary Atwood pounds experiments and labor into the Bryan Adams Science Club. This Science Club enjoys a composition of TES_{15} (teacher-1, students-15). This ratio rises however, every January and February when every chemistry, physics, and biology student has a science project due.

The most outstanding project of the club, comes annually. This event, the Science Symposium, brings students from all over Texas to hear teachers and professors speak on specific topics. This symposium is one of the most successful of any high school.

Mr. Gary Atwood also is famous for his sponsorship of the Science Club. Without Mr. Atwood, the Science Club would never get going, get yelled at, or finish one experiment.

LOS VENCEDORES SEE THE GUATEMALA CHOIR

The Guatemala Choir, a Christmas banquet, and pinatas compose some of the programs of the Bryan Adams Los Vencedores. Since Spanish countries lie so close to us in geography, they have some of the most well-known customs in Texas. The Spanish Club helps students to appreciate these customs.

The national newspaper, Pan-Am Times, reports of the Spanish Club's activities in other schools. Los Vencedores had several worthwhile projects. The members raise money to buy braces for crippled children. Not only does the money go to this cause, but it is also sent to underprivileged children in Peru.

Club members look forward to the annual Christmas banquet held at a Mexican restaurant. Club members sing Christmas songs in Spanish and have a general good time. With the breaking of the pinata ends the year and the activities of Los Vencedores.

GERMAN CLUB YIELDS TO GERMAN HOLIDAYS

Oktoberfest, Weihachten, and Fasching may not mean much to the average student, but to the members of the Bryan Adams Der Deutsche Veren, German Club, they are very special days. An annual German feast, Oktoberfest, is celebrated November 1. At this feast, German students celebrated with German sausage. The Weihnachten party is celebrated much the same as our Christmas party. Fasching is the German Mardi Gras. German holidays are not the only activities of the club. In the spring, the TAG's convention was attended in Arlington by several students.

Meetings of the club are held every other Tuesday in the room of the sponsor, Miss Hoffman. President, Margie Wallace, presides at all meetings.

Among the quest speakers at the meetings was Cheryl Roach, foreign exchange student from Bryan Adams to Germany two years ago. Cheryl told the club of her many experiences while in Germany. Her speech helped the organization understand the life of people in Germany.

FUN, ENTERTAINMENT FOUND IN LES ELITES

To those interested in French customs, "Vous allez a la Les Elites," means to come to the French Club meeting. Often the president, Debbie Tanner, presents a speaker on some facet of French life, or a film may be shown, and refreshments always follow.

Meetings do not provide the only form of entertainment in the French Club. Candy sales, a Christmas caroling session and party, and the annual French Club Symposium cater to a variety of tastes. An annual French Club Banquet climaxes the year's activities. Officers for the on-coming year enjoy the delights of French Cuisine as they receive Congratulations from club members.

JCL MEMBERS ENJOY BIDDING FOR SLAVES

"Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears!" Once again the customs and traditions of Ancient Rome invaded Bryan Adams as the Junior Classical League presented its year of dinners, contests, and Roman banquets. Jan Ranicky and Fredda Beutel presided as the consuls over this year's activities.

To begin the year, an October dinner was given at a near-by Mexican restaurant to acquaint new members to the club. Next followed a Christmas party and, in March, the State Junior Classical League Convention. This year's convention was held in Port Arthur, Texas where Bryan Adams was well represented by a bus load of eager contestants.

Finishing the year in fine fashion, the JCL held its annual Roman Banquet. There, the club members dressed in togas and sandals and auctioned each other off as slaves.

VALENTINE TEA GIVEN BY LIBRARY COUNCIL

Shelving and checking out books, rearranging the card cataloque, and designing bulletin boards are a few of the many jobs of the members of the Library Council. These members, all library assistants, help Miss Fowler, the librarian, daily.

Gayle Anderson, president of the council, calls the meetings to order each month. After the minutes are read, new projects are discussed and decided upon. This year the Council decided to continue the annual custom of giving the faculty a Valentine Day Tea. They also gave an introductory tea for prospective council members from Gaston and Hill Junior High Schools. Filling Christmas stockings for the needy presented another project for this year's council.

Most of all, the Library Council helps keep the library in order, so students may quickly find their needed material.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS GIVE VALENTINE PARTY

Valentine's Day became a true holiday for many children in Dallas thanks to the Bryan Adams chapter of Future Homemakers of America. The members of FHA gave a large Valentine's party for the second and first graders at a near-by orphanage. The party included refreshments, games, and valentines for each of the children. Other service projects that FHA has performed this year included Christmas caroling at a local hospital and the preparation of fudge candy to be sold to the students at Bryan Adams. Interesting speakers, such as representatives of a gas company and a florist also informed the girls on the whys and hows of cooking and flower arranging.

In April, the FHA conducted a Career Day, composed of professional persons such as beauticians, nurses, and stewardesses. These women came to promote and inform the club members on their line of business.

The club finished their year by having the annual club picnic, in May, which honored both the new and old officers.

Remember your grade school teachers? Whether the memory is good or not so good, many Bryan Adams students await meeting their first students and the first memories. These students look forward to the many rewards, as well as hard work, in the field of teaching. Grading tests, early morning conferences, and daily teaching await the Future Teachers. The Bryan Adams Future Teachers Association prepares students for careers in teaching.

The Bryan Adams chapter meets every fourth Wednesday in the room of Mrs. Lenora Cathey, sponsor.

On October 12, the officers met at H. Grady Spruce High School for the District 5 workshop. Several students attended the District 5 workshop, held December 14, at North Texas State.

Christmas, the Future Teachers hosted a breakfast for the present teachers and in March an all day tea. Through this active participation, the Future Teachers of Bryan Adams hope to achieve their personal goals.

FUTURE SECRETARIES PLAN BRIGHT FUTURES

Jobs of taking dictation, writing letters, and filing belong to a future in secretarial work. Those students at Bryan Adams that intend to make this job their future join together to form the Future Secretarial Club.

Meeting on the second Tuesday of every month, the Future Secretaries hear speakers from various businesses in the city of Dallas. These speakers tell the students of the qualifications they must meet before they become an efficient secretary. This makes it easier for students to decide what subjects to include in their high school plan.

Glenda Nagel, president, headed the Future Secretaries in the selling of candy for charity programs. With this help in Future Secretaries, Bryan Adams students often succeed in secretarial work.

Y-TEENS GIVE FAMILY FOOD, FRUIT, MONEY

Giving parties for retarded and underprivileged children represent only part of the service projects carried out by Y-Teens this year. In November, the 15 members of Y-Teens gathered money, fruit, and canned goods for a Korean woman and her children so that they might enjoy a real Thanksgiving dinner. Around Christmas the club members, headed by president Dari Southall, bought clothes and toys to give to various underprivileged children. The club also gave a Halloween costume party for the children of Angel's Incorporated.

Service projects, although a major part of the Y-Teen year, do not monopolize this club's activities. Guest speakers also attend some meetings and inform the club members of the activities of other Y-Teen Clubs.

PROJECTIONISTS RULE FILM ROOM SCREENS

Going to the film room can just make the day for any Bryan Adams student. There they may forget about the worries of the classroom and concentrate upon the subject as it really is. But, some of the most important and least noted students in the film room are the girls that run the projectors. These girls give up one study hall a day to help teachers by taking care of the production of films issued by the Dallas Independent School District.

Other than running the projectors, these girls take care of the projectors, make sure the right film is shown at the right time, and run pixmobile units in the classrooms that are unable to obtain space in the film room.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION ENCOURAGES SAFETY

Often today, teenagers tend to forget a very important life-saving aspect of life, that of safety. The Bryan Adams Junior Citizens Traffic Commission promotes and encourages safety among students by choosing a student to serve as "Safe Driver of the Month."

Every Thursday night members from all Dallas high schools go to the downtown courthouse and listen to the offenses of teenagers. After a discussion, they decide on the fine or punishment a person may pay for his crime. Every Saturday morning, the Junior Citizens Traffic Commission listens to the offenses of twelve and thirteen year olds.

In the fall, the Junior Citizens Traffic Commission convention, held at Southern Methodist University, was attended by the Bryan Adams JCTC. The members discussed insurance, traffic safety, and driver's education. The chairman and secretary from each school represented led a group.

The Bryan Adams JCTC, composed of Student Council alternates, meets each third Wednesday. Kandy Kiker, president, and Debi Nowlin, vice-president, work with Mr. Joe Boring in planning the activities of the club.

PARA-MED CLUB PRESENTS FILMS, SPEAKERS

Physical therapist, anesthetist, dental hygienist, and veterinarian spoke to members of the Para-Medical Club. Para-Med, made up of students interested in any phase of medicine from brain surgery to tree surgery, meets under the leadership of president Cynthia Asher. They may listen to current information on medical procedures or watch a film demonstrating those procedures. Besides films and speakers, the Para-Medical Club also makes several field trips each year. They tour a local hospital to become familiar with the various functions of that hospital. Also, at Christmas time, Para-Med gathers food and gives it to some needy family so they might enjoy a real Christmas meal.

Acquainting all students with the excitement offered for service in various fields of medicine presents Para-Med Club with a challenging goal.

ALL MONEY COLLECTED GOES TO AID SOLDIERS

"Youth is You", became the campaign slogan for this year's Junior Red Cross, one of the two service clubs at Bryan Adams. Early in the year Red Cross representatives collected money to buy articles for servicemen in Vietnam. The money collected bought not only such things as razor blades, cigarettes, soap, and games for the men, but it also bought clothing and food for Vietnamese children.

Besides this project, the Junior Red Cross gives an annual Christmas program for the children and patients of a specific hospital. Each year the club members stuff stockings to give to children ill at Christmas. They also join the band, drill team, and the military clubs of the school in giving a much enjoyed Christmas pageant at the same hospital. With all their service projects, the Junior Red Cross keeps busy all year.

ICE SKATERS DISPLAY SURPRISING TALENTS

"Frostbite" and sore muscles make up the majority of the complaints voiced by the Bryan Adams Ice Skating Club. Despite these complaints, the fun and enjoyment greatly overshadows the pain. This club, made up of skaters ranging from amateur to pro, meets at the Livestock Coliseum in Fair Park to display various degrees of talent in ice skating. This club revolves around creating interest in the sport of ice skating, encouraging good fellowship and fun, and teaching those interested the basic principles of ice skating.

The president of the club, Curt Ficken, and the sponsor, Miss Lucy Anderson, keep a watchful eye over the skaters to make sure that no one kills himself while attempting a flying camel or figure-eight.

FCA MEMBERS HEAR ALL-STARS' SPEECHES

The chances of seeing a film of one of Curtis Cokes' fights narrated by Mr. Cokes himself seems pretty slim, unless you happen to be a member of the Bryan Adams Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This club consists of city-wide organizations composed of Christian athletes who get together each week to hold Bible studies or listen to talks given by city all-stars. The Bryan chapter of FCA, under president Randy Goss and Coach Herb Aduddell, holds its meetings in the homes of different members each week. At these meetings, the members may listen to a tape of Tom Landry or attend to the business of the club. Besides weekly meetings, FCA holds a city-wide meeting once a month for the Dallas schools that is attended by such speakers as Derek Davis or Craig Baynam. The topic of these all-star's speeches range from discussions of their sport to the importance of Christ in everyday living as well as in sports.

CHESS CLUB CHECKS

White Queen's Knight to Black side Castle, White Queen's Rook . . . CHECKMATE! These words echo out of room 148 every afternoon at 4:00, as members of the Bryan Adams Chess Club meet to have daily tournaments. Mr. Perry Berns and his chess players try to force the surrender of the opposing man's king. To play chess, a person must have a quick mind and be able to concentrate on what he is doing and what his opponent might do. President John Jacobs leads the Chess Club in the conquering of the game.

PUB STAFF LAMPOONS THE SENIOR CLASS OF 69

UPPER: The Pub Staff uses many sources for their ideas, like old Pubs and Mad.
LOWER: Pub sponsor, Miss Voss, and Powell Banning discuss "Highlights" of different Seniors' lives.

The student body has always associated the Senior Pub with the common "stab." However, the student body should realize that it is all just constructive criticism.

The Pub editor, Powell Banning, forces his crew to dig up every bit of degrading information on every Senior. This information is then told to the whole world through rhymes, riddles, wind-ups, and jokes.

The Pub, this year, had a bigger job than previous Pub staffs. As is the case every year, the Senior class was bigger, which logically provides a bigger job. Students, however, are not the only ones "knocked" in the Pub. There always seems to be a few teachers who have enough status to be spied upon.

The overall acceptance of the Pub, however, is very good. The students and teachers both enjoy the "cuts" and jokes.

68-69 ANNUAL STAFF WRITES BEST SELLER

"Where are my pictures? I've requested those pictures four times now." This phrase expresses the biggest problem of the 1968-69 el Conquistador staff. No matter how many times pictures were taken or requested, they were lost somewhere between the camera and the annual staff. All of a sudden, however, one of the photographers miraculously found just the pictures we were looking for.

The annual staff, through all of this confusion always met their deadlines. The reason for this was that the staff had extreme cooperation within their groups.

The annual staff worked hard to put out the 1969 el Conquistador. Their jobs included getting at least six pictures for every activity, organization, student, faculty member, and sports activity. The staff members endeavor to meet three deadlines. By the first of March, all pages have been sent to the publisher, and the annual staff begins to work on next year's book.

TRAINING IMPORTANT FOR CHRONICLE WORK

Every two weeks, all the worry, time, and effort of the Cougar Chronicle staff bursts in making their deadline result in the publication of another Cougar Chronicle. During the football season, a special two page spread for football added a special touch. Special editions appeared at Homecoming, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine's Day.

To learn more about publishing a paper, staff members traveled to Denton's Texas Woman's University to attend a workshop. In March, they traveled to Austin, home of the University of Texas.

Besides the twenty-two staff members, Senior Journalism students serve as reporters. Juniors train for the coming year during the Spring semester. Miss Ann Voss, sponsor, helped Nikki Sorenson, editor, with the publication of the Cougar Chronicle.

DILIGENT WORK HONORED BY QUILL AND SCROLL

Outstanding students from the el Conquistador staff and the Cougar Chronicle staff make up the honorary Quill and Scroll club. Students chosen must have at least a "C" average and be of Junior status. They must have a recommendation from the sponsors. A banquet in April rewards these students with a special induction ceremony. Special awards for outstanding work go to the Senior editors.

In February, the Quill and Scroll members helped with the initiation of Quill and Scroll members at Lake Highlands High School. There they presented a special candlelighting ceremony.

Danny Dantzler served as 68-69 president. Mrs. Linda Ray and Miss Ann Voss, sponsors of el Conquistador and Cougar Chronicle, work together in sponsoring Quill and Scroll.

R.O.T.C. TEACHES CITIZENSHIP AND PATRIOTISM

Lieutenant Colonel McClure points out items to be improved for perfect parade results.

"If the shoe fits, wear it!" quotes a common term used by Lieutenant Colonel McClure. The "Colonel" and Sergeant Major Stadler act almost like guidance counselors to those cadets who accept their advice. They take a personal interest in each cadet.

The staff, sponsors, companies, inspections, parades, drill team, rifle team, and Military Ball sum one year of active participation in the corps. The theme of ROTC often gets lost in all of the activities; yet each cadet continues to learn the true meaning of citizenship.

Sergeant Major Stadler works at his desk on the inventory of supplies.

Present at all ROTC activities, the "Sergeant Major" surveys an inspection.

THE SPONSORS LEARN MILITARY PROCEDURE

R.O.T.C. sponsors bring a little extra enjoyment to the corps. At the beginning of school each cadet nominates a senior girl whom he would like to represent his company. After the nominations close, the election results tell which girl will sponsor each of the four companies. The sponsor attends the battalion parades and inspections usually held Wednesday mornings. The girls have to choose the kind of uniform they want to wear. The company commander escorts his company's sponsor in the Grand March at the Military Ball. Each sponsor automatically becomes a nominee for the honor of Military Queen. The staff also chooses a representing sponsor for the year.

DRILL TEAM PRECISION TAKES MUCH PRACTICE

The Les Sabres, Bryan Adams' ROTC drill team, consists of a group of cadets interested in working hard to compete with other schools. They work on precision drill such as the exchange of arms through mid-air. Cadets who want to be on the team strive for good grades, sharp appearance in uniform, and skill in regular drill.

The Drill Team commander, Cadet Colonel Wison, chose the kind of uniform he wanted for the competitions. He said that they are simpler this year than in years past. There are approximately four competitions starting around midterm. Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Biles, the executive officer and guideon bearer, has great confidence in this year's drill team, basically because of each member's "enthusiasm."

CADETS MEET SOCIAL SIDE OF R.O.T.C. AT BALL

The 1969 Military Ball marked the crowning of the new R.O.T.C. queen, Miss Celia Hunter. Celia was nominated by the company she represented, Company "A". All of the girls nominated for Military Ball Queen were sponsors for one of the companies. After the girls names were placed on the ballot, all R.O.T.C. members voted.

Attending the 1969 Ball as special guests were many past R.O.T.C. officers and retired army officers. Among these were Bill May (past company "C" commander), Richard Smith (past Battalion commander), and David McDonald (past company "A" commander). Retired General Harley B. West also came to the Military Ball as an honored guest. Sandy Collier Reusser, last year's queen, crowned the 1969 queen also by invitation.

The program was announced by Don Pitts. All guests plus the R.O.T.C. members added to the success of the 1969 Military Ball.

SAN ANGELO SOAKS COUGARS

The Bobcats of San Angelo plus an accompanying rain poured over the Cougars of Bryan Adams Friday 16-0. Randy Cavender threw four out of nineteen pass completions for 89 yards and nine first downs. On the ground Randy and company carried the ball for 122 yards and three penetrations of the five-yard line. Randy Cavender then crashed into the end zone, but an illegal motion penalty nullified the six points.

Regardless of the rain soaked field, the Belles made an appearance on the field to cheer the dampened spirits of the student body. Even though the Cougar band sat on the bleachers during half time, the sound could be heard all over San Angelo. Though the Cougars had much spirit, it could not erase the sixteen points scored by San Angelo early in the first half.

GARLAND INCHES BY B.A.

Do scoreboards lie? No, not exactly, but the one at Garland's Williams Stadium seemed a liar to the B. A. fans. Bryan Adams had snuffed out the Owls like a candle, but Garland's share of the 12,000 wide-eyed fans nursed their boys through a perspiring stream of hope to victory.

The Cougars held the lead at half time, 7-0. After a Garland score in the second half, Cougar quarterback Randy Cavender fired for the second time to Bill Horton for a fifty-eight yard scoring play. Dillard Martin then took the honors and booted to make the score 14-7, Cougars.

The Garland Owls outscored the Big Green Cougars with three blustering bullets with only 4:48 remaining in the second half. But Bryan Adams, meaning the fans and players as one, roared to the gridiron to muster an attack. The Cougars marched valiantly until the ball was intercepted with time running out. The scoreboard read 14-13.

COUGARS POUNCE ON THE PANTHERS, 40-15

Prowling by foot, the Big Green Cougars pulverized the Hillcrest Panthers Friday night at Forester Field, 40 to 15. The night air of September 27 created the balm for the Cougar's backbreaking brawl. The Cougars chewed 251 yards from the Panther line as Bennett Wade, Dennis Gardner, Blake Johnson, and Sam Knapp charged from the handoffs of Cougar quarterback Randy Cavender.

Averaging almost 7 yards per carry, the Cougars from B.A. made touchdowns on six different occasions. Although the Cougars failed on all extra point kicks of the evening, R. J. Childress garnered a pair of P.A.T. passes to keep the tally balanced.

By the strong Cougar efforts of defensive end Randy Llywelyn and center Bobby Green, the Bryan Adams' Green and White held the Panthers of Hillcrest to only 22 yards rushing and only 15 points on the board.

With efforts by all Cougars gridders, the team from Bryan Adams came out on top, 40-15.

COUGARS MAUL TIGERS

The mighty Cougars powerfully pawed the Lincoln Tigers to woeful total of 38-8 at the north zone's schoolboy jungle at Forester Field. The central one-fourth of the B.A. backfield, Randy Cavender, inducted his own air line system as he completed two hundred and three yards worth of aerials. Cavender fired pay off pitches to Randy Goss, Bill Horton, R. J. Childress, and Keith Hamby. Additional scoring plays were enacted by Dennis Gardner and Sammy Knapp.

In the second quarter, the anxious Tigers of the Lincoln team sought a dramatic comeback with a touchdown and a successful two point conversion. Keith Hamby blasted through the offensive line of Lincoln to find the quarterback asleep enabling Hamby to strike up two points for B.A. on a safety. Largely thanks to tackles Bruce Gaw and Dick Simpson, along with linebackers R. J. Childress and guard Mike Crowe, the Cougars did not allow Lincoln another pay dirt prowl.

COUGAR CONSISTENCY WHOMPS SPRUCE 46-8

The crushing B. A. Cougars of 11-AAAA fame, bombed the Spruce Apaches Friday at Forester Field, 46-8.

The Cougars performed in fanciful furor as Randy Cavender opened his bomb bay doors with a duo of aerial six pointers to Randy Goss. Other team quarterbacks Dennis Gardner and Steve Richey also piloted scoring air raids against the Indians as they connected with Bill Horton and Wallace Franklin respectively.

The cracking Cougar consistency remained on target throughout the course of the evening. Bryan Adams scorers Blake Johnson and Randy Cavender aimed themselves rewardingly as they each contributed six points to the Cougar's rack.

The anti-aircraft defensive for Bob Cowsar's Cougars, David Collop, Steve Collop, and Craig Johnson, demolished Spruce's only hopes by holding the redmen to a measly eight points.

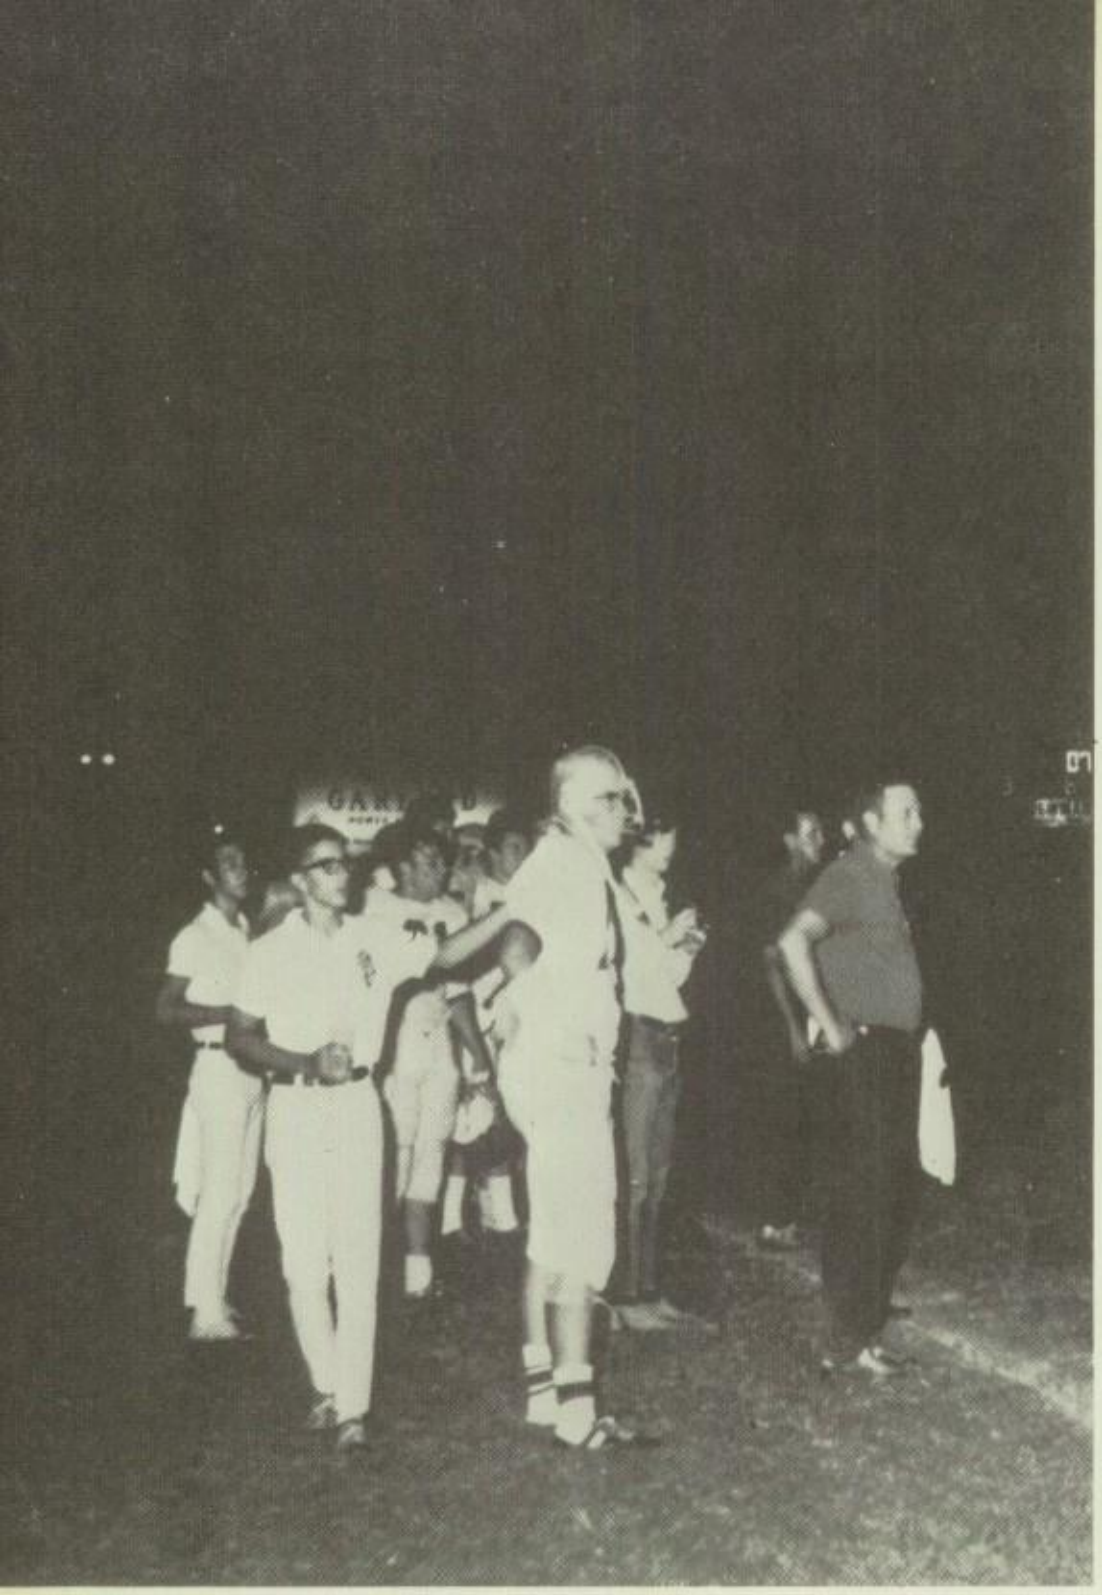
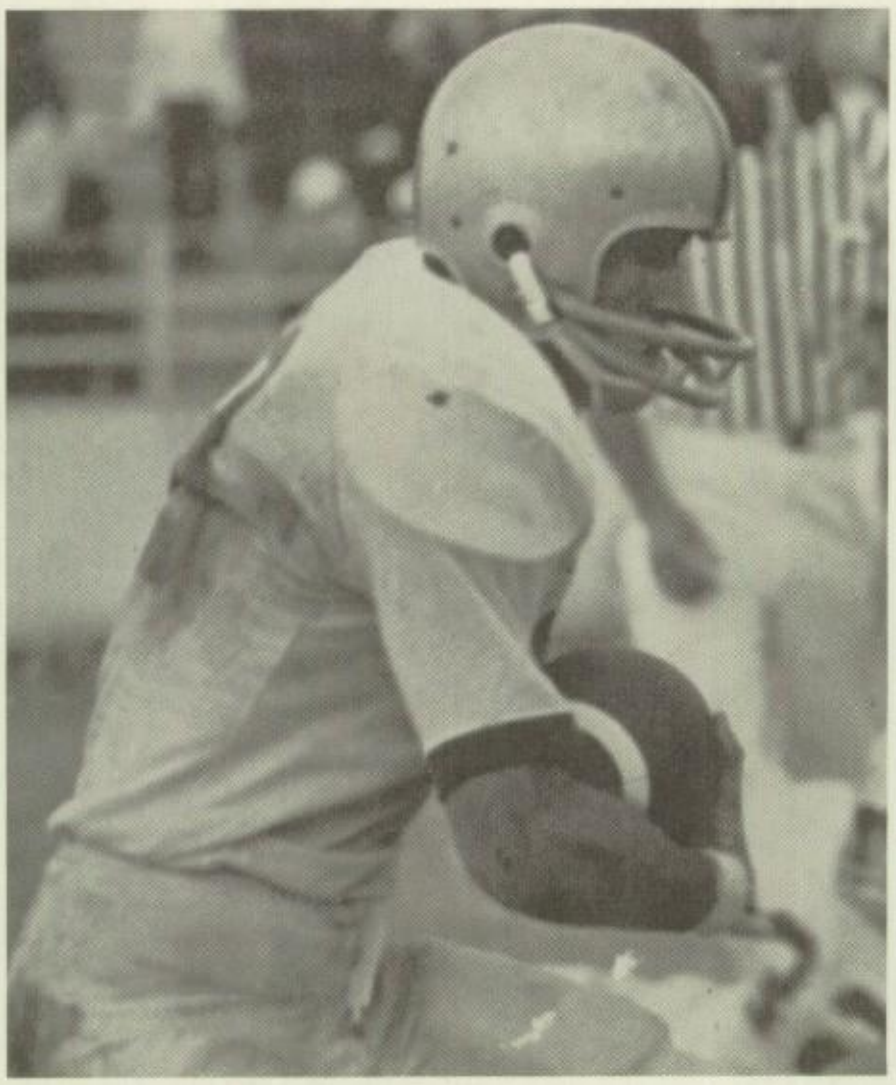
COUGARS "COOL" REBS

The weather was cold and the fans were cold, but the Bryan Adams Cougar defense was definitely not. The Cougar defense held the Rebs on four different penetrations of the Cougar twenty-five yard line.

Early in the first stanza Cougar quarterback Randy Cavender kept "cool" with a seventy-seven yard blast for the only T. D. of the evening. The B. A. defense then screamed into third gear to stop the Old South with a deadlock of points.

The teams entered the gridiron with a cold sweat as the stage was set for the second half. On three different Rebel strikes inside the twenty-yard line, the Cougars remained valiantly consistent in their battle. The next T. J. offensive strike was frozen as B. A. defender Craig Johnson picked off a pass and zipped to his own two. Sammy Knapp and R. J. Childress then killed the final T. J. charge on the T. J. eleven.





B.A. TRAMPLE TROJANS

At Friday night's Troy-Forester Field entered a big green Cougar. From the mighty cat of delusion such warriors as Steve Thornton, Randy Cavender, Randy Goss, Craig Johnson, Bill Horton, Bennett Wade, R. J. Childress, and Blake Johnson emerged to trample the Madison Trojans, 53-18.

On the opening kickoff, Craig Johnson charged 83 yards for the Cougars. Johnson later smashed across to give B. A. an early lead. Junior Bennett Wade led the attack for the following Cougar score as he fought twenty-five yards to within a yard of the summoned stripe. Senior QB Randy Cavender then rammed his line to paydirt and six points.

Besides the usual marching role of Sophomore "Boy Wonder" Blake Johnson, sub fullback Steve Thornton strode for several crucial yards which delivered three touchdowns Cougar style.

B.A. POWDERS PINKSTON

The Victorious Vikings of Pinkston "blew it" as the Cougars of B.A. clawed their way just that much closer to the district 11-AAAA crown. It was a stalemate in the north district, but the Cougars relieved all anxiety for Pinkston. While the Vikings held their breath Bryan Adams collapsed the hopes of their opponent and stimulated the hopes of their own.

Cougars 26, read the scoreboard following Randy Cavender's pair of touchdowns, and his 48 yard completion to flash Bill Horton. Dillard Martin then sparkled the trio of Cougar touchdowns with an equal number of P.A.T.'s. Defensive end Keith Hamby blocked the Pinkston "point after" to leave the Vikings with 6 points, to Bryan Adams 26.

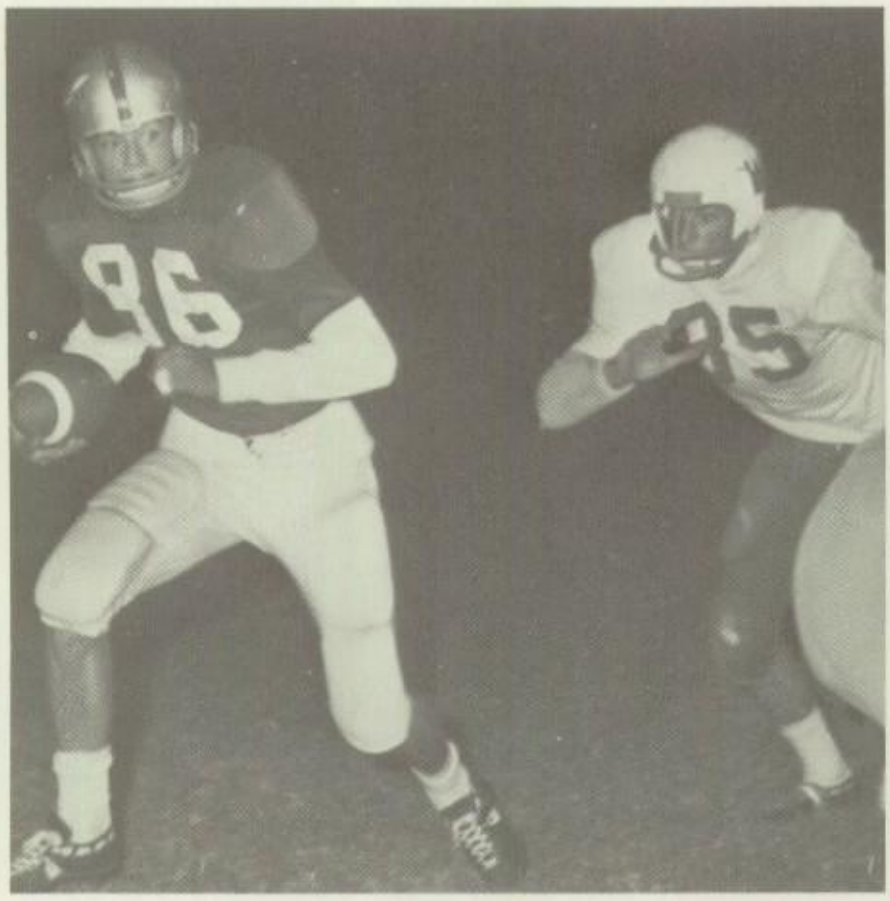
B.A.'S COUGARS BUTCHER WHITE'S LONGHORNS



The Cougars of B. A. butchered the W. T. White Longhorns with the slashing arm of Randy Cavender and the cutting power of his sub-back Steve Thornton.

The first play of the evening featured Cavender on a thirty yard whip to Bill Horton. This was only the beginning of the Cougars 11-AAAA title clincher as TD's were marked awarded to Randy Cavender, Randy Goss, Bennett Wade, Dillard Martin, Steve Thornton, and Bill Neal.

The Cougars performed outstandingly as a team, but the featured "cow-puncher" of the slaughter was slippery Steve Thornton. Steve burned his brand on the memory of the Longhorns with his first play on the grid. The 158 lb. "zip-back" snipped White's horns and gushed thirty-five yards for a score, Number 16! The initial tote was merely a rehearsal for his game total of 140 yards on 14 carries.

COUGARS CAPTURE DISTRICT IN SPARTAN DEFEAT

Following the Bryan Adams Cougars' pre-conference losses to the San Angelo Bobcats and the Garland Owls, Cougar coach Bob Cowsar explained "I had rather lose to a couple of good teams and learn something, than to play two softies and pad my record." The Cougars learned something all right. They learned how to play fantastic football, and, in the process, they captured the District 11-AAAA crown for the third consecutive year.

The B. A. team shutout the Samuell Spartans, as they did in the previous zone rivalrous 'rouses of '66 and '67, with the leadership of a Cowsar brand QB. This time the man under was Randy Cavender. Notorious number "25" threw a pair of passes to Randy Goss and R. J. Childress. Cavender also called the shots for his final six-point play as Blake Johnson zoomed 71 yards, and Bennett Wade zipped 2 yards to make the final tally, 28-6.

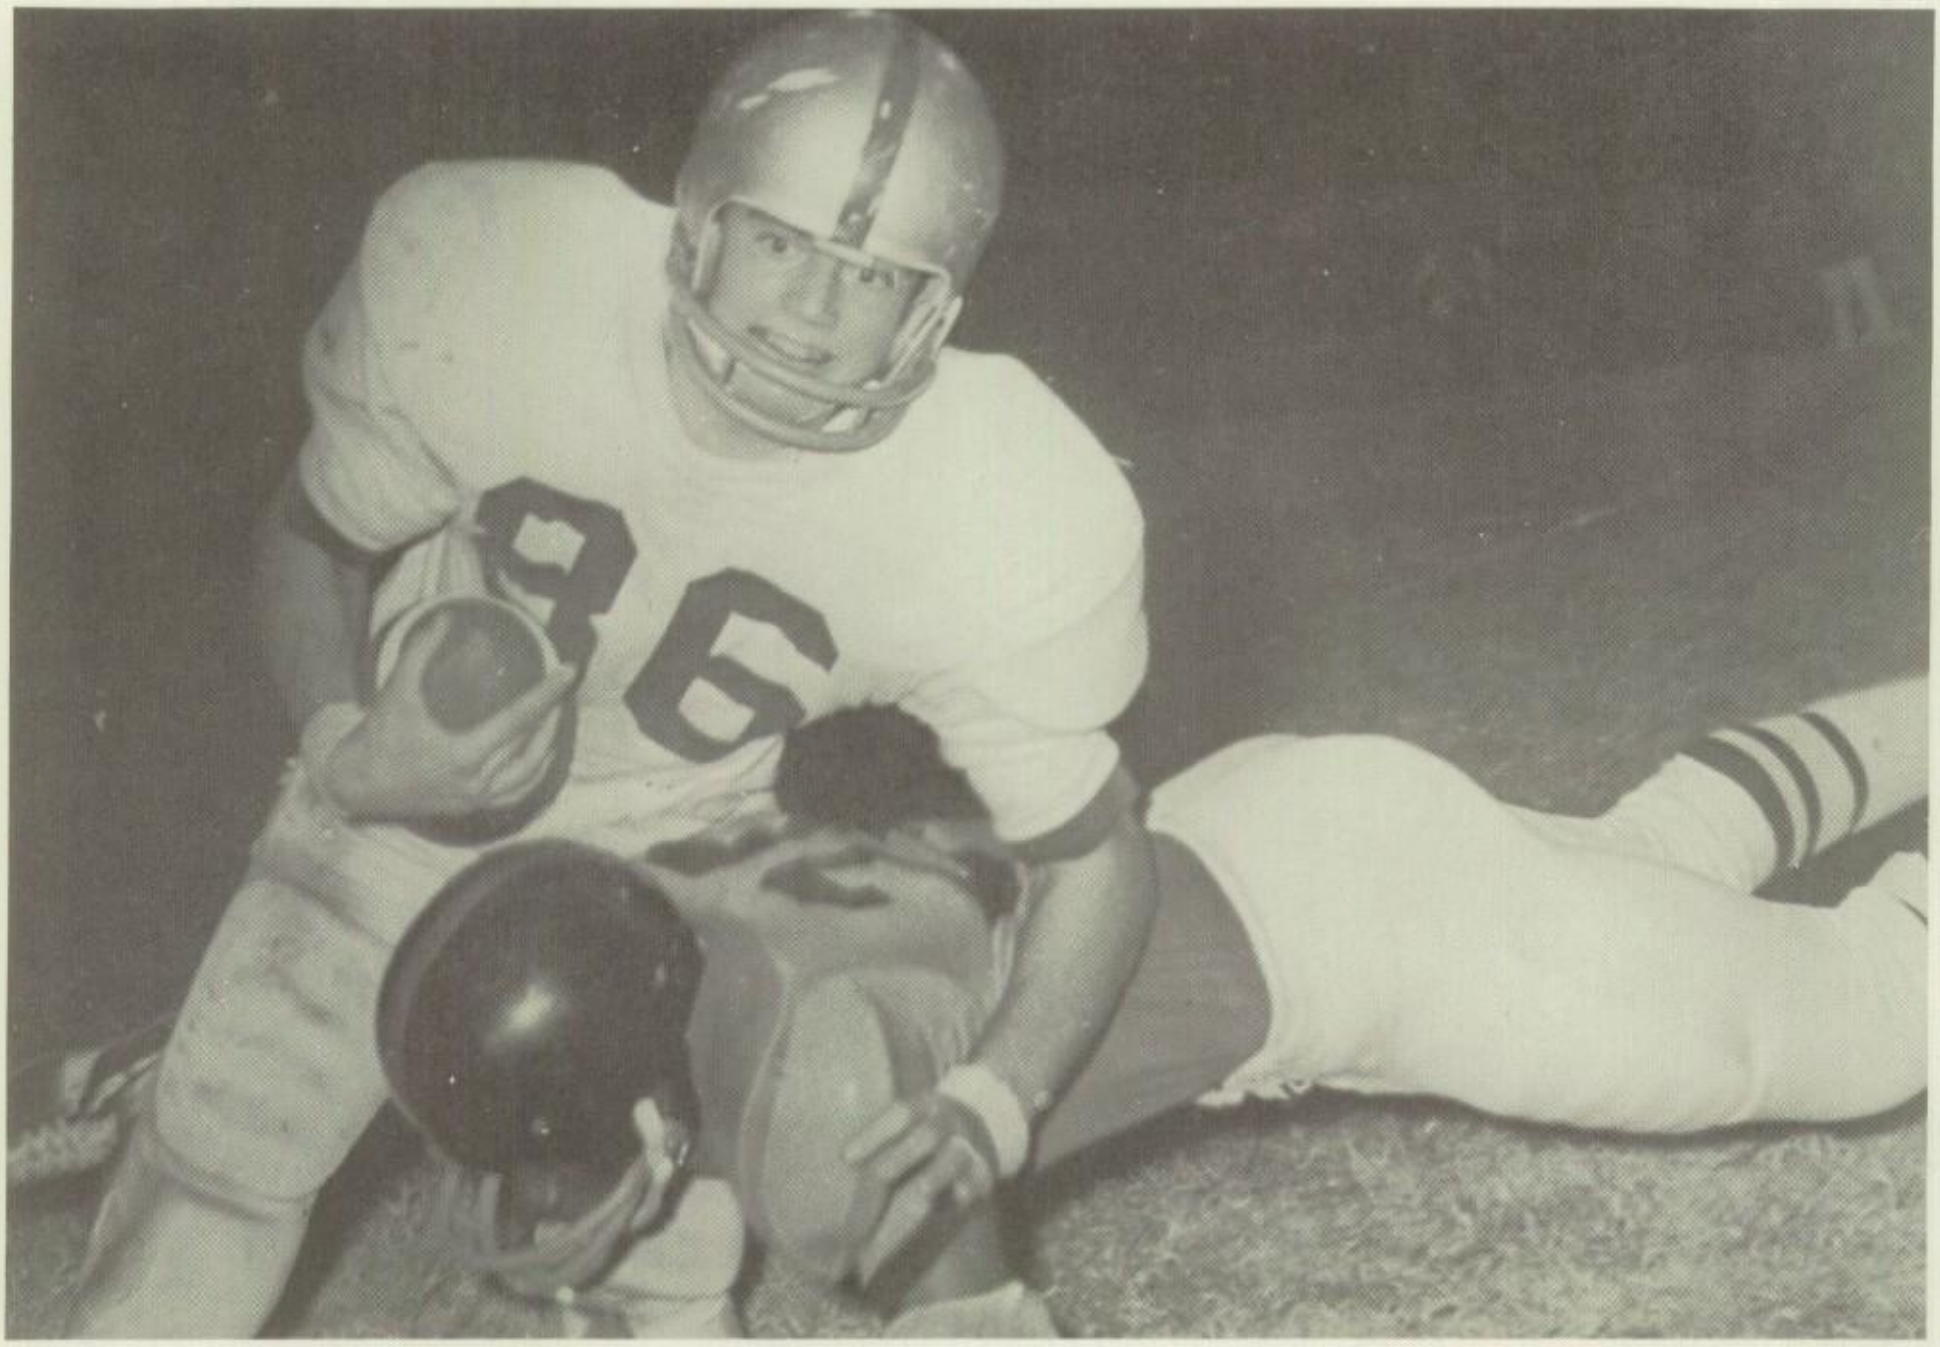
S.O.C. "BARES" BY B.A. FOR BI-DISTRICT TITLE



Friday night November 22 marked the decision for the 1968-69 Bi-District Schoolboy football championship. Following four quarters of AAAA football at Dallas Cobb Stadium, the Bryan Adams Cougars held 22 first downs and totaled a majority of yardage to the South Oak Cliff Golden Bears' 10 first downs and lesser yardage. The scoreboard read differently, however, 13 to 12, S.O.C.

Cougar back Sammy Knapp charged for the only Cougar touchdown of the Cougar-Bear encounter, but Dillard Martin put his toe to the pigskin to give B.A. a game total of twelve.

The Cougar squad was defeated, the coaches dejected, and the fans, disheartened; but the Cougar team valiantly joined their opponent in the center of the field for remarks for a successful football season.

The "Big Green" terminated the football year as the district 11-AAAA Champions for 1968.

Cougar styles basketball teams with excitement, fury, and intensity. The Cougar Team Co-captains Jimmy Walter and Steve Sparks proved their possessions of these traits as they piloted their team to a rewarding season.

Coach Ralph Zeitz engineered the Cougar plans as the Big Green reached finals in the annual Dr Pepper Tournament and captured a traditional B.A. winning season. The Coūgars won nine out of several zone games to place very well in the District 11-AAAA.

The Bryan Adams 1969 basketball squad was sponsored by senior cheerleader and Basketball Queen, Linda White. With backing by Linda, as well as the entire student body, the Cougars represented B.A. in honorable fashion in 1969.

Springtime brings the game of baseball to Bryan Adams.

Following an undefeated city season in 1968, 1969 proved to be a highly profitable season for Cougar Coach Dolph Regelsky. Many experienced ball players from the 1968 season such as Mike Cary, Greg Williams, Steve Collop, Jon Dooley, David Collop, Craig Johnson, Randy Rutledge, and Randy Cavender led the 1969 squad to the diamond.

With the experienced leadership, precision ability, raw power, and many long hours of workout, the Cougar baseball team mastered a traditional winning season for Bryan Adams. By playing "heads up" baseball, the Cougars of B.A. further increased the Cougar status in sports.

TRADITION OF VICTORY FOUND IN TRACKSTERS

1969 marked the transition from just plain running and jumping to an art of track and field of increased speed and agility. Coach Frank Davis succeeded in achieving the principal goal of a high school team—improvement. These athletic fundamentals are a devotion of hard work and long hours of practice. The Bryan Adams Cougar track and field squad constantly continued this tradition in a manner of victory.

The Cougars competed in several district meets bringing home many representative ribbons for the "Big Green." The Cougars remained consistent throughout the track season which chalked up another victory for Bryan Adams.

The individual members of the 1969 track team devoted their efforts to beat the clock, jump the mark, or heave the weight as a team expression for Bryan Adams High School.

After hours of frustration trying to improve and refine their swings to precision at Tennison Park golf course the Bryan Adams Cougar golf team came through with another successful year. Coached by Herb Best and captained by John Gee, the B.A. linkmen brought home numerous honors from tournaments around the state. Along with Gee, Ken Smith, Tommy Cox, Bill Morrow, John Young, and Paul Cook, Cougar Power roamed the links in Dallas as well as Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, and San Antonio.

During the city golf season, B.A. golfers, John Gee, Bill Morrow, Tommy Cox, and John Young took an average total of 312 strokes on Tennison's West Course. Shooting par golf such as this, the Cougars placed first in all City matches except Hillcrest where the Cougars were one stroke point out after eighteen holes of play.

Coach Herb Aduddell brought the 1969 Cougar swimmers through many long workouts at SMU's Joe Perkins Auditorium and Hockaday's swimming pool. As a reward for the Bryan Adams aquarians' pre-meet trials, the Cougar squad landed several city and regional honors. Several awards were earned by the Big Green through individual efforts as well as many team wrought victories.

Bryan Adams was represented in all swimming categories including diving. The B.A. team practiced three nights a week as a team, and individuals worked in small teams or merely by themselves to perfect an element of swimming.

Through such devoted work, Coach Herb Aduddell and the Varsity and "B" swimming teams added another successful record to the Cougar line of winning representatives.

COUGAR TENNIS TEAM VOLLEYS FOR CITY CROWN

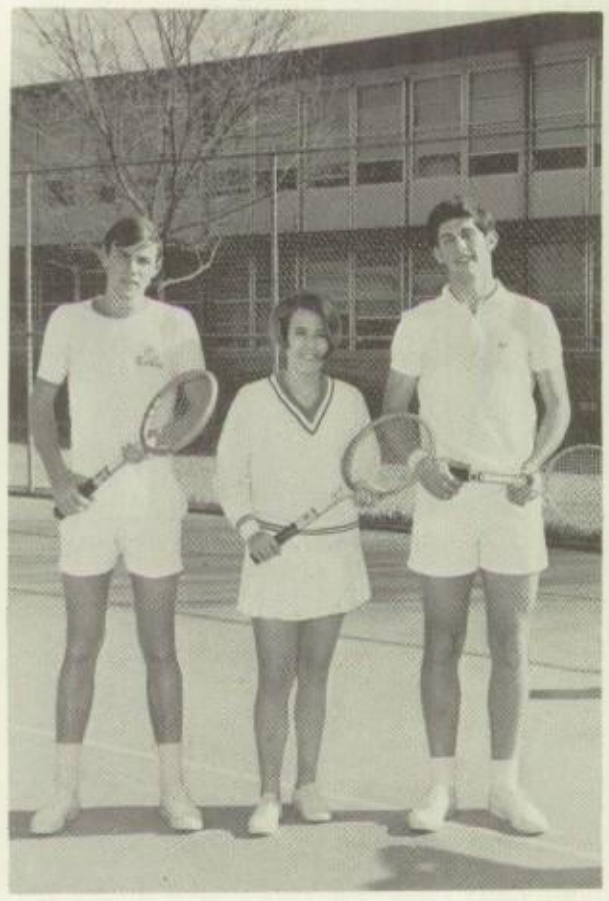
Centuries ago, the French were playing a game which interested some visitors from England. The English heard the frequent cry, "ten-ez," which is the command "resume play." The Bryan Adams Cougar tennis team of 1968-69 resume their play in a lustful haste for victory. The Bryan Adams acers proved their worth in 1969 in a number of matches with various high school opponents. The Cougar "racketeers" rambunctiously rammed the tennis balls in '69 and the changing ways of the game of tennis exemplified the Cougar drive in interscholastic high school athletics.

The team was led by coach Elizabeth Trice. The court masters were led to the clay by seniors Truett Majors, Merrie Pratt, and Mike Smith. With the leadership, good sportsmanship, and appropriate tennis technique, the 1968-69 Bryan Adams Cougar tennis team successfully compiled a winning season.



Participating seniors are Mike Smith, Merrie Pratt, and Truett Majors.

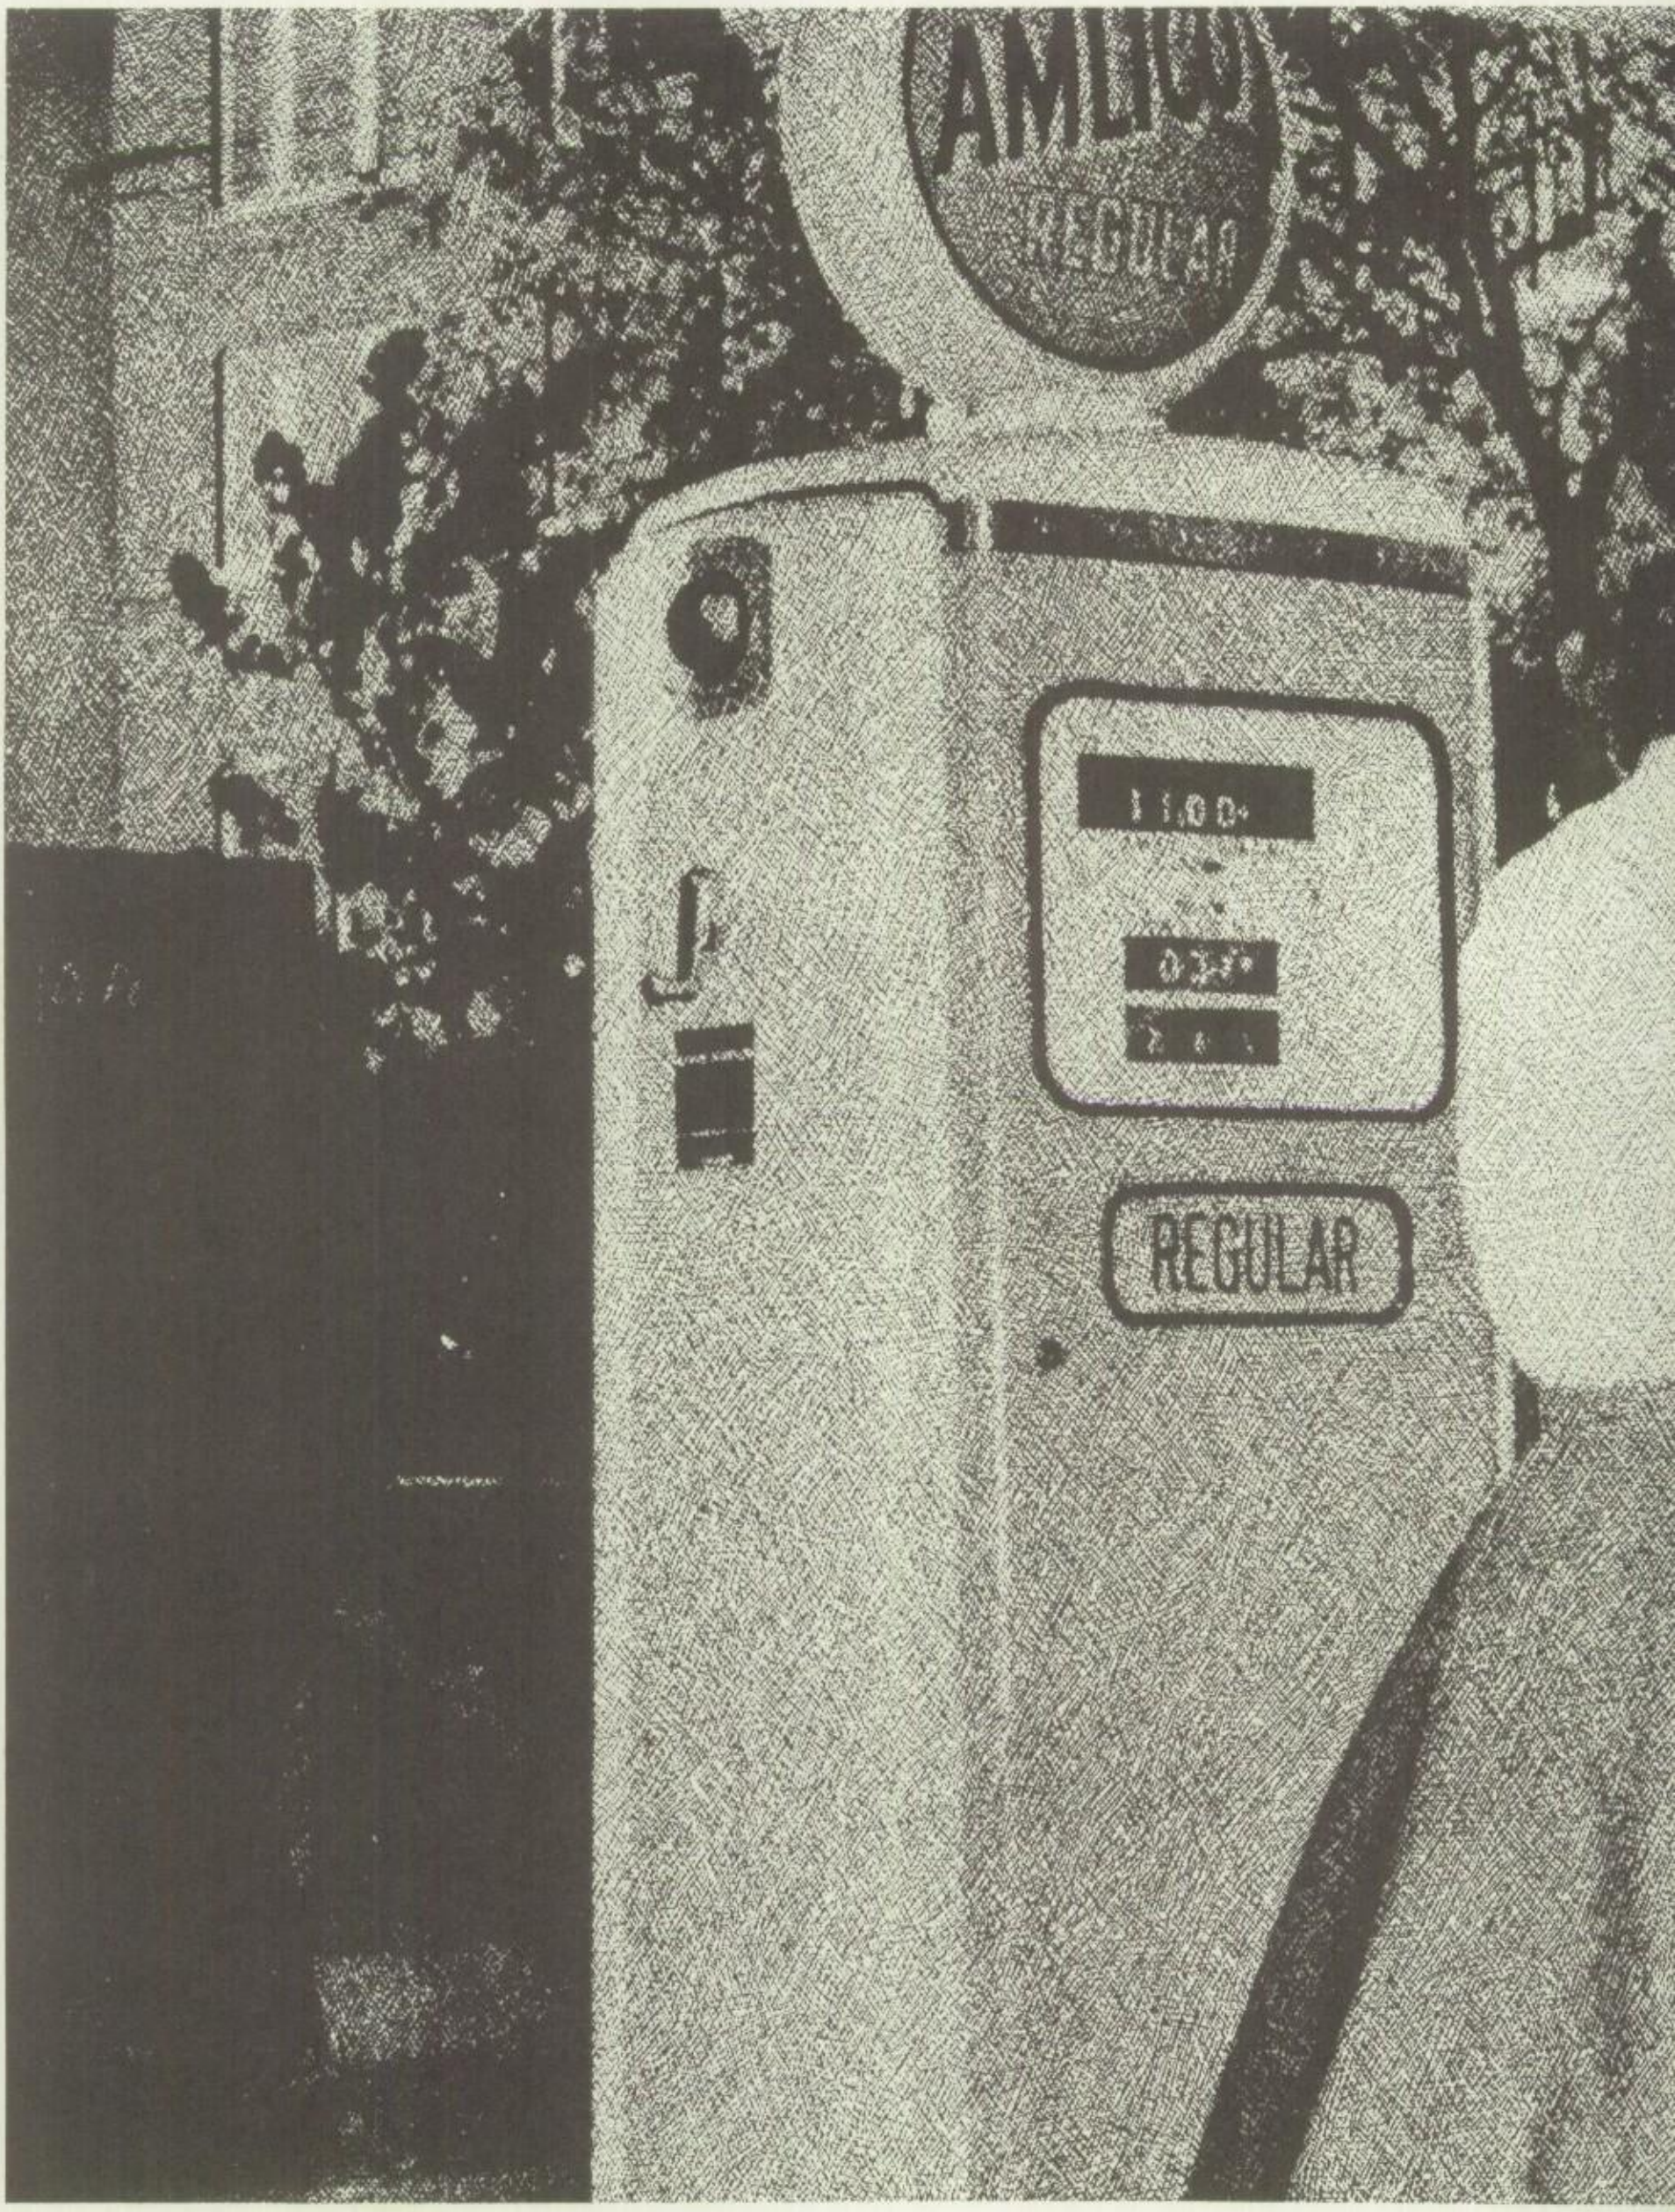
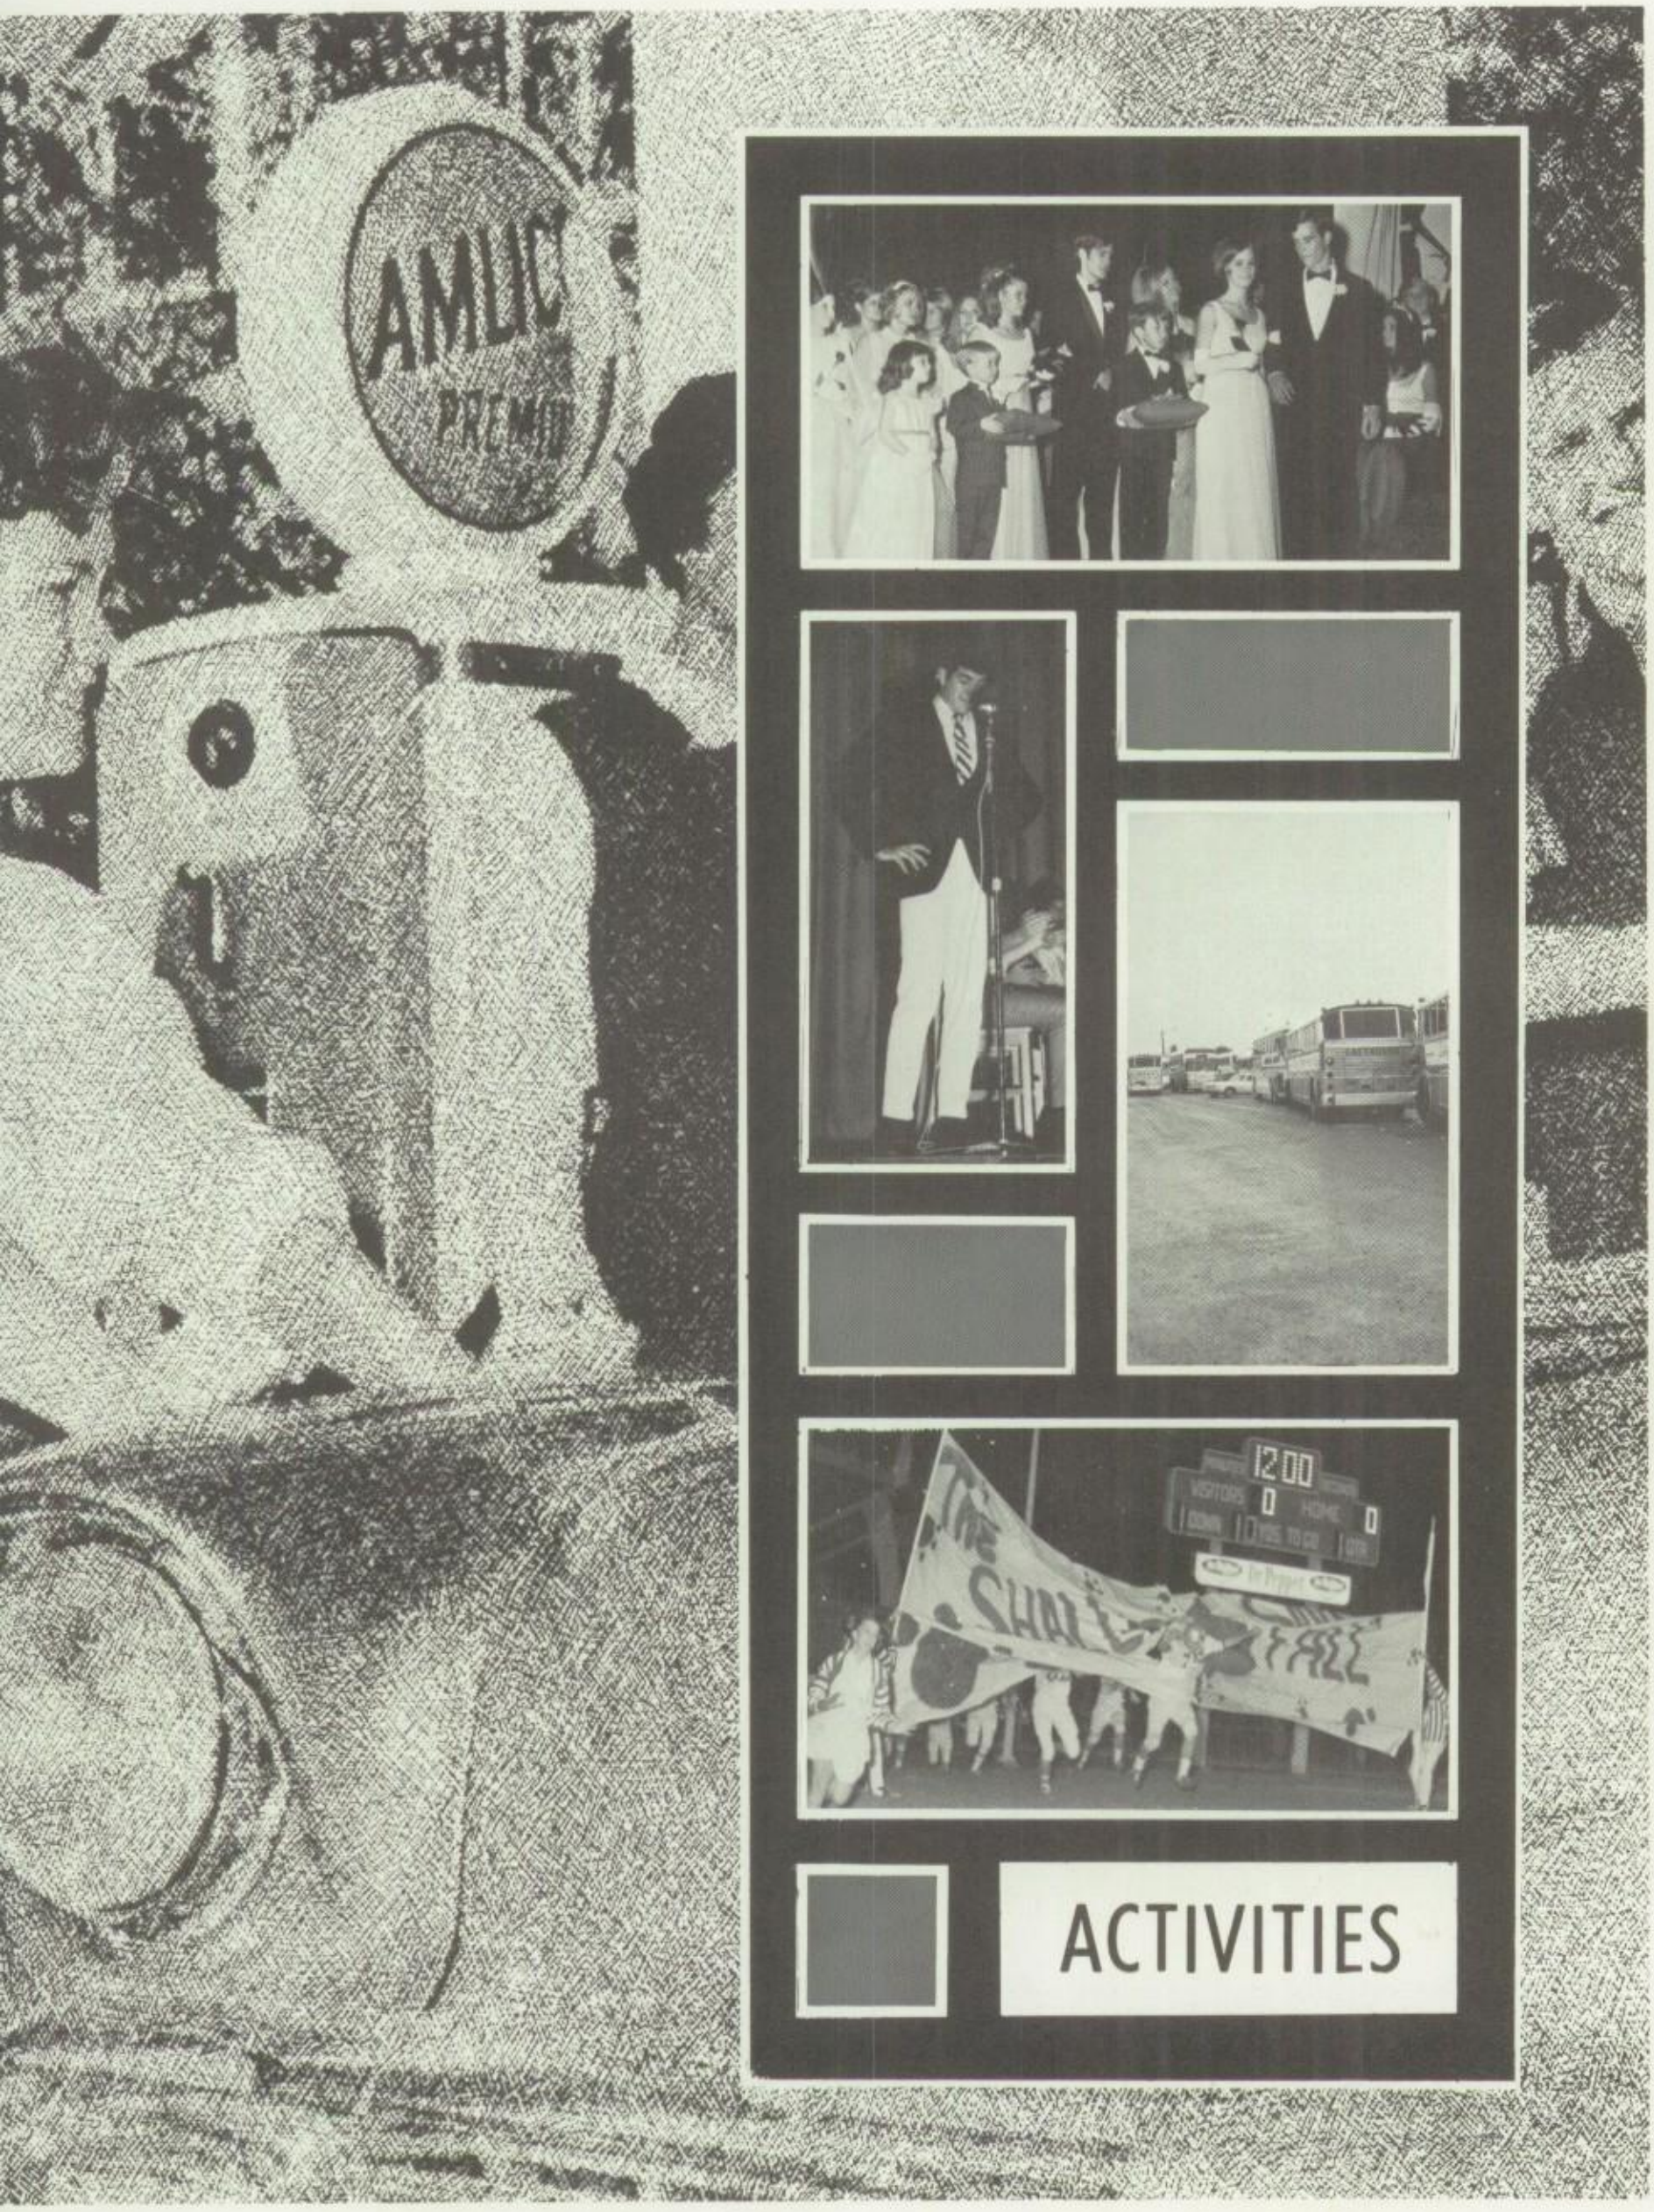
Originality and wit of the Bryan Adams student body never fail to produce a clever approach to each new activity.





ACTIVITIES

SCHOOL STARTS EARLY FOR MANY STUDENTS

School started in August for many of the students at Bryan Adams. Getting up at 6 a.m. was only part of the fun of summer practice for Band, Belles, and majorettes. Preparing for halftime shows of the coming season, the Band memorized music while majorettes and Belles learned new routines.

The cheerleaders were also kept busy during the summer with weekly practices plus five days at SMU Cheerleader school. There, they won the Spirit stick for the third consecutive year. During the last week of August, the cheerleaders taught cheers and chants to the new Spirits.

Sophomores were welcomed to B.A. at an assembly the day before school began. Cougar Books were sold by Student Council members to help the new students find their way.

SOUND OF ASSEMBLY SPURS OUR TEAM ON

"Whomp 'em up the side of the head; say whomp 'em up the side of the head; hey hey, hey!!! This among other chants could be heard during the pep assemblies and games. Something new this year was the presentation of the "Spirit Beanie" to one of the cheerleaders each week to wear all day and during the game. Cheerleaders also provided extra humor and spirit through skits promoting each of the games. The skits ranged from Roman gladiators to Linda White picking up Mike Thomas and carrying him across the stage.

The football team added their point of view through "pep talks" given by a member of the team to the assembly each week. Several assemblies were highlighted by performances by the Belles and majorettes.

Each assembly closed with the traditional cheer "Two Bits" and the singing of the alma mater.

FRIDAY 13th BRINGS BAD LUCK TO COUGARS

Flashing lights and a loud siren welcomed the 16 busloads of students who traveled 250 miles to watch the opening game of the season against San Angelo on Sept. 13. Arriving at the city limits, the police escort led the buses to Luby's Cafeteria for dinner.

Getting to leave school 2 hours early was only part of the excitement. Students were caught unprepared for the continuing rain, but the enthusiasm of the students was not dampened. Although forced to dress in the stadium locker room at last minute notice, the Belles and majorettes performed in spite of the rain. After losing to San Angelo 16-0, the soggy, sleepy students loaded their buses for the long trip back to Dallas.

NFL ADOPTS ELECTION AS THEME FOR SHOW

"I am the Walrus," announced Gorge Walrus, thus ending the search for the missing "Static Party" candidate and bringing the NFL Talent Show to a close. Two spies searched the globe over for Walrus while gathering talent at the same time. Students were kept in touch with their progress by news commentators Linda Horner and Bob Cohen.

Highlights of the show, entitled "International Affair", included singer Barbie Baines, comedian Butch Perry, and a surprise appearance of Jimmy Walter, Student Council President, who rode across the stage on a tricycle with a sign announcing, "It's your Student Council, too!"

Music for the production presented on October 9 and 10 was provided by the Peppermint Frenetic. Student Director was Marla Elliot.

STUDENTS HEAR SPEAKERS

Exchange students, singers, and speakers were the object of three assemblies at the first of the year. Foreign exchange student Chris Cumini explained how many aspects of Argentinian life differ from life in the United States. Chris was living with Jennifer Shopland, who traveled to Italy this summer as an exchange visitor herself.

In October, "Up With People," a singing cast of teenagers from fifteen countries, entertained students with patriotic folk-rock music about America. The songs included "Up With People," "Freedom Isn't Free," and "What Color Is God's Skin?"

1968 graduate Rod Miller presented the annual Junior Achievement assembly and explained the merits of the organization to the student body. Rod is national president of Junior Achievement, an organization which gives young people practical training in modern business methods.

TWO BABIES EXPRESS IDEAS ON ADULT LIFE

With three plays ranging from a scene in Central Park in the 1920's to a castle of medieval times, Cothurnas Club once again produced Variety Theater. Presented on November 21 and 23, five teachers and 183 students worked diligently to make the performance a success.

In Infancy, with the help of black and white contrast plus a strobe light, Ernie Brownlee and Grady Francis portrayed two babies who express their views on the adult world. Two little old ladies, Patricia Cia Matts and Marla Elliott, who enjoy poisoning men and then burying them in their cellar was the theme in Arsenic and Old Lace. A costume ball turns into a freakish nightmare in Poe's Masque of the Red Death. This play was especially highlighted by the costuming, effective use of red lights, and eerie music.

Between scenes the "Oranges Is" and the "iCyrcle of Sound" played while dancers entertained.

IMPATIENT STUDENTS WAIT FOR THE COMING HOLIDAY

Students anxiously counting the days until the Christmas holidays was the first sign that Christmas was approaching. Other signs emerged when members of the Key Club once again sold Christmas trees to make money for charity projects. Belle tryouts took place during the first part of December, and 48 girls received the present they desired by making the drill team. The Student Council also got in the spirit of the season by undertaking a drive to collect Christmas cards to send to soldiers in Vietnam. Hundreds of cards were collected. The Homemaking Department honored the faculty with a tea. Teachers were served treats prepared by the homemaking students.

After-school activities kept many students busy. Jobs were obtained to help for Christmas gifts. Time was also spent in shopping—or trying to shop—in the crowded malls of NorthPark and other shopping areas. The Christmas vacation was also time for writing that term paper due at the first of January.

MARLA REIGNS QUEEN OVER CORONATION BALL

Parents and students all turned in their seats to watch each nominee as she was escorted down the aisle by her date. Larry Petty and Diana Bradford played the song chosen by each girl on the organ, as she smiled at the audience and took her place on the stage. Excitement rose and people became tense as master of ceremonies, Reagan Albright, announced the 1969 Sweetheart. Marla Elliot, escorted by Don Pitts, was crowned Senior Sweetheart, Tina English became Junior Princess, and Vicki Sparks was named Sophomore Duchess, as Gaylan Grant sang "The Sweetheart of Bryan Adams High."

Following the crowning, the nominees formed the Grand March in the gym. Many stayed for the dance in honor of the new Sweetheart, with the Peppermint Frenetic providing the music. The Student Council and Art Department carried out the "Knights of Old" theme with Camelot type decorations in the gym and on the stage.

CARTOON CREATURES INVADE TWIRP DANCE

Hey! There's Snuffy Smith, Dennis the Menace, Lil' Abner ... and a cow??? All these and many other couples disguised as cartoon characters could be found at the 1969 Twirp Dance.

Girls asked boys and paid their way in, as required by the initials The Woman Is Required to Pay. The Peppermint Frenetic provided the music for the dance.

The purpose of the dance, sponsored by the el Conquistador staff, is to announce the names of the sophomore, junior and senior personalities. A skit written and produced by the annual staff preceded the announcement. George of the Jungle, otherwise known as Billy Flynn, had to find the missing list of personalities before Linda White could read them out.

Winners for the best costume, who receive a free El C, included Jimmy Walter as Winnie the Pooh, and Jan Ranicky, Ann Sherriff, Peggy Wolf, and Martha Armstrong dressed as Daisy the cow.

DALLAS SCHOOLS WIN SPEECH TOURNAMENT

Buses lined up outside the school and new faces seen in the halls were the first signs that the annual Bryan Adams Invitational Speech Tournament, sponsored by the National Forensic League, had begun. Over 1,000 students from 53 schools in Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana participated in the 1969 tournament on February 7 and 8.

During sixth and seventh periods, classes listened to speeches, debates, interpretations, and oratories as their teachers judged. Qualified parents of many students also were asked to judge that Friday night and Saturday morning.

Dallas schools took top honors as Kimball won the sweepstakes by collecting the greatest number of points. St. Marks, a boys' school in Dallas, was behind by only seven points. Trophies presented to the winners of the different divisions were provided by the White Rock Kiwanis.

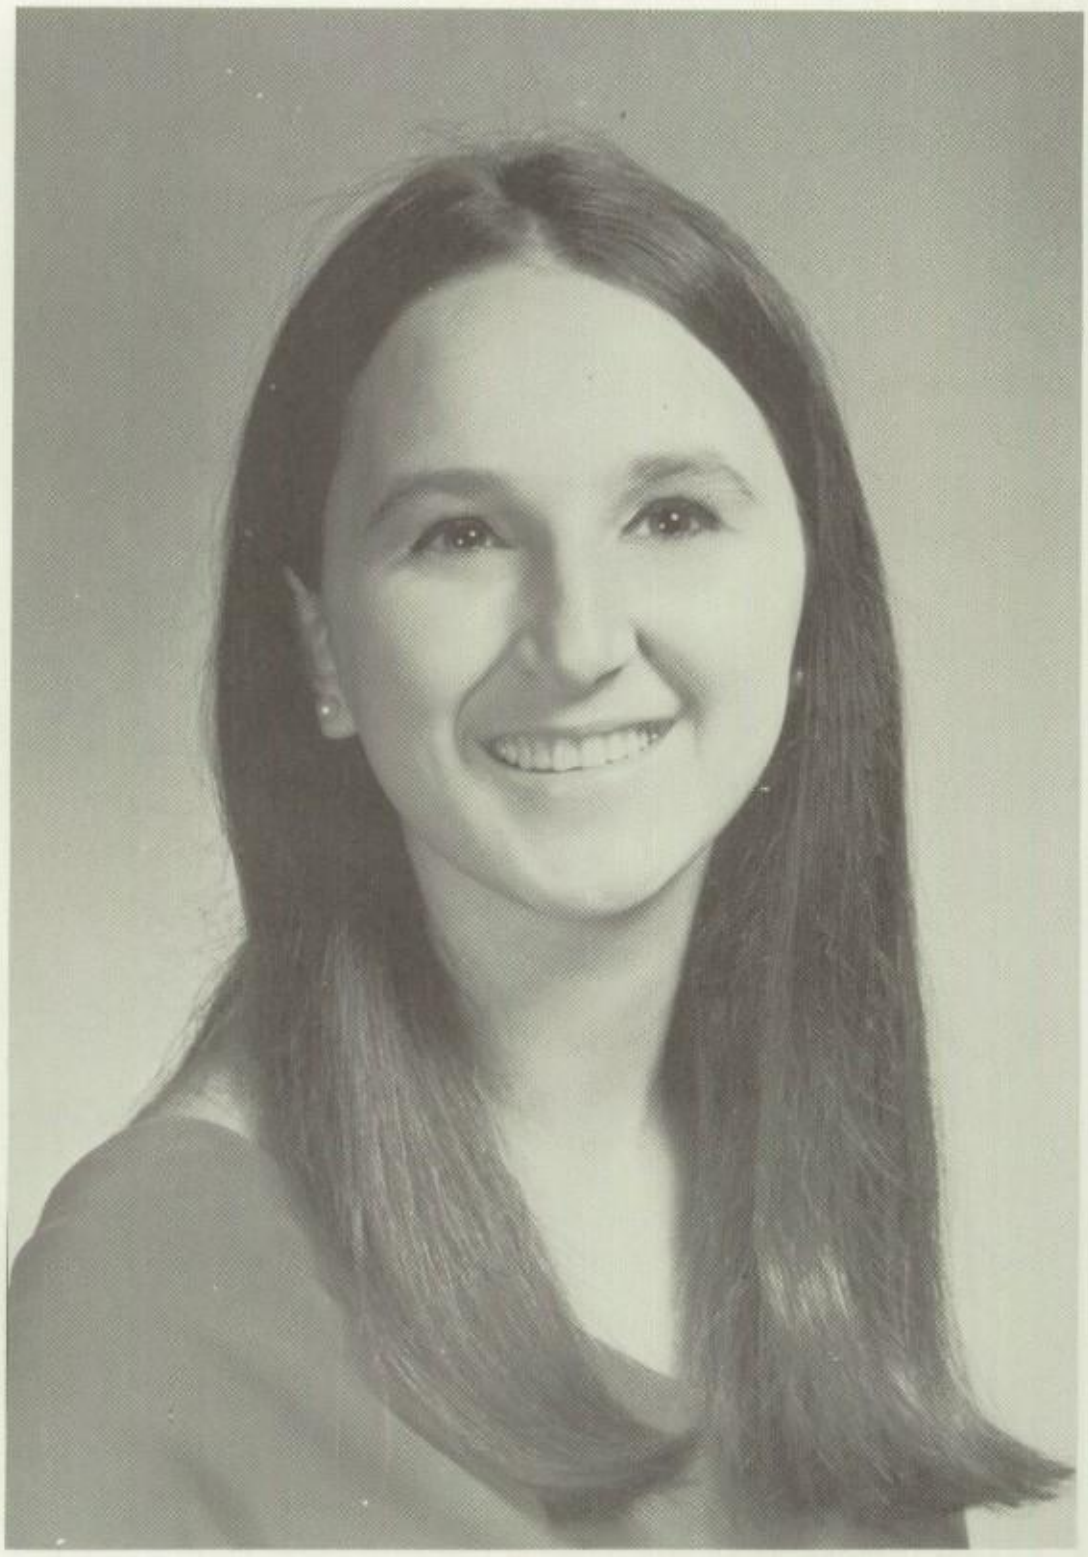
CRIS CUMINI



EXCHANGE STUDENT PARTAKES IN CLUBS

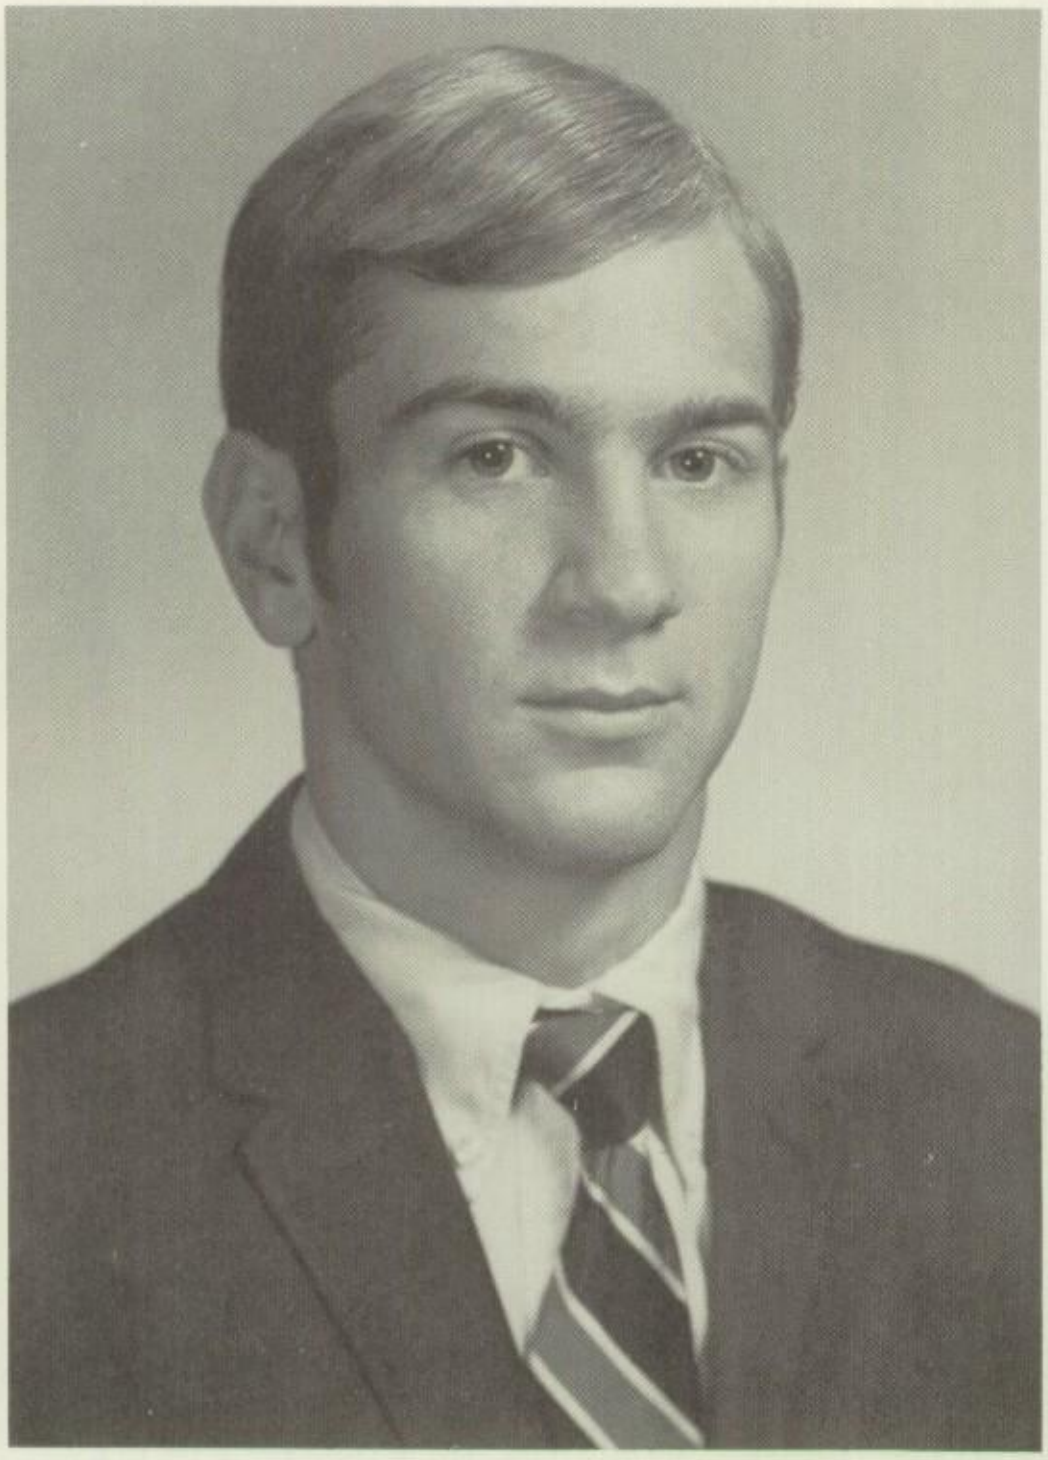
American Field Service sent Cris Cumini, from Argentina, to serve as the 1969 Foreign Exchange Student. Several organizations benefited greatly from her membership. Carrying the Belle flag was her responsibility as an honorary member of the Belles. As an usher in Variety Theater and Senior Play, Cris has met and worked with many American students. In the Spanish Club, Cris is able to speak with people in her own language, Spanish. Most of all, the AFS has enjoyed Cris with her warm smile and friendly personality.

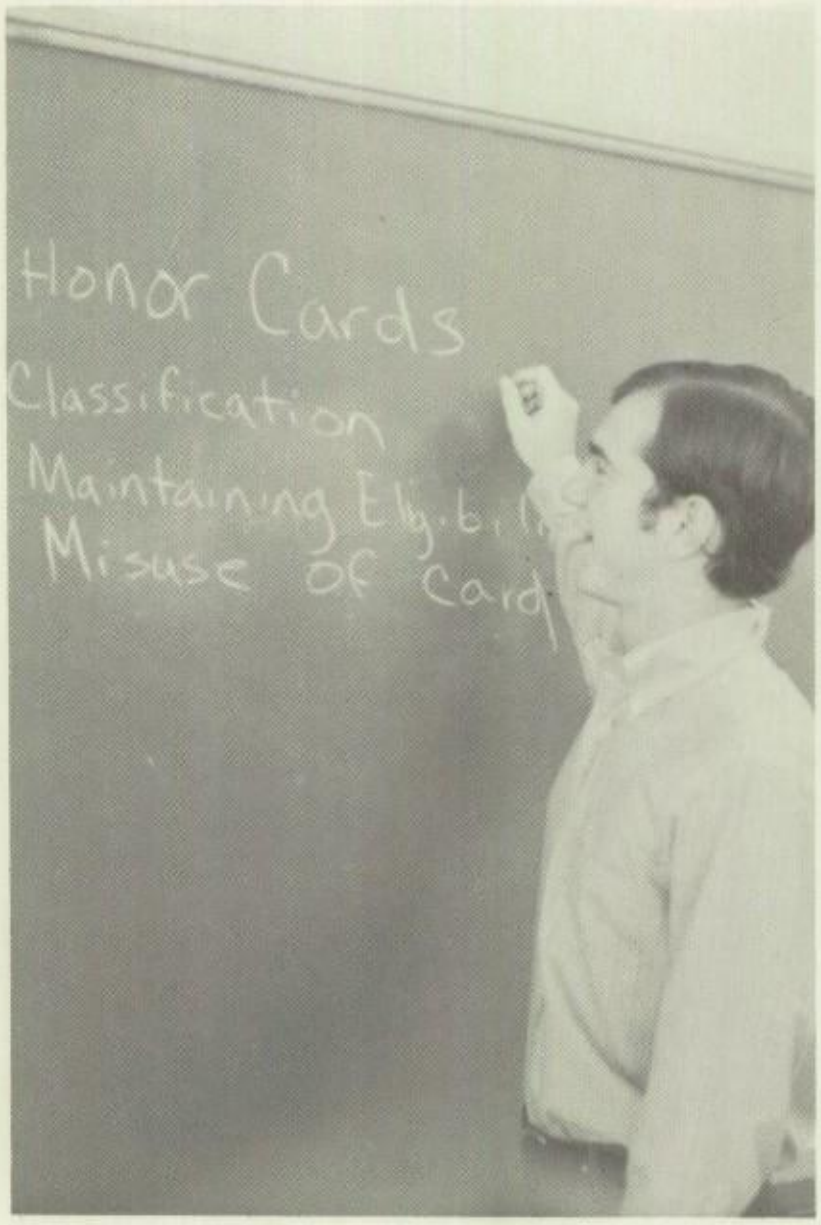
Often from among a latent group emerges a single student who seems to put forth an extra effort and to have a special "spark" of interest and ability. Such people, ever dependable, become the backbone of the projects surrounding them, and Bryan Adams is a better school because of their efforts. The "El C Salutes" attempts to recognize these people.

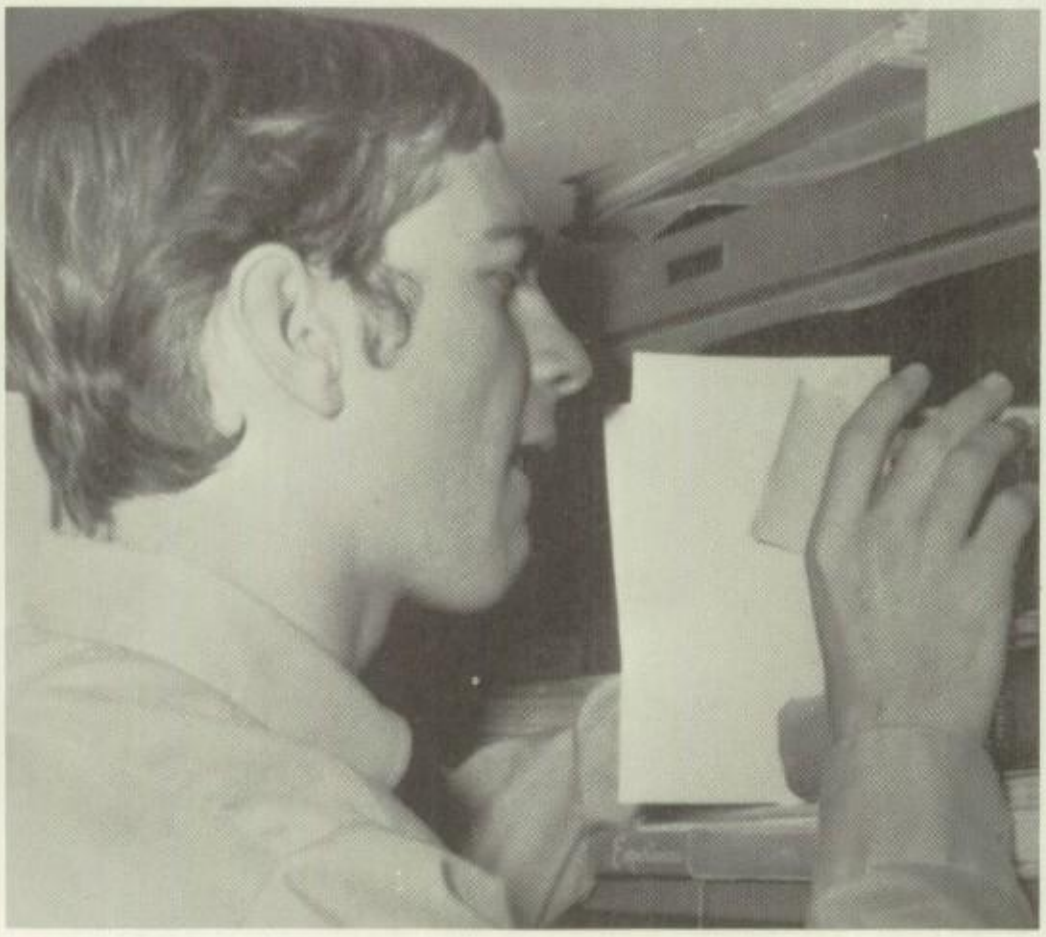
In its second year in existence, the Gold Cougar Award carries on the tradition of recognizing students who made 1969 a year of change and progress. An effort is made to choose for this award, one to six people who are so outstanding in several fields that on Scribble Day, when gold discs bearing the emblem of a Cougar head are presented, the Senior Class joins in honoring these "Gold Cougars."

KELLY McCULLAR

Kelly's enthusiasm for schoolwork, sports, and extracurricular activities make him an "all-round" Cougar at Bryan Adams. In sports, Kelly has played Junior Varsity Football and has swum for three years with the Swim Team for which he has lettered. Kelly has proved his dependability as alternate cheerleader. He faithfully attends practices and willingly fills in at assemblies, football games, and basketball games. He also edits the sports columns of the Cougar Chronicle and is a member of the 1969 Pub Staff. For his outstanding work in journalism, he was chosen Vice-President of Quill and Scroll National Honor Society. Kelly is not only active in many activities, but has also proved to be an excellent student in honor courses. He has earned the respect of the members of the National Honor Society and was chosen President for 1969. He has also won a National Merit Letter of Commendation. His Senior classmates chose him as a class personality. Bryan Adams is proud to have a student like Kelly McCullar to receive the Gold Cougar Award.

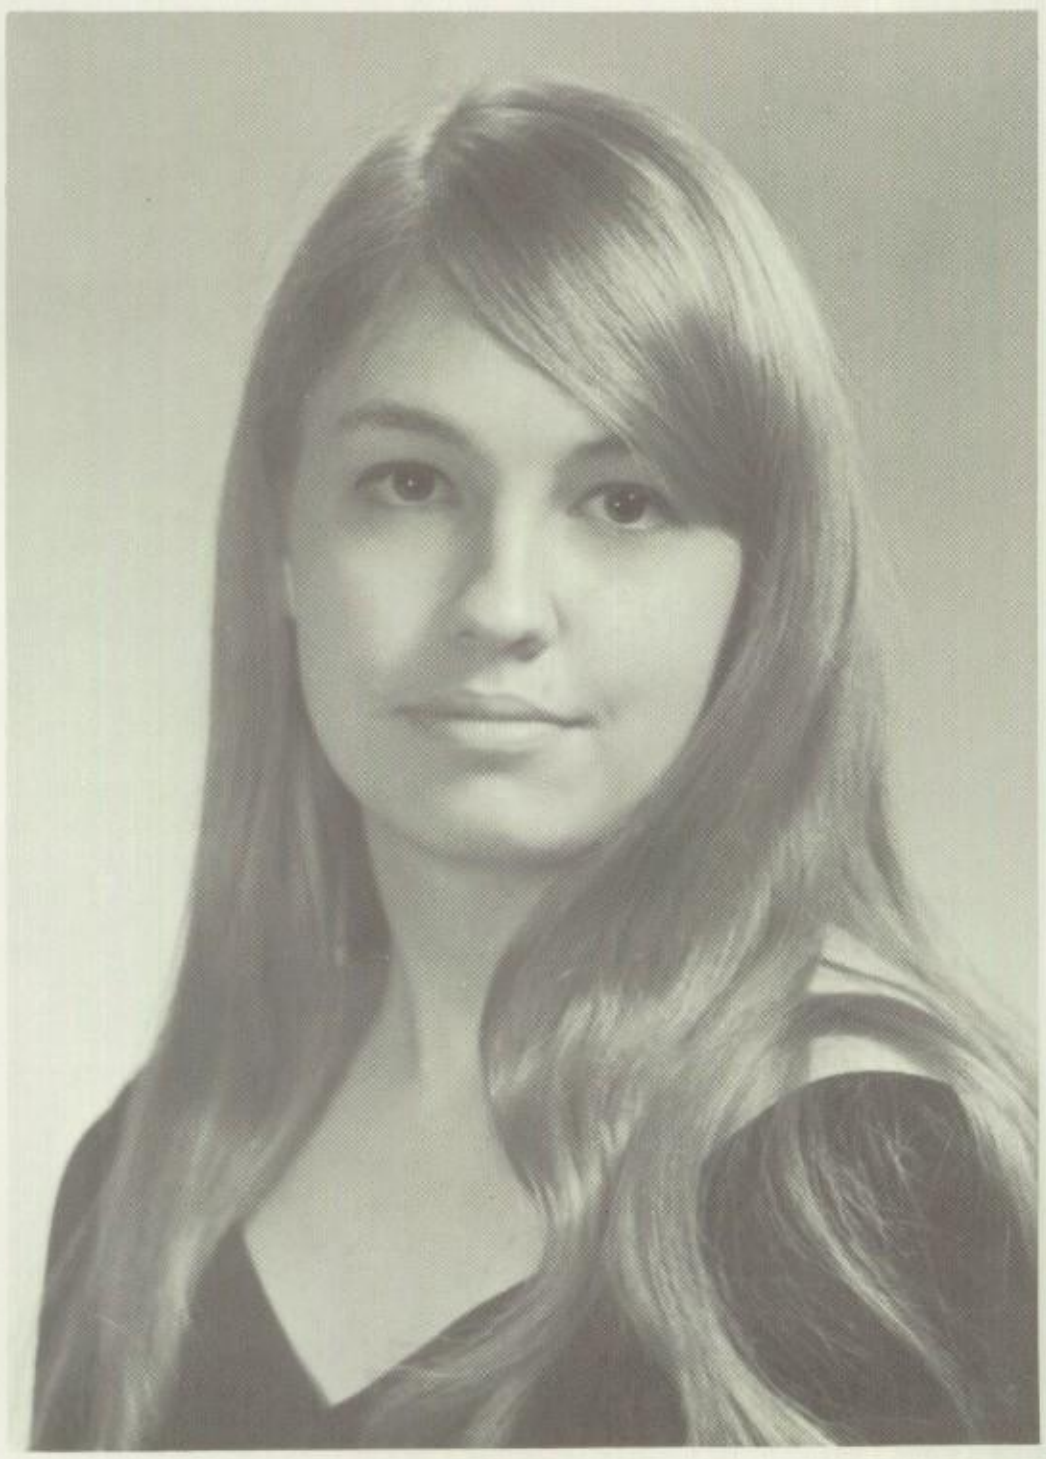






CLAUDIA BURNETT

Judges, audience, and opponents on "Science Quizdown" were amazed with the speed and accuracy of that reserved brown-eyed girl on Bryan Adams' team. Claudia Burnett has earned respect of her classmates in any area she may enter. She achieved a finalist position on the National Merit Scholarship Test. Preparation for and execution of the Annual Math Symposium fell under her duties as president of the Math Club. She is also Mu Alpha Theta president. In the Chemistry Lab, Claudia excels beyond the ordinary. As secretary of the Science Club, she spent many hours typing correspondence and planning for the Annual Science Symposium. She heads the Constitution Committee of the National Honor Society in its "major overhaul." She serves as Student Council Representative, Senior Council Alternate, Science Lab Assistant, and Math Tutor. Never has her report card shown any grade but an "A". It is no wonder that the Chamber of Commerce chose her for the "Outstanding Citizen Award" and that she is a Gold Cougar in 1969.



For three years the drama department has enjoyed the talent of Marla Elliot. She worked tirelessly to master special accents and new techniques of acting. Her credits include The Boyfriend, Senior Play, Variety Theater, and The Wizard of Oz. For her outstanding role in the Contest Play, Marla has received the honor of "Best Supporting Actress." Her co-workers expressed their appreciation of her abilities by electing her President of the Cothurnus Club. She also serves as the Secretary of the National Forensic League and performed in the NFL Talent Show. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Les Elites, Concert Choir, Literary Society, and Thespians. One of her most exciting moments as a Senior must have been when it was announced that she had been chosen 1969 Senior Class Sweetheart. For her outstanding achievements in several departments, Marla certainly deserves to be recognized as a Gold Cougar.

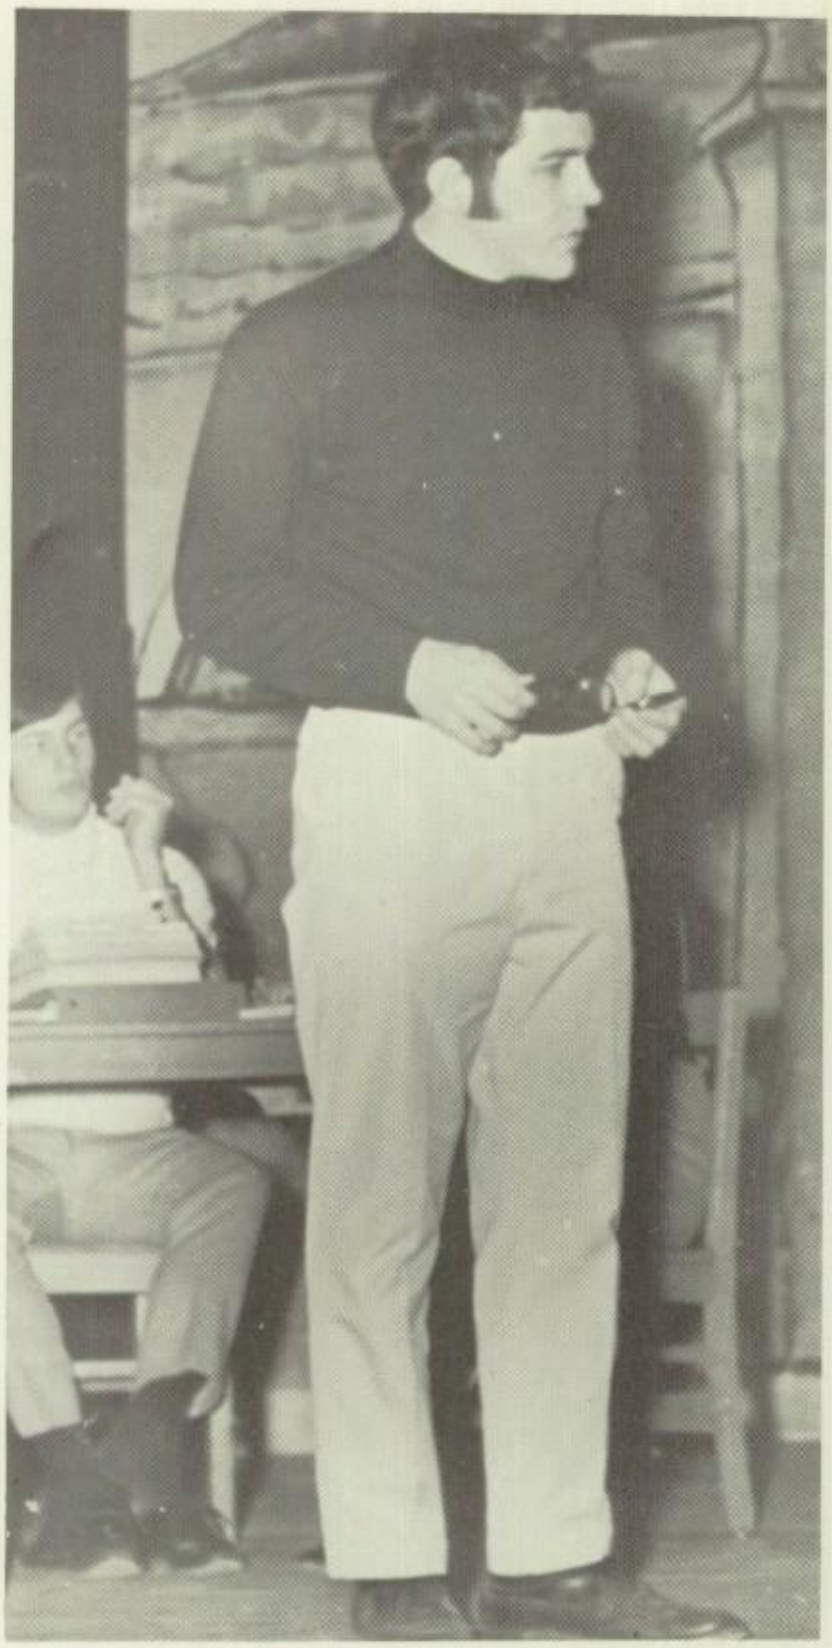
MARLA ELLIOT

LINDA WHITE

Energy X spirit² = Linda White. As 1969 cheerleader, she let the stands know exactly "Who is gonna win this game tonight." Her enthusiasm stretches to each of her many activities. As chairman of the Dance Committee of the Student Council, she has created decorations for each Student Council dance. She represents Bryan Adams as the Secretary of JCTC. As a member of the el Conquistador, Linda attacked the mammoth job of Organizations Editor. Her talent for writing clever copy is invaluable. Linda's classmates have shown their appreciation of her vivacious friendliness by choosing her as a Senior Personality, finalist for Senior Sweetheart, and as 1969 Basketball Queen. For these activities and contributions, Linda White certainly deserves to be named a 1969 Gold Cougar.

EL "C" SALUTES

DONNY PITTS: As Vice-president of the Forensic League and Secretary of the National Honor Society, Donny Pitts is versatile and talented. He has been an active member and a winner in the NFL Speech Tournaments in individual events since he was a sophomore when he brought Bryan Adams a first place trophy. Last year, Donny was a state finalist in the Interscholastic League Prose Composition. Donny's great value to the activities with which he is associated, apart from his ability to compete successfully and to undertake acting rolls with talent, is his willingness to fill a need, however unrewarding and to see the project through to a successful conclusion. No task is too small, no job too trivial for his attention. For his hard work and unusual ability, Donny Pitts has been selected as an "El C Salute."



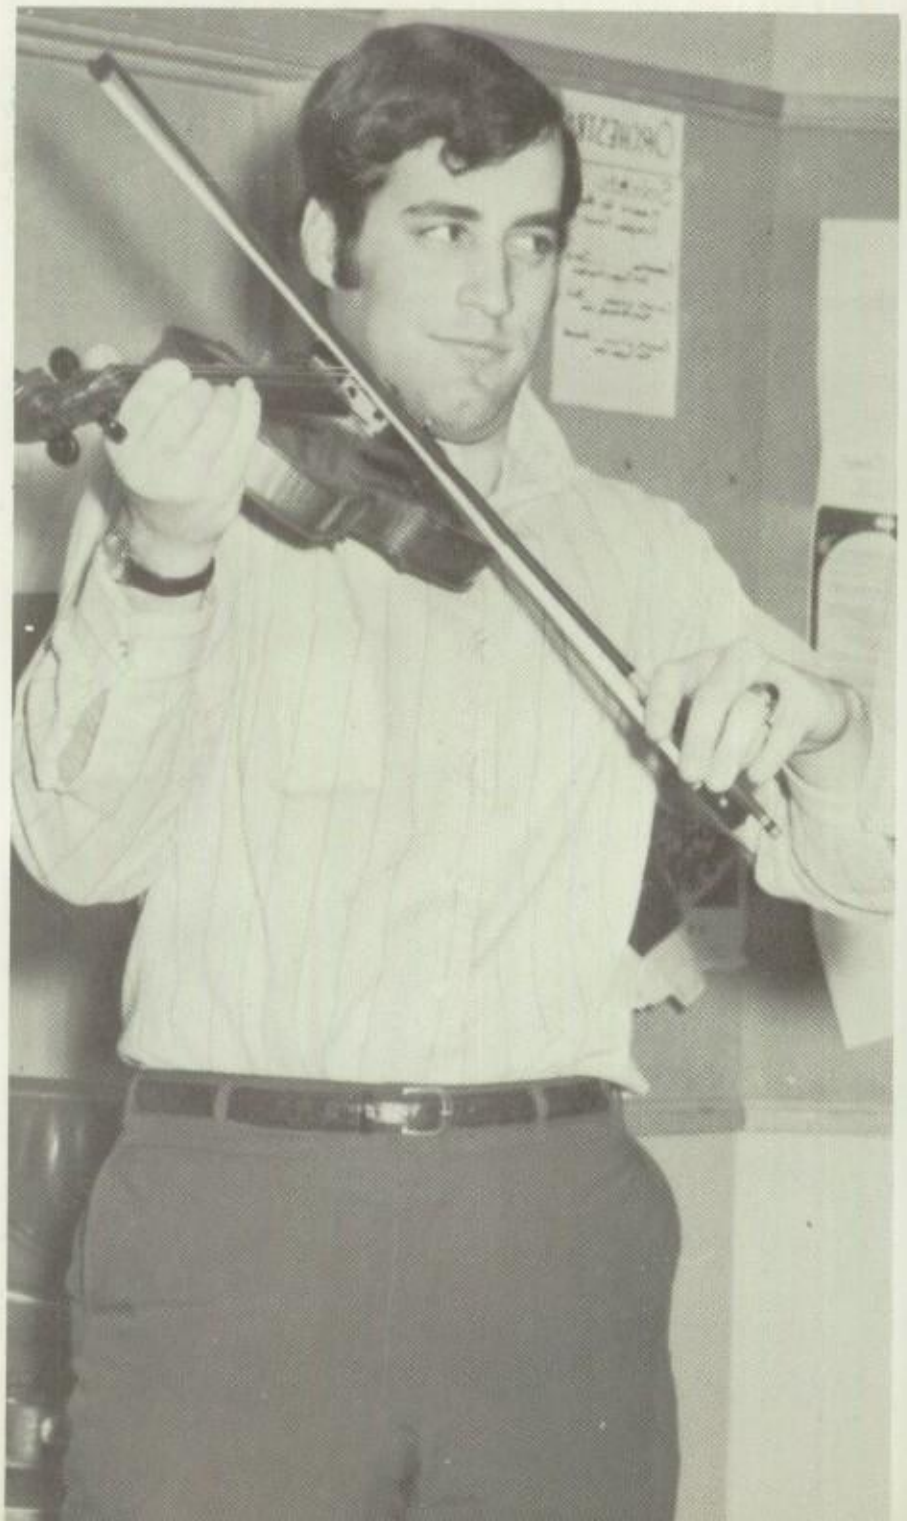
BOB COHEN: Bob Cohen is president of the National Forensic League at Bryan for the school year 1968-69. He has served loyally in this capacity, and his special forte has stimulated others to work for the betterment of all. He sets a fine example as a leader, and his sensitivity and humanitarian spirit is demonstrated in his relationship with others. In his junior year, Bob competed at the NFL District and won top honors which qualified him to attend the National Forensic League Nationals in St. Paul, Minnesota. Bob certainly deserves to be honored as an "El C Salute."

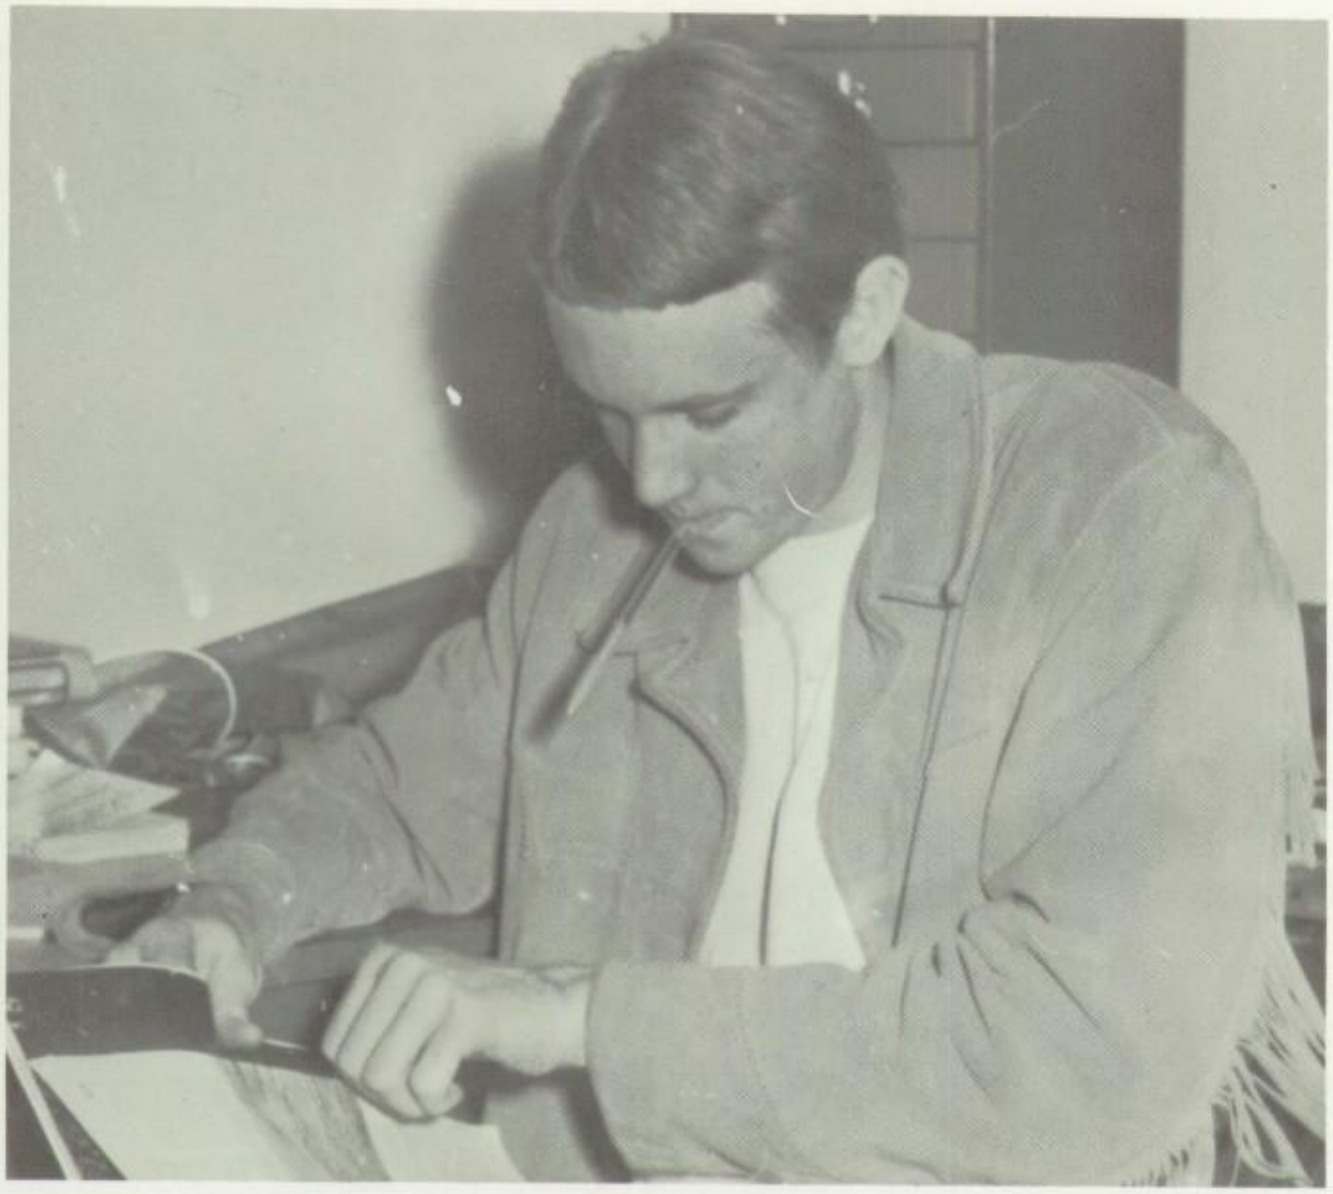
LARRY OLIVER: As an outstanding architectural student, Larry Oliver has mastered the art of creating plans for any structure. Participating in the Key Club has helped the success of the club this year. Also, Larry is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the 1969 Varsity Football Team.

DANNY DANTZLER: The many talents of Danny Dantzler enable him to serve Bryan Adams in many capacities. His talent for speaking brings him recognition in the field of speech. As Parliamentarian of the National Forensic League, Danny has the challenging task of maintaining order in the meetings filled with debaters and speech students. The 1969 Quill and Scroll members elected Danny as President because of his work on the Cougar Chronicle. The Pub staff benefits from Danny's clever sense of humor and acquaintance with many of his classmates. For his dependability, diligence, and creativity, the el Conquistador is happy to recognize Danny Dantzler.

RHAE BURDEN: The very special sets for the 1969 Senior Play and the 1969 Coronation are examples of Rhae Burden's tireless efforts. She applies herself with equal dedication as Art Club Treasurer and as Stage Crew Manager. Also, she is a member of the Honor Society. Her creativity and hard work are assets with which she has contributed to Bryan Adams.

MARTY BRAHINSKY: Music at Bryan Adams stems from much talent and practice. Marty Brahinsky contributes to this department by serving as President of the Orchestra. Band, Orchestra, All-State Symphony, and Dal-Hi Symphony all have chosen Marty as a member for three years. Participation in other activities such as Science Club and Senior Council also occupy his time. For these achievements, the el Conquistador is proud to have Marty Brahinsky as an "el C Salute."





SCOTT REIDELL: As a member of the Literary Society, Scott Reidell has created poetry, a theme, an autobiography, and taken a standardized test to win the "National Committee of Teachers of English Achievement Award." Two students in Dallas deserved this award this year. Also, Scott enjoys swimming on the Bryan Adams Swimming Team. This individual certainly deserves recognition for these his talents.

CAROLE PARKER: Music, Spanish, English, and drama all interest Carole Parker and she achieves in her interests. As head majorette, Carole performed in assemblies and at football games the intricate routines she choreographed. Orchestra, Band Council, and Dal-Hi Symphony also benefit from her talent. As treasurer of the Literary Society and Secretary of the Spanish Club, Carole leads groups and contributes to Bryan Adams. In drama, she performed in "Annie" and Variety Theater. As a Senior, Carole has been chosen as an ROTC Sponsor for Company B. For her varied contributions to Bryan Adams, the el Conquistador salutes Carole Parker.

B.A. SELECTS QUEENS

On several occasions during the year, various organizations and the student body select queens to reign over special dances. A homecoming queen is chosen by the entire student body and is presented at the homecoming dance. The Coronation is a formal affair in which forty-five finalists, chosen by the student body are presented in a courtly ceremony. From these, a Sophomore Duchess, a Junior Princess, and a Senior Sweetheart are selected. Also, the Key Club, the Football Team, and the Basketball Team chose queens for 1969.

SENIORS CLOSE DOORS TO B.A.

Soon the doors will close on another school year. "Change" at Bryan Adams has been a reality. The search for new ideas has been pursued by the administration, the faculty,. a new Inter-club Council, an effective Student Council, the yearbook staff, and the Senior Class.

Innovations in teaching devices include an emphasis on subject libraries in the classroom and the "top-loading" Metler in the Science Lab. An exciting program introduced by the new superintendent of Dallas schools, Dr. Nolan Estes, is that of stressing the role of department heads.

Each Tuesday morning found the Student Council listening to the voice of the student, as reported by the Representative. Many ideas were discarded; some were incorporated; all were considered. A new emphasis was placed on communication by administration and students.

1969 Senior Council originated clever ideas to raise money for the Senior Project. Senior leaders are pictured in the calendars sold throughout the community. Also, a student-faculty basketball game was held to earn money. Senior officers have carried out the traditional duties of planning graduation activities and yet reflected the spirit of the year at Bryan Adams—that of change.

The el Conquistador brings forth the new mosaic style in 1969 to correspond to the contemporary image of the school. With help from Taylor Publishing Company, Trinity University Institute of Journalism, and Gary's Studios, the staff hopes to have captured these changes and the essence of Bryan Adams in 1969.

SCHOOL MOURNS STUDENTS, TEACHERS

Bryan Adams has experienced a loss with the death of students Kenny Farmer and Dennis Parrish and teachers Mr. R. I. Walker and Mr. Willard Logsdon.

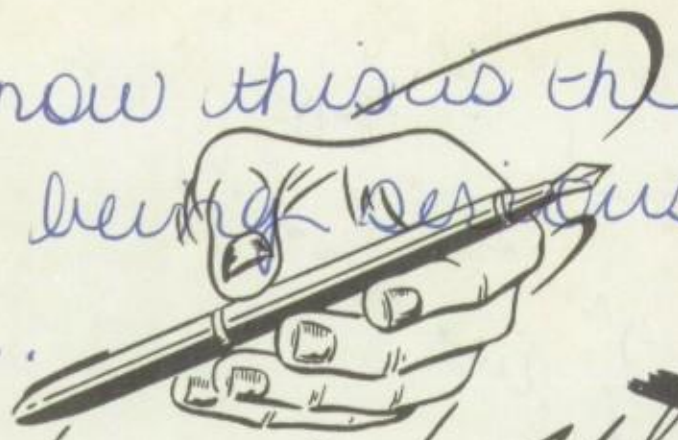
Denise -

You know this is the second time today that I'm being serious. I can hardly believe it.



Autographs

Well first of all I'd do some admitting you are really some girl to know. I know that you will be the best, most beautiful graceful, charming model ever to hit the world. I know you'll come out to be a real great success! Your really a very charming person and I have really considered it a real honor to know you. I sure wish there were more people like you around that would really make life happier for everyone around. You've been a real big help to me in business math and a great help in other ways also. You've made me see things which I know I would never have seen if it hadn't of been for you. I better stop bragging on you now because that's just not my "line". (Its usually on myself) only kidding really. It has been a real thrill to know you this year I only hope I'll know you better next year. Adios always.

Sincerely "70"

So live that when thy summons comes to join the innumerable caravan which moves to that mysterious realm where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death, go not like a quarry slave chained to a dungeon, but, sustained and soothed by a mysterious trust, approach thy grave as one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

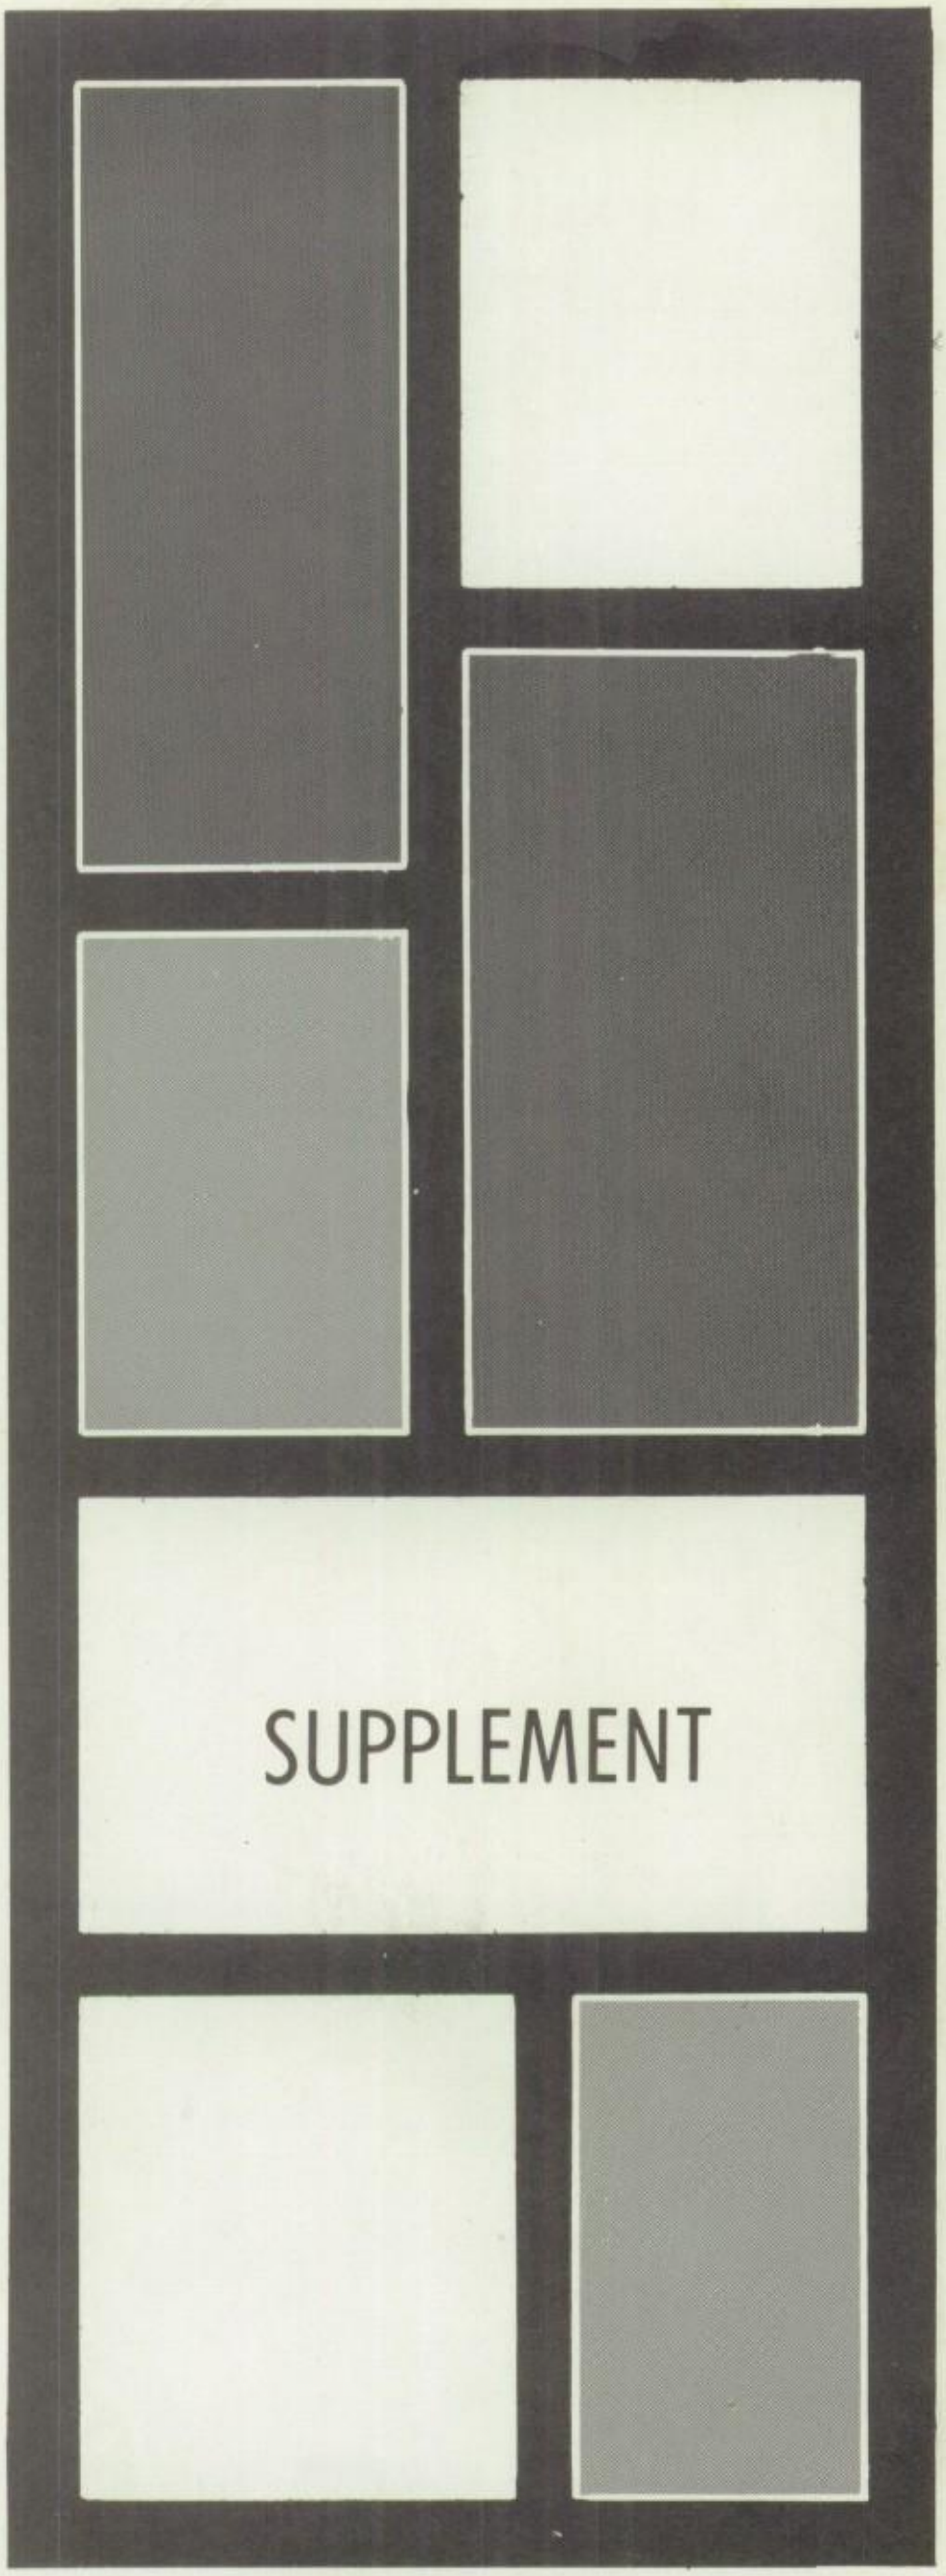
Eileen spelled E I L E E N. Well I had to put that so that you will remember how stubborn I was. Speaking of stubborn and aggravating you have to win first prize. Really I have enjoyed being your friend. I hope that we will always be friends. Friendships are hard to keep in this world of today. So when you become "Miss Model of the year" I hope that you will remember your poor little friends back here in Texas. We have really had a ball in Study Hall this year. I am glad that you and Carolyn had so much fun driving me out of my mind. I will never forget all the good times we have had together in school. I really cannot believe that we will be seniors next year. I think that even though I hate school very much, these are the best years of our life. I really cannot ↗

EL CONQUISTADOR 1969



UNIQUE AND EXCITING SENIOR PERFORMANCE

Murder charges placed on Karen Andre attracted large crowds to this year's Senior Play, The Night of January 16th. The verdict was decided by each night's audience with a return of two "not guiltys" and one "guilty." Under the direction of Mrs. Francys Walls, the play centered around the courtroom drama with flashbacks for clarification and interest.

Karen Andre played by Rita Anderson is charged with the murder of Faulkner. She is being prosecuted by the District Attorney played by Don Pitts and defended by Attorney Stevens portrayed by Steve Cone.

Ushers dressed as news reporters, newsboys with papers and legal secretaries added to the courtroom realism.

HILARIOUS EVENINGS PROVIDED BY MUSICAL

Morals of the 1890's provided the interest in the music department's presentation of the hilarious musical comedy, Where's Charly? on May 1, 2, and 3. Having invited two girls to visit with the understanding of a chaperone in the person of Charly's aunt, Charly and Jack are placed in a dilemma when the aunt fails to appear on time. Through numerous fast changes, Charly, portrayed by John Heiman, manages to be two people at once. In spite of having to fight off the advances of Mr. Chesney, Larry Johnson, and to entertain Amy, Sandi Marchbanks, Charly keeps the secret for awhile.

Under the direction of Mr. Colton Erwin, choir director; Mrs. Susan Sterrett, orchestra; and Mrs. Carol Marshall, director the various departments provided an entertaining evening.

RIGHT: The chorus begins the fast and furious pace of the Pernambuco number.
BELOW: Charly, John Heiman, reassures Amy, Sandi Marchbanks. The strange pair, John Heiman as Charly's aunt and Larry Johnson as Mr. Chesney. Caree Chapman as Kitty and Gaylan Grant as Jack provide the love interest.

FACULTY, STUDENTS VIE WITH ROUNDBALL

A week of announcements extolling the virtues of their various teams and the evils of their opponents brought the excitement to a climax when the faculty met the basketball team.

Female teachers provided the encouragement and beauty necessary to get the faculty team out on the court. Faculty standouts were Mr. Perry Berns, Mr. Joel Pittman, Mr. Charles Abbott, and Mr. Jimmy Don Hunt.

Senior basketball members John Dooley, Jimmy Walters, fought valiantly for the students' honor.

The score and final outcome is still being disputed.

BELOW RIGHT: Faculty cheerleaders Miss Lucy Anderson, Miss Anne Voss, Miss Jeane Hoffman, Miss Camille Shields, Mrs. Alice White, and Mrs. Liz Cohen gave as much encouragement as possible under the circumstances.

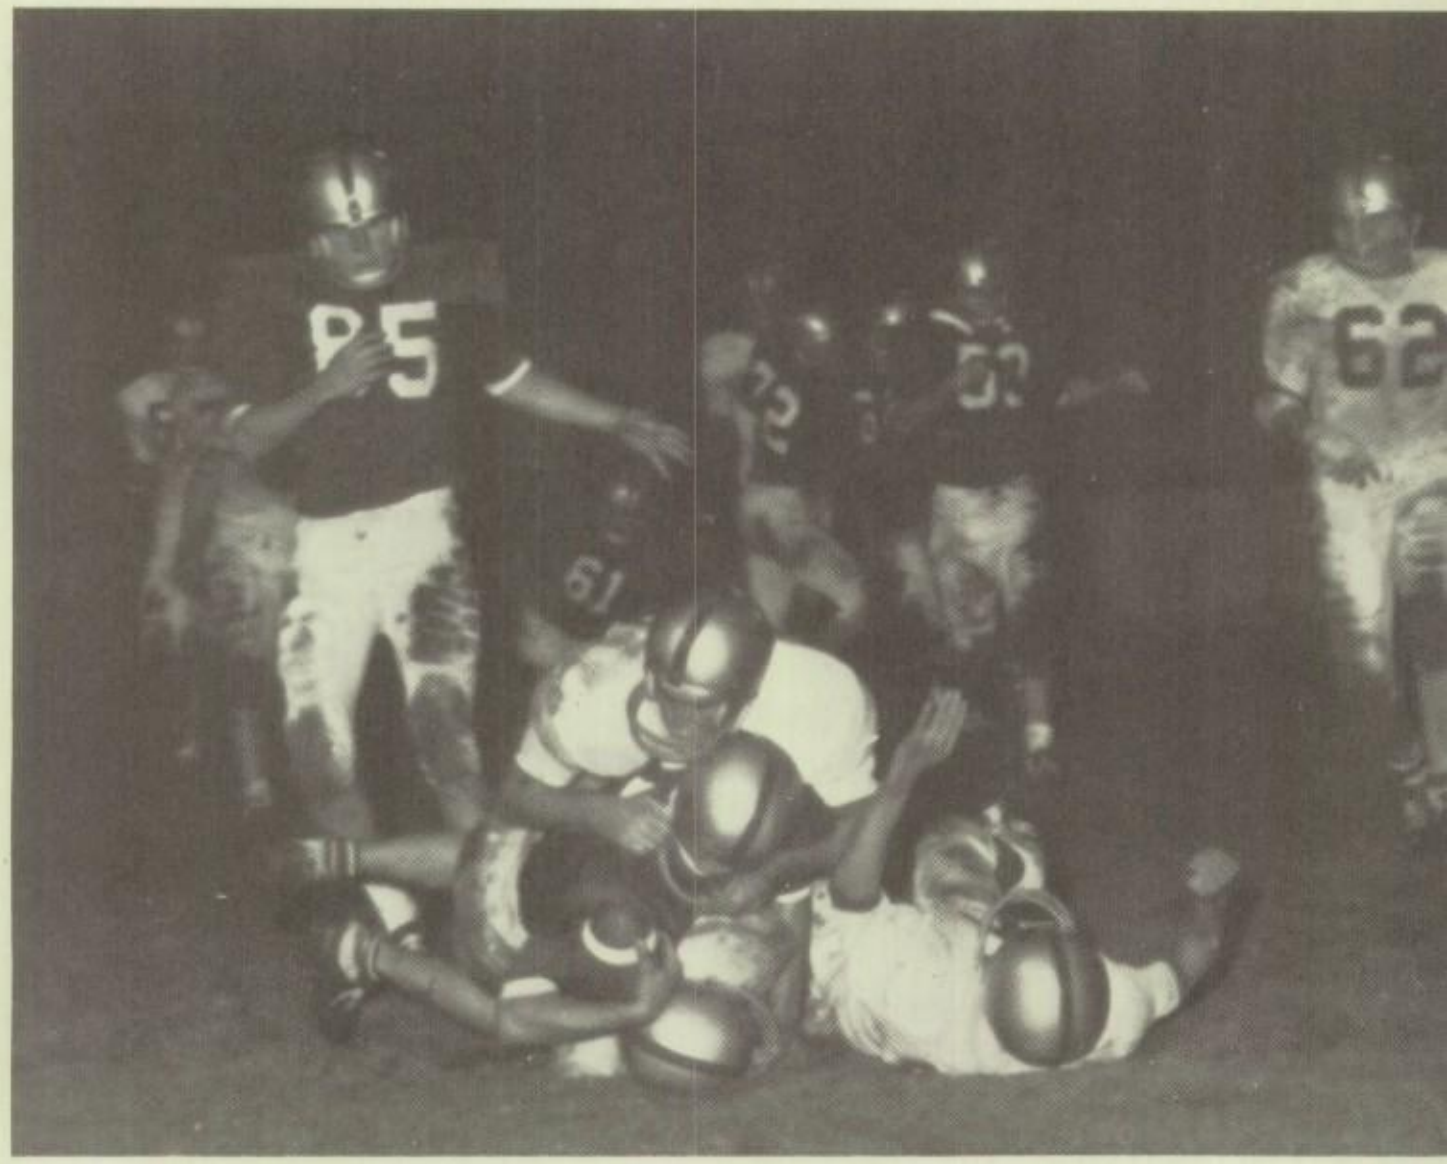
GREEN-WHITE GAME PREDICTS SEASON



Split the candidates for the 1969-1970 varsity football team into two teams, place them on Forester Field on a May 9th evening, and one has the setting for the annual Green and White game.

Quarterback Mike Jones and Ikie Conway led the Whities to victory. Greenie Bennett Wade scored for his side.

Senior cheerleaders supported the Greenies, while during half time the Senior Belles performed the traditional kick for the last time.

Whities were pushed to victory by the new 1969-1970 cheerleaders and drill team.

RIGHT: Sara Steigerwald and Gary Hill relax before another Whitie cheer.

SPRING ASSEMBLIES HONOR AND ENTERTAIN

Many of Bryan Adams' students received honors this past spring. Most of the rewards were given in the two Awards Assemblies and went to the graduating seniors. Awards came in the form of scholarships for one to four years, grants, certificates, plaques, and medals. Students earned these various honors in the fields of athletics, scholastic programs, and special abilities such as drama and speech.

The assembly on careers in medicine gave many students an idea of what they want to do with their lives. The speaker pointed out that over half of the occupations of today relate to the care of the sick. The New World Singers provided the entertainment in the form of popular music.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND DELIGHTS TOTS'N TEENS

The Cothurnus Club and Thespians delighted many children, as well as their parents and Bryan Adams students, with their presentation of Alice In Wonderland. The very popular fairy tale, directed by Mrs. Francys Walls, captivated the attention of the audience with the use of costumes in bright and vivid colors and with scenery especially designed for the production. The performances of Jena Hay as Alice, Susan Finklea as the sister, Glynda Walker as the Queen, and Randy Llywelyn as the King, added to the enchantment of the children, which makes Children's Theater so very popular.

SCRIBBLE DAY BRINGS RELEASE FROM CLASS

The sun is not even up when Mrs. White and Mrs. Ray and the annual staff arrive at the school to tug 3000 annuals into place for distribution. An announcement after lunch declares that "Today is Scribble Day!" It becomes a day of release from afternoon classes to sign autographs and to find one's picture.

Before the books are distributed, the Seniors meet in the auditorium to observe the dedication of the book to Mrs. Francys Walls, English and drama teacher; the presentation of the Gold Cougar Awards to Claudia Burnett, Don Pitts, Marla Elliott, and Kelly McCullar, and the unveiling of the theme and cover.

EXCITEMENT BUILDS ANNUAL SPRING PROM

Glamor and excitement set the atmosphere of the 1969 Senior Prom at the Sheraton-Dallas. Girls fantastically coifed and in pastel and white evening gowns were escorted by boys in glistening tuxedos of deep rich colors.

Amid the music of the Big Beats were delighted laughter and voices. The climax of the evening came at the sound of the Grand March led by student leaders. Punch-serving Mrs. Cohen and other teachers and parents acted as chaperones. Surprise attendant was Officer Koslosky.

ACTIVITIES BRING FUN TO AWAITING SENIORS

"Senioritis" is the disease which lasts from fall until it reaches its peak in May. Finally the days of dreams become reality. Senior activities are underway.

From ordering caps and gowns and invitations to dancing at the prom, Seniors rate as special citizens.

A breakfast at the Dallas Athletic Country Club is devoted primarily to annual signing. Six Flags Amusement Park is invaded for the Senior picnic.

RIGHT: They all look alike, but one of those caps and gowns is supposed to fit me.
BELOW: The terrace by the swimming pool offers a chance to get those last few autographs before Seniors go their separate ways.

ASSEMBLY PORTRAYS MANY SENIOR TALENTS

Dressed up in their very best, approximately 1000 Seniors filled the Bryan Adams' auditorium to attend the traditional Senior Assembly. With mixed emotions, the Class of '69 was entertained and amused by the talents of their fellow classmates.

Dr. R. B. Harris named Claudia Burnett as Valedictorian and Peggy Coldwell as Salutatorian after the entertainment. Following her introduction as Senior Mother, Mrs. J. H. Holler was presented with a bouquet of roses.

Teary-eyed Seniors sang the Alma Mater for the last time as the 1969 Senior Assembly came to an end. The Senior Cougars' last day at Big Green had become another memory of their Senior year at Bryan Adams.

GRADUATING SENIORS BID A FINAL FAREWELL

"Get those lines straight or you will be seated wrong!" Such sounds fill the air at the preparation for the 1969 graduation ceremony. Close to 1,000 students gathered May 30 to become part of the mass hysteria at Memorial Auditorium in downtown Dallas. Various teachers instruct students to "Please find John Doe!," to stop chewing gum, to line up correctly, and to remove the confetti from the pockets.

Finally, the ceremony began. Tassels could be seen being straightened again and again. After much confusion as to which row goes where the masses of gray finally find their places. The audience above begins to look to find their favorite graduate. Pride begins to fill faces.

During the ceremony, Mr. G. H. Hollingsworth of the school board presented diplomas. At the last few words of the Alma Mater, the Senior Class of 1969 bade their farewell to Bryan Adams High School, but their spirit remains.
